In Memory of Michael 'Spick' Stepien

‘For each and every organisation it is important to have a historical record because those who follow need to have an understanding of from whence they came.

Those who do not have knowledge or observe history may well make the mistakes of the past.

It is important to maintain a history because from that people will learn and it is part of the culture of the community.

The younger you are the less likely you are to be interested in history but as you get older your appreciation for your origins and history increases.

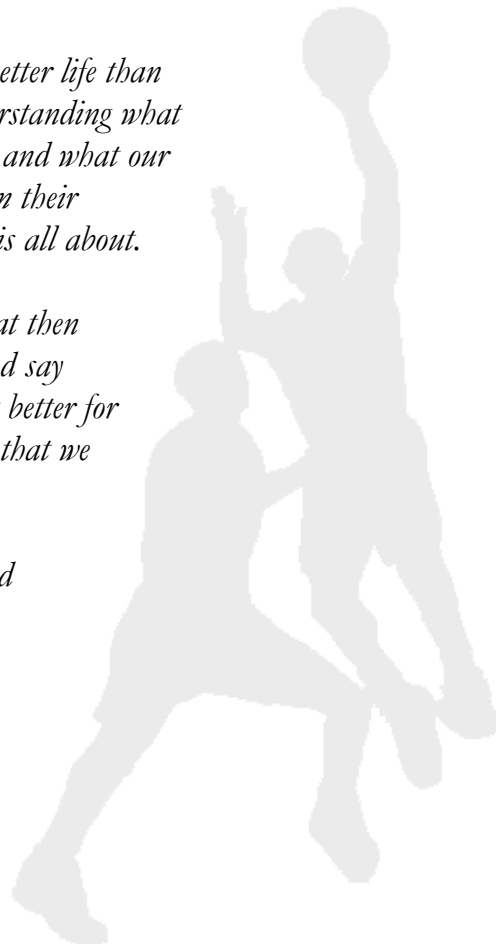

Do you have any fond memories of your parents and grandparents? Do you have an understanding or appreciation of what they did and in cases the sacrifices they made so that we might be better?

Each generation is expected to have a better life than the ones before. So in that context understanding what our grand parents did for their children and what our parents did for us to help us benefit from their experience I think that is what history is all about.

When you have an understanding of that then you can have an appreciation of that and say ‘these are the things they did to make it better for us kids or for their kids and what is it that we can do to make it better for our kids.’

The lessons are learnt along the way and hopefully we progress and improve.”

Introduction

The History of the History Book

In December 1999, Michael Stepien, then Vice President of Southern Basketball Association, visited me at my home in the Dandenongs. We sat in the garden and had a yarn about the 'good old days' of Sandringham basketball, as we often did, and realised it was 25 years ago when the club started.

I said to Michael 'it would a good idea to celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the club in a book.' Michael thought it was a great idea and in his typical way of doing things, got out his mobile phone and immediately called an executive member of the Association and told him in an 'assertive way' about the book idea.

Well, very quickly the idea took hold – and in a short time I presented a proposal to a sub committee in early 2000 at the King Club to oversee the project of the '25th Anniversary Book'. Soon after, this proposal was officially accepted by the executive committee.

I was commissioned to go ahead with the project. My paid responsibilities were to oversee the project, edit the book and provide a marketing plan to sell the book to recoup the expenses of publishing it. The Association would pay for the design, artwork, layout, scanning and printing of 1000 books.

During 2001, a draft copy of the edited book (text only) was provided to the committee and it was ready to go to the printer for the final stages of publishing it. These stages included scanning, design, layout, artwork and printing of the book.

Unfortunately the executive committee at that time was unable to fund the project and the book was not published.

In December of 2007 I was cleaning out my cupboards (a rare occurrence) and discovered all the research material I had collated, stored away in bags. In a moment of (weakness?) I thought it would be a shame if this history of the club were to be buried away and forgotten.

So at the start of 2008 I decided to create a copy of the remaining material in an electronic format and donate the end result to the current Executive Committee to do whatever they deemed appropriate.

Having the appropriate computer hardware and software available (as well as the assistance of Sue James in design, image editing and layout) I revisited the original copy and research material in order to produce this electronic version.

My other motivation to complete this endeavour occurred more recently. Michael 'Spick' Stepien passed away in July 2008, and I thought it would be a fitting tribute to Michael (a Life Member) for his thirty years' involvement and dedication to the club.

The title of this copy has been changed to 'Sandringham Sabres - The First Twenty-Five Years: 1974-1999' as the original title of 'Sandringham Sabres - 25th Anniversary' is no longer relevant.

About this Copy

After an 8 year gap, I have used my existing research to complete this copy. Photos vary in quality and the dates they were taken are generally accurate. Some photos did not have dates and I have placed them in the decade where I believed they belong. Although they may not be under the exact year they were taken.

When this project began in 2000 we advertised extensively to all current and ex members to provide any information they could of the twenty-five year period. We had a modest response which resulted in some years not being as well represented as others.

The sources of information were extracted and edited from interviews, club newsletters, reports, photos, pennants, local newspapers, articles, game result sheets, diary, flyers, and badges.

The original version of the book was tightly edited because of the cost of producing a hard copy.

However, in this electronic format I decided to include more information such as extra interviews, game results and more of my own personal records because I am not restricted in terms of space requirements. The end result is that this copy will also hopefully act as a historical document for the Southern Basketball Association.

Significant Events

The significant events are my interpretation based on the research available. These are first time events. Individual achievements are not listed here. They can be found in the relevant year in which they occurred.

Beginnings

The information in this section resulted from the many discussions I had with Basil Cervi, from my own memories and from other research material.

Reflections

The reflections were a series of interviews, which I conducted in 2000 with various members and ex members of the Southern Basketball Association.

I wanted these reflections to be included because the 'Sandringham Basketball Story' is really about the 'experiences and relationships' of people, not just the results of games.

Snippets

All the information in Snippets is from verifiable sources. For clarity of reading I have added, where necessary, sub headings for various snippet items.

Game Results

Many extra game results were included, both significant and not so significant, over the 25-year period. Hopefully this will help jog the memories of those who played in these games, about their fellow teammates and their shared experiences.

Memorial Hall

The Memorial Hall was the 'heart and soul' of our Basketball Club for over four years in the 1970s and deserves a section of its own.

Representative Team Names

The 1970s representative teams are listed as the 'Zebras.' The representative teams from 1980-1999 are listed as the 'Sabres.'

Significant Teams

Two teams that made a significant impact for our Association were the U/14B boys' representative team in 1976 and our VBA Men's First Division team in 1989. Each team has its own section. There were other significant teams in the Association's history but unfortunately I had little or no information about them.

Looking Forward

This section is about looking forward from 2000 onwards.

No doubt, with a project of this size errors may have occurred, but hopefully there were not too many. However please don't send me any information or corrections because, after this electronic copy is completed, I intend to get back to my original project which is a basketball screenplay, but that is another story!

I hope you find this is a good read.

Regards

Chris Bennett

Beginnings

In 1968 the first basketball teams from Sandringham to play in an organized competition came from the Sacred Heart U/18 football club.

The football team was losing games by more than ten goals and it was decided that the players needed to improve their fitness. So the football club entered two basketball teams to play in the YCW summer competition, held at Montague Hall in South Melbourne.

Father Ernie Smith, who had played football and basketball (at St Brigid's in North Fitzroy), joined Sacred Heart Parish in 1969 and wanted coaches and players for the basketball teams.

Molly Cervi who was a member of the parish asked her husband, Basil, to help out. So at the ripe old age of 35, Basil restarted his basketball career and helped Father Ernie Smith train the teams at the Sandringham Youth Club, located behind the Sandringham Football Club in Jetty Road.

Basil recalls the court had only one ring and also remembers Father Ernie Smith scoring more than 30 points to help the side win its first game in twenty attempts.

In 1971 the YCW basketball teams transferred to the Brighton YMCA competition. In 1972 Father Ernie Smith left the parish and Basil took over the teams. They won two premierships and were runners up twice against Gardenvale YCW (who had Chris, Paul and Patrick Meehan).

In 1973 Basil Cervi, Chris Bennett and Brian Files, co-founders of the Southern Basketball Association, met for the first time at the Albert Park basketball stadium. Basil and Brian were then involved with the Southern Districts Spartans. Chris had recently joined the Spartans when his club, Northroys, merged with Southern Districts.

Basil Cervi was 19 years old when he joined Northroys in 1953. They trained at the St. Brigid's church hall located at the corner of Nicholson Street and Alexander Parade, North Fitzroy. He started playing in the B grade competition at CYMS.

In those days Basil worked as a 'captain of the food' in the main Chandelier room of the Menzies Hotel (now the BHP building), located on the corner of William and Bourke Street, Melbourne.

In 1954 Basil played in his first grand final – or half a grand final, as Basil recalls. The game was on at 8.00pm and he had to work at the Menzies Hotel and cater to a party of 25 people. He served the main course, then told the other waiters to serve the sweets and he would be back for the coffee.

Basil served the first and main course, then at 8.00pm dashed out of the Menzies still wearing his uniform (black tie, vest, gold stripes). He jumped into his car, hurried to St Brigid's, got there at half time and changed in three minutes flat. He played as a point guard in the Grand Final and his team lost by 6 points.

Five years later, in 1959, Basil played in his first premierships when two of the Northroy teams combined and won the first CYMS A grade competition.

Northroys folded in 1959 and Basil did not play again for several years.

Basil joined Southern Districts in 1971 and coached the U/12 team with Brian Files. He left in 1975 when his son, Paul, transferred to the Sandringham Basketball Club.

Chris Bennett started playing basketball in 1969 at the age of 17. A friend asked him to play in a senior outdoor competition at St. John's Roman Catholic Primary School in Alexander Parade, North Fitzroy. After the game he was asked to join the newly re-formed Northroys.

In 1970 he coached his first basketball team, Orange. It was an U/12 boy's team. They won a lightning premierships competition held at the Reed Street Hall in North Fitzroy.

He then coached one of the first re-formed Northroy junior representative teams, U/12, which played in the B grade competition at Coburg Basketball Stadium. The team started playing a few weeks into the season and ended up semi finalists. Next season, the team played U/12A grade and ended up grand finalist.

Most of that team, which Chris coached, went on to play in the U/14A Victorian Junior Championships competition at Albert Park stadium.

Sandringham &
Brighton Advertiser,
28 August 1974

Chris played with the senior team and trained at St Brigid's in North Fitzroy. He also played in: a competition at Reed Street Hall in North Fitzroy; Fawkner C grade competition for two seasons; A grade CYMS at Albert Park stadium; and third division Victorian Championships. He also won a best and fairest award and was captain of the senior team.

Besides coaching and playing, Chris also helped with junior clinics and was the editor of The Epitaph, the club newsletter.

Brian Files got involved in basketball in the early seventies. He played in a local senior basketball side at Brighton Y with Basil Cervi until the 1974 summer competition.

Brian helped out in the first few weeks at the Memorial Hall until he moved to Keilor because of work commitments.

In July 1974 Basil held a meeting at his place to discuss the possibility of forming the Sandringham Basketball Club. In attendance were Chris Bennett, Brian Files, Pat Carey, Bob Hehir, Joe Cervi; all ex or current Southern Districts members at that time.

At the end of the meeting it was decided that Basil Cervi, Chris Bennett and Brian Files would go ahead to form the Sandringham Basketball Club.

In August 1974 a second meeting was held at Basil's home with Chris and Brian attending. $150 was put in to start the new club. The money was held in an account for six months.

It was also decided to run junior clinics in the area and Basil organised the publicity. An article was published in the local paper, The Advertiser, to promote a junior clinic for U/16 juniors. Two more articles were published soon after.

As a result of the publicity, four junior basketball clinics were run between August and September. They were held at the Sandringham Youth Club (also known as the roller skating club at the time) on three Saturday mornings and one Sunday morning between 10.00am and 12 noon.

The Sandringham Youth Club was chosen because Basil used to train there on Thursday nights with a men's team and felt it would be a good venue to run the clinics. There was only one ring up at the time, but Basil arranged to get another ring put up for the princely sum of a dozen bottles of beer.

The junior clinics averaged twenty to thirty juniors, which included all the Cervi clan (Joe, Paul, Alfred, Robert, David, Linda, Sandra) and the Carey clan (Peter, Matthew, Shaun and Craig).

Sandringham & Brighton Advertiser, 16 September 1974

The clinics were run by Brian Files, Basil Cervi, Graham Rapke and Chris Bennett.

Many of the juniors who attended the clinics eventually joined the newly formed Sandringham Basketball Club and played in the local competition. Some of the juniors played for the representative teams later on.

While the clinics were run, Basil organised the first junior competition to be played at the Sandringham Youth Club. Basil got his sons, nephews and all their friends to form U/18 teams, which included Highett, Sandy Tech 1, Sandy Tech 2, and Hampton.

The U/18 boys' teams were due to play on a Saturday morning at 10.00am. Basil arrived at the Youth Club at 9.30am to find new locks on the door and to discover the hall was no longer available.

Basil quickly organised the teams to play on the outside asphalt court at Highett High School.

It was a hot and windy day and Paul Cervi stayed at the Youth Club to tell the other teams what had happened and where to go. He then followed the last team on his bicycle to Highett High School; two or three weeks later the U/18 competition was transferred to the Memorial Hall in Waltham Street Sandringham. The teams played on Saturday mornings for one or two games and then moved to Monday night.

While all this was happening, the search for a permanent hall began. Basil was talking to his neighbours about the problems he was having in finding a suitable hall for basketball. They suggested he see Sandringham councillor Paul White.

Paul White suggested five possible locations and Basil went ahead to check them out. The first one was the Sandringham Beach Community Centre located in Sims Street. The Centre was not practical because of the parking facilities and because it was too close to Beach Road, which may have made it dangerous for children.

The next place to check out was the Beaumaris Community Centre but it was like a glasshouse, with windows all round the building; impractical for playing basketball.

Then the Girl Guides Hall located in Hampton Street was looked at but the ceiling was too low. The Hampton Community centre was checked but it too was unsuitable.

Finally, Basil went to the Memorial Hall in Waltham Street Sandringham to see if it would be suitable for basketball. It was in a bad state, but he saw the potential because the surrounding area was ideal and the height was right for playing basketball.

However plaster was coming off the walls and there were eight 3-inch (75mm) holes drilled into the rotten floorboards for drainage, because water would gush through the rotted spouting and flashing when it rained. There was also a stage at one end with a catwalk extending out towards the centre of the hall.

Basil then called Chris Bennett to come up and have a look at the hall. Chris came up during a weeknight. He walked down the corridor and opened the door to see the hall.

He saw a karate class in action and his first impression was that it was too small for playing basketball. The hall was less than half the size of a normal basketball court. However Basil convinced Chris it was worth a go.

Basil then went back to Councillor Paul White and said he wanted the Memorial Hall. Paul arranged the hall to be used for basketball and asked Basil how much he would need to fix it.

Coach Brian Files in charge of a junior coaching clinic.

Sandringham & Brighton Advertiser, 18 September 1974

Basil said one thousand dollars. One week later a grant of one thousand dollars was made available.

The money was spent on lights, roof repairs, basketball rings, backboards, floor sealer with applicator, hire for a sander, and guards for the windows, lights and gas heater. The total cost was $863.25. The remainder had to go back to the council. Basil recalls that, had he known that, he would have spent all the money for the basketball club.

Once the money was received, work began on getting the hall ready for basketball. Basil got Luigi Baldessin to fit six fluorescent lights and an electrician wired the lights.

Basil made the guards for the windows and a plumber fixed the leaking roof. Luigi and Basil dismantled the catwalk and used the boards to fix up the stage. Michael Beatrice and Basil made the electronic components for the scoreboard.

Basil organised working bees (of about 16 people) to help punch the nails into the floor and sand and varnish the floor twice with Estapol. The floor area was marked out by Peter Carey and both keys and side lanes were painted blue.

On 21st of September 1974, the first basketball games were played at the Memorial Hall.

The Memorial Hall

The Memorial Hall in Waltham Street, Sandringham, was the home base for the Sandringham Basketball Club between 1974 and 1979. Competitions commenced on 21st September 1974. In early 1979 the hall was demolished after the club moved to the one-court Family Leisure Centre in Tulip Street, Sandringham. A supermarket now stands on the site where the Memorial Hall used to be located.

The Memorial Hall had an interesting history behind it. In 1919, just after the First World War, the Returned Service Leagues and others decided to build a public hall to commemorate Australian servicemen.

A large block of land opposite the Post Office was purchased for 800 pounds. In 1925 a tender for the building of the hall was estimated at 4,600 pounds.

It was built in 1925 and officially opened on the 14th of November by the Governor General, Lord Stonehaven. 1300 school children in the district formed an avenue of honour for the Governor General.

Many clubs and associations had their annual balls at the Memorial Hall. During the depression era, community singing on Monday nights was a regular feature. An Epidiascope or 'Magic Lantern' was used to project the words of the songs onto a screen and a piano was used on the stage. Admittance was 3 pennies for adults and children were allowed in for free.

The first six photographs below were taken in 1976 inside the Memorial Hall. The players were part of the then U/14 representative team that Chris Bennett coached. The photos were originally slides and were used as teaching aids to demonstrate various basketball fundamentals.

The 1970s

“In the seventies what stood out was the genuine willingness of the players to play the game without knowing what they were doing. It was a fledging sport. The atmosphere was good fun, everybody friendly, having a bit of fun.”

Bill Evans

“First impression of the Memorial Hall? It was scary, sensational when you have to put your feet on the wall to pass the ball. It was old. Peeling paint off the walls, lines everywhere. It was so small we had to play four a side. It was great. I got to touch the ball. It was small, quick, fast and from that hall you made friends for life.”

Reflections - 1970s

Bill Evans

I joined in 1977. I used to work in the Post Office across the road from the Memorial Hall and I would see blokes go inside. Basil Cervi was one of them, and so I wandered over. I never had any background in basketball and formed a team called the Stones, which is still playing under that name today. The rules were a bit strange at first.

The Memorial Hall suited most teams because you only needed to have four players. You only needed three players to start a game. With this rule a lot of teams blossomed because all you needed for a full squad was five players. A lot of teams only had this quota.

Other people used the Memorial Hall besides us. It was used for dancing. Senior men's competitions ran on Sunday and Monday nights. And a women's competition on Wednesday night.

I remember the Carey family. Mrs. Carey, Peter, Shaun, Matthew and Craig who were nice people. Mrs. Carey talked me into becoming a referee and Paul Larkins talked me out of becoming a referee.

I went to the 1977 Annual General Meeting and bumped into one of my neighbours, Terry Walsh. At the meeting they called for people to go on the committee and I committed myself for a few years there until we went to the new stadium in 1979.

I became grade secretary of the B grade men's competition. I coached one of the women's teams, which included Pauline Harmshaw. And I gleaned information from Chris Bennett because I didn't have a clue on what I was doing. I got practice drills from Chris. That was really the essence of the game, standard practice. The girls took to the training more than the boys.

I remember one night at the committee, Val's daughter, Terry Walsh, Basil Cervi and myself were there, waiting for Chris Bennett to turn up and explain the dribbling aids he had got. He didn't turn up. And lo and behold, the meeting was over in twenty minutes. They normally went from 7.30-10.00pm.

During committee meetings, the domestic stuff was usually over in a blink of an eye and then it was representative stuff. The whole club was based on putting its name on the map, becoming an entity, Sandringham being up there. I felt the roots of the club was domestic, too much emphasis on rep. Domestic didn't get enough airing.

The first Annual May Tournament in 1977 at the Memorial Hall was fairly successful because of the work Basil Cervi, Chris Bennett, Terry Walsh, Neville Crisp and myself put into it.

I remember a player, Ian Murrells, going for a lay up at the stage end of the court and coming down and going straight through the floorboards. Then there was stark silence. All you could see was Ian's torso sticking out of the floor. He went right in up to his rib cage. The expression on his face was just stunned. Ian at the time was playing for a team called the YOBS and I think playing against the BONGS, which is an infamous name.

I remember when I gave an award for the Most Foulest Player, which I had printed up. When I presented it to the winner he ripped it up.

I remember a player, Ian Murrells, going for a lay up at the stage end of the court and coming down and going straight through the floorboards. Then there was stark silence. All you could see was Ian's torso sticking out of the floor. He went right in up to his rib cage. The expression on his face was just stunned.

In 1979 when the new stadium in Tulip Street just opened up, I was refereeing one game on a Sunday night and one of the players got upset with the other referee who kicked him out. The player went outside to his car and came back with a tomahawk. He came running back into the stadium and his endeavour was to kill or maim the referee. He only got past the door when a young bloke from the crowd whacked him and stopped him dead in his tracks. He stopped what could have been a nasty serious incident. The player with the tomahawk regretted his actions afterward.

There was a team called the Harry Beitzel All Stars. Two of their guys were killed in an accident in Hampton and the team donated two memorial trophies, Best Player and Best Team, for the B grade men's competition.

In one game the Harry Beitzel All Stars were a couple of players short and Don Chipp's son brought his dad along to fill in for a couple of weeks. There was this temporary Prime Minister gracing the courts of the old stadium. He played three or four games and was quite a good player. He had learned to play in America when he was a kid, a really good athlete.

In the seventies what stood out was the genuine willingness of the players to play the game without knowing what they were doing. It was a fledgling sport. The atmosphere was good fun, everybody friendly, having a bit of fun. It rarely got heated.

I first started playing basketball around 1975/76 in an U/11 team.

Dad was coaching a team that was playing at Oakleigh. He took me to Albert Park (basketball stadium) and I started training with Templestowe but was not good enough to get a game. Dad heard a team was starting up at Sandringham and that's where I met Terry Walsh.

The Memorial Hall? Oh my god, what is this. I thought I could probably take a shot from the centre. I was 12 or 13 because I was playing primary school (basketball) about 1976. I can remember the walls as being a bluey colour and they were right next to the edge of the court so if you got bumped off the court you went straight into it. There were old school seats that flip up, so if there was anyone sitting there you would end up in their lap.

I remember the first game on Saturday morning and Michael Burke was guarding me and because I was so skinny and unco and had arms everywhere. And I remember Burkey, I was guarding him and he had the ball and he just cracked up and he thought it was the funniest thing he had ever seen. He had to throw the ball away and get out of there because he was laughing so hard at my unco guarding technique.

I remember every Friday night we would meet at the Memorial Hall and go to Albert Park stadium to play in the Victorian Junior Championship competition.

Terry Walsh coached, Basil took over the U/16 team and I can vividly remember him telling me I would get into the U/16 state team, which was the funniest thing I'd ever heard. He was really dead set keen and I thought as long as I play on the left hand side of the court I am probably in!

I remember some of the mums driving us to Albert Park. One mum, if she got out of second gear it was a miracle. It was a scary thing. I used to want to get public transport if a certain mum was driving. There would be a full team in the car.

Andrew Bray's mum drove us down in a Volkswagen and we had seven people sitting in that. Andrew was sitting behind the back seat, the little parcel shelf, that's how small he was.

I remember Lumpy's dad, and Robert Lunardon was under Steve's feet in the front, on the floor.

The tournaments were the major part. The Ballarat Tournament was the one we looked forward to, Queens Birthday, because we won a couple of years. We used to stay at the RAAF base, which was a nightmare of a place. Everybody had fun. It was bloody freezing. There always was some one like Enzo running around with those 'ten shooters' (ten fire crackers) and blowing things up in your bed. I remember Enzo getting Lumpy with a ten shooter. All the parents would come along and we generally would win the tournament or come close.

In 1979 we went to the Tulip Street hall for the first time. We all met at the old hall and went around to Tulip Street and thought 'wow, we have hit the big time.' And it was even better when we put the three point line down.

Teresa Kennedy

I started playing at the Memorial Hall in 1978. It was tiny, plaster fell off and birds were flying around in the curtains on stage. I remember Cecelia Kennedy and Loretta Virgona played. And the phone box across the road; you didn't have to put in any coins.

Steven Lunardon

I started playing basketball in 1976. A friend of mine, Steven Petricevic, got me down to play with Paul Cervi's Vikings team.

The first basket I ever scored, a fantastic full court pass from Paul, hit me right in the head and went in. I'd never played before and Paul Cervi came up to me and hugged me. He didn't know what to say.

My first impression of the Memorial Hall, I thought it was fantastic; I remember the old plaster and fixtures.

In one game plaster from the roof smashed down onto the floor, just missing Johnny Harper as he dribbled down the court. Coins that were in the roof scattered everywhere. The game was stopped because everyone was busy trying to pick up the coins; old pennies.

Paul Cervi

The Memorial Hall? Yes. It was quite an amusing court. A very small court, the heaters jutted out right next to the court line. We were shooting the ball from the centre line. If only they had a three point line then. I can't even throw the ball that far now.

We played the Australian Globetrotters in the grand final; our team didn't score a hell of a lot. The Globetrotters could play but we couldn't handle them when we first played them.

The rep players were separated into other teams and were restricted in how many points they could score. I remember Danny Liddell, he had 20 points. I got 15 points. It made it hard because I was the only rep player in my team, Vikings. We didn't have a coach when we first started.

We had Johnny Harper; he was pretty small. Because of my restrictions on scoring I would have 35 rebounds, kept passing the ball and throw it out to him to shoot and say, 'have another go.' My rebound stats were pretty high in those days.

The rep side I thought was a good competitive side. Any tournaments we went on we did really well. There were only three or four teams that were better than us, like the Nunawadings. I thought we could mix it with all of them until the years went by and we just didn't have depth or height.

We had Johnny Harper; he was pretty small. Because of my restrictions on scoring I would have 35 rebounds, kept passing the ball and throw it out to him to shoot and say, 'have another go.'

My junior highlight was when I started playing with my old man and his Baretta's Boys. We were playing Toshiba and gave them a 45 point start, and the first time I played I scored 2 points and I was scared. Here we were playing against three ex-Olympians and Yanks. It was Monday night. At the end of the game I thought 'what am I doing here?' They knocked us off with two or three minutes to go.

In 1977, Toshiba won the first May Annual Tournament at Sandringham. It certainly got the crowds in to watch.

The good times were the tournaments. We had one or two rep teams and went to Castlemaine and Ballarat. I remember sleeping in at a Ipec bus depot; freezing cold in the morning; getting pies out the pie warmer for brekky, lunch and dinner; sleeping in basketball stadium's grandstands.

Ross Graham

I started in 1975 when a friend asked me to play for a team called the Skegs, who became arch rivals of Terry Walsh's team, the Rockers.

First impression of the Memorial Hall? It was scary, sensational when you have to put your feet on the wall to pass the ball. It was old. Peeling paint off the walls, lines everywhere. It was so small we had to play four a side. It was great. I got to touch the ball. It was small, quick, fast and from that hall you made friends for life.

The highlight of the venue was Basil Cervi's scoreboard. A brand new scoreboard he made at home, in this old hall that should have had a demolition order on it. But the intention was to get it up and running. And boy, when you look back then there was probably fifty people playing basketball and now there are thousands playing in the association.

I remember Michael Phillips, who smashed up his knee and then decided to referee. The Presidents were Paul Larkins, Tom McNamara, Val Virgona, Tom Carrigg. I did grade secretary work.

Toshiba Hawthorn played there and used to give everyone a 45 point start and they beat every one by 45 points.

The original plans to go to Tulip Street evolved around a two-court facility. Basil Cervi was the instigator, and worked with Paul White, the Mayor of the Sandringham Council at the time.

It grew from a two court to a multi-facility sports complex for the community. Unfortunately other sporting facilities got involved and then it grew into a Leisure Centre for a range of activities. So it went from two courts to one. It took about twelve months to build.

Even before it was built we were looking at how to expand it. Our biggest nightmare was operating at too many different venues on the same night because it totally skinned your resources.

It was leased privately and we entered into an agreement with Lifestyle. Ron Clarke, the original owner, was the most co-operative of them all.

Michael Sawyer

I started playing basketball with my next-door neighbour, Paul Cervi. I was only about 10 years of age. Probably in 1974.

Paul Cervi had a really good backboard and ring and I used to get beaten by Paul every night and eventually they got me down to play domestics.

The first game I played with Sandy, I sat on the bench and I think Chris Bennett was coaching. And I got on in the last thirty seconds, got the ball, did a lay up and travelled.

The Memorial Hall was an old basketball stadium, pretty worn down; it was the hub of all the basketball in the area.

Once I become hooked, it became part of my life. Early days was a constant struggle just learning the game.

My first memory of getting really serious was training under Chris Bennett. It was pretty fair dinkum. Training wasn't just mucking around. I was a bit of a lout when I was a kid. My first initial training session was very hard and a few times I was told to sit out because I wasn't prepared to train as the whole group was supposed to train.

We were pretty successful in tournaments. Over the next few years we gelled together as a good unit and ended up staying together.

Molly Cervi

I was always in the background. I encouraged Basil to do something, get involved a little bit, but Basil does it all or nothing. Some people used to say 'Oh, you are a basketball widow.'

Basil always kept me busy, making uniforms. Any one who left their uniforms lying around, Basil used to pick them up and bring them to me to wash and then take them to the next game. He got everybody going, even my mother, busy making and stitching numbers on singlets. I remember the first set of uniforms. They were satin. Basil wanted them made so elaborate. They had stripes, sky blue satin, beautiful, but we had to make them from scratch. Basil always had ideas, but for some one else to do it. Always kept me on the go.

I used to go to the old hall when we had functions to help out. We had a lot of presentations, social get-togethers. I made something to eat, sweets.

My first Impressions of the Memorial Hall? It was terrible, plaster coming down, holes everywhere. They put in a lot of work on the hall. I couldn't get Basil to come home; sometimes he would come home at 1.00am.

The kids loved basketball; the five of them had lots of BBQs, and fund raising. Basil was working for Ipec and he got a lot of clients to donate something for the basketball raffles.

I used to go and like to see and watch my children play. I didn't go to many games. I couldn't take it. Paul Cervi used to get hot; he worked very hard, especially in the finals. I used to get very nervous. I couldn't take it. It didn't worry me whether we won or lost as long as they enjoyed the game.

I remember Brian Files and his wife; they lived in Hampton, lovely people. He was a butcher and used to supply the meat when we had turnouts.

And I remember Steven Lunardon and Strop, they were always together.

We represented one of the Italian clubs at Veneto Club in Bulleen and every year we were asked to play basketball for them and it was a nice outing for the whole team. We represented the St Marco in Lamos Social Club, a town in Italy. They used to compete at the Veneto club (Basil's people). We had a full team from Sandringham, all our boys played, for a few years. I think we won most basketball games. We had both men's and women's teams from Sandringham.

They had a competition which involved greasy pole, called La Cucagna, 18 feet high, and whoever reached the top of the greasy pole got the goodies; wine, leg of ham, salami, chicken. The goodies were attached to a steel ring, which was on the top of the pole.

They had teams. Terry Walsh was anchorman. Paul Cervi went up and someone pulled his pants down. It was quite funny.

They also had a tug of war competition.

Lots of good memories when the family was growing up; they all loved it. I think it was a good thing. They used to meet socially, not just for basketball. Adam Russell and Paul Eadie still see each other.

Some of my older boys wanted to play football but Basil got them involved in basketball, plus the nephews, Robert and David Cervi.

One night the surf was up and they didn't show up for the game and, oh boy, did Basil give it to them! He didn't talk to them. To Basil the surf didn't matter, basketball came first. I think it was only one time they did that and they learned their lesson.

Val Virgona

My girls were playing at Albert Park with Telstars and Southern Districts and some of their friends wanted to put a team in a Saturday morning competition held at Sandringham. This was in 1975. The team had Megan Nash, Anne Marie Jarmon and Jenny Cody.

Other girls in the competition included the Gilpins, Vicky Kennedy and Karen Muehlkie.

Basil Cervi asked me to take over to get the girls under control. Some were smoking in the toilets and carrying on like twits. I also was President and Treasurer.

I thought the hall was great. I thought the whole set up was great. It gave the kids something to do on a Saturday.

It was a shame when it went up to Tulip Street, as it lost that personal thing. When we were down at the old hall we all knew each other; you could have a bit of a joke and nobody took it personal. Everybody worked towards it.

Basil Cervi asked me to take over to get the girls under control. Some were smoking in the toilets and carrying on like twits.

Gaele Fischer

Basil Cervi got Carmel Fletcher to start the senior daytime ladies competition on Monday mornings in 1979. I played a couple of games with Carmel's team and then started a team called Bentleigh West, made up of school mothers.

I played a couple of games with Carmel's team and then started a team called Bentleigh West made up of school mothers.

We had four or five teams and it was all very friendly.

The idea was to get the competition going and give some people a run. Then we got a few players who could play. Six months after the Monday morning competition started, a Thursday morning competition began.

Tracey Stephens

I started playing basketball in 1978 when I was thirteen. I never played basketball before so I was learning the skills. I was a netballer and I am sure I frustrated our coach pretty much. Terry Walsh was my first coach.

I never played basketball before so I was learning the skills. I was a netballer and I am sure I frustrated our coach pretty much.

The Memorial Hall was a really old hall, small and at the time quite appropriate for our needs.

The floorboards were terrible. There was one panel, left of the key, that when you bounced the ball it would not come back up. Never anywhere to sit and no nets on the rings when we first started. The guys could take ten steps and be down the other end. I remember Michael Phillips and Basil Cervi refereeing.

Sandra Cervi

I started playing basketball when I was eight years old. Terry Walsh coached. We trained at the Memorial Hall and played at Albert Park.

The Memorial Hall was my second home. A fun hall where all your friends used to hang out. There was a café out the back, a Basil Cervi style café. It was just a table and we sold food and drinks between games.

I remember making the milkshakes and I got told off because I used all the ice cream.

Adam Russell

Michael Sawyer got me involved in basketball in 1975 when I was about ten or eleven years old. I played for a team called the Warhawks.

I remember the Memorial Hall was small, dusty, smelly - and a hell of an adventure out the back where the kitchen and storerooms were. The back rooms were very empty and run down.

The only way I got to know the game was through scoring. I would sit in the corner of the hall where the score bench was and stay there the whole day scoring the games.

The only way I got to know the game was through scoring. I would sit in the corner of the hall where the score bench was and stay there the whole day scoring the games.

I played with Johnny and David Harper in the U/13C representative team in 1977. The team won the premiership but something went wrong and I didn't turn up for the grand final. However I did play for the whole season.

Michael Stepien

I was playing for the Australian Globetrotters in 1977 and Chris Bennett asked me to come over to Sandringham at the end of the winter season. I played in the U/17 Sandringham team coached by Chris Bennett during the summer season.

In 1978, I played in the U/17B team. Basil Cervi coached in the latter part of the season and we made the semi finals. I did my achilles tendon and had to sit out the game and we lost by 6 to 8 points. I was also invited to try out for the U/18 State team. In 1979 I played in the U/20 team and Basil Cervi coached. Players included Harry Telogthou and Dean Howe.

I also played in the local senior men's competition and remember how small the court was. Shooting the ball from the centre line, equivalent to the 3 point line of today. Also watching the plaster fall of the walls.

I remember playing in the 1978 Coburg Junior Tournament. We missed the semi finals when we lost to Coburg.

Our coach, Chris Bennett, picked me up from my home in South Melbourne and as I was about to get in the car he drove off running over my toe. I said, 'Hey, Hey, you are on my foot.' I wasn't impressed. I thought I had a broken toe but there was no injury and I played in the tournament.

... as I was about to get in the car he drove off running over my toe. I said, 'Hey, Hey, you are on my foot.' I wasn't impressed.

The highlight of the tournament was when we played Coburg who had their U/18A championship side; they were one of the top four teams in the state, if not the country. We lost by 6 points.

We surprised Coburg. The defensive intensity of Coburg was unreal. I remember getting the ball and there was a bloke right in my face. It was one of the few times I didn't score.

Our side was B grade level and our attitude was 'we are going to have a go, no matter what' and we did. Our offense was sound, our defense was sound and I don't think they expected it from us. They got the biggest scare in their life. We threw it back at them. We had the heart, guts and intensity and that's what shocked them. They thought we were going to lie down and die.

In the 1970's we played in the Ballarat Tournament. We stayed at the old RAAF base and it was freezing cold. Dorms had four bunks to a room, heating didn't work. Couple of holes here and there in the walls and ceiling.

Basil called a midnight training session at the hall on the base. No wonder we lost the next day.

The camaraderie was special; the whole club used to go as one. Everyone was together for two to three days. That was the best thing. We were a small club, didn't have a lot of rep teams. We went as a group and we had great fun. It was more like belonging to something.

At a Shepparton Tournament we stayed at a caravan park. One of our coaches sat on a table and broke it. We were leaving for the last game and the owner of the caravan park chased us down to the stadium and got Terry Walsh to pay for the damage.

Alfred Cervi

I started with Southern Districts and came over to Sandringham (about) 1974-6.

The Memorial Hall was a bit of a joke. Dad (Basil) was going to make a basketball court. The building used to be a picture theatre; there was a stage there and it was an old grotty building. I think we all had a bit of a laugh.

Plaster cracking and falling down. Basil repaired it, sanded the floor - had a working bee.

Felt good to play in it; it was a short court.

Had a team. All our mates were surfers and when the surf was up we left the games.

Toshiba (Hawks) gave us a 50 point start. We felt they were 'two bob lairs', but they were good players. I thought it was a good experience. They played in the local comp in the 70s. No team beat them.

We played at the Veneto Club once a year. Basil organized it.

Graham Rapke

I was a member of the Brighton YMCA basketball team, which used to train on a Saturday afternoon. Given the court was vacant on a Tuesday night, I would take the opportunity to take a few shots alone.

One Tuesday night, while shooting baskets, players in team outfits started to arrive. At 6.20pm I was unceremoniously asked to leave the court, as a new competition was about to begin.

I watched the first game, and when teams started to arrive for the second game I approached them to see if I could get a game. Neither was interested. Undeterred, I waited for the next two teams to arrive and the first person I asked was Basil, who greeted me with open arms.

Undeterred, I waited for the next two teams to arrive and the first person I asked was Basil, who greeted me with open arms.

We played a number of seasons together at the Brighton YMCA and had very successful results. However Basil had a vision to develop a community activity within Sandringham, where he considered there was a desperate need. Basil asked me if I would support him in his endeavours to establish such a centre. The main thrust was to build a basketball court, but to provide more than just a court for games - a place where young children and young adults could spend a night with friends in a safe environment.

Paul Larkins

My first impression of the Memorial Hall was what rules do you have here. It was a bit daunting to think what had hit the walls. There were holes in the floor and you had to watch in case players hit the stage.

I came and reffed a few games as Bob Hehir was just leaving. I started by getting some of the referees on the side and giving them a few words of advice. I had a State referees badge at the time. I ran a couple of ref schools and that was the start of getting the Sandringham referees identified as a separate identity. I set up the Sandringham branch of the Referees Association and it took two years to get it accepted by the Victorian Basketball Referees Association.

I was President and on the committee from 1976 onwards. I refereed juniors on Saturday mornings, and the seniors, and started running referee schools when we moved to Lifestyle in 1979.

In the seventies there was a big transition going from being a junior club to a senior club. I think I rewrote the constitution with Ross Graham. Mark Mitchell helped, because I was already involved in working on several other constitutions. We took it on board as an Association.

In the 1970s I went to meetings with the Sandringham Council. Ross Graham and myself went to the first meeting and put forward a case for extending the Lifestyle Stadium to three courts, which was in the original plans. Basil Cervi, Ross Graham and myself were involved and I even took up the case with the Victorian Basketball Association's Lindsay Gaze and Ken Watson, but they hit a brick wall. The greenies were too strong.

The trips away with the juniors certainly made a difference to the club. I drove a bus to the Ballarat Tournament on two or three occasions. One year there was only my wife and I and one other parent and we stayed at Craig's Hotel with all the U/18 and U/16 boys' teams and the U/16 girls' team. We filled the bus, which seated forty-eight passengers. One of the hardest things was keeping track of where everyone was and keeping the U/18 boys away from the U/16 girls.

One of the U/12 juniors went missing once and we were all out hunting the streets of Ballarat in some ungodly hour of the night trying to find this wretched rat. We didn't get much sleep.

Also on the bus I had to try and keep the U/18 boys in the back seat quiet and make sure there was no alcohol consumed and publicly defrocking them of alcohol.

One of the U/12 juniors went missing once and we were all out hunting the streets of Ballarat in some ungodly hour of the night trying to find this wretched rat. We didn't get much sleep.

I think we were one of the few lucky associations that progressed on the officiating front the same time as did the players and coaches. We were in a situation where we were a virgin club. The initial charter was that Sandringham was a junior club, and then the seniors came along. I stuck with the referees.

When we started out we had a lot of opposition about becoming an association but it had to be done to meet the guidelines set out by the Victorian Basketball Association. You had to have senior teams.

Dianne K & Christine Cox

We started playing basketball in our late teens when our Uncle Basil wanted to start a basketball tournament at Sandringham (Waltham Street Hall).

Both Christine and myself had only played netball up till then so it was a real learning experience with plenty of coaching from our Uncle Basil. We found players for a team through friends and acquaintances and were able to have at least seven girls in our first basketball team. They were Gail Brodie, Ray Daw, Linda Cervi, Louise White, Christine Cox and myself.

We experienced many wins and losses and thoroughly enjoyed ourselves throughout this time. We were able to partake in basketball tournaments and for the Italian Veneto Club. From our small basketball court at Waltham Street we saw the sport grow into a major concern with the development of a new stadium in Tulip Street in 1979, where we continued to play. Our team was called the Demons and we wore orange tops with black shorts. Both my sister and myself played basketball for at least another 15 years before leaving Sandringham to play at local stadiums.

It was a wonderful period in our lives, keeping us fit and active, with lots of fun experiences.

Basil Cervi

I started the U/14 competition and got Mark Mitchell from Brighton YMCA and Graeme Brown and Brian Shepard from the Australian Globetrotters involved. We had representative teams from Mordialloc, Globetrotters and Collingwood play in our local competition.

I had my sons and the Careys refereeing. Chris Bennett, Terry Walsh and myself coached the junior representative teams. Michael Phillips was a referee and treasurer. Ross Graham was on the committee. Joseph Cervi designed and stenciled player's singlets. Michael Beatrice organised and made the electronic score board and Celeste Beatrice helped my wife make pennants and other things.

Most of the older players coached. We used to give players clinics after the game. I used to coach at Sacred Heart and Sandringham primary schools to get them going.

At one stage I was spending eighty hours a week on basketball.

At one stage I was spending eighty hours a week on basketball.

I used to open the Memorial Hall at 8.30am on Saturday mornings and close at 6.30pm. I used to give Terry Walsh a can of coca cola for refereeing all day.

The finals at the Memorial Hall, it was always packed. My wife used to make all the sandwiches, buy sausage rolls, give tea and coffee and organise the drink machine. The stadium was full, all the seats full, people standing in the foyer watching. That stadium had a good atmosphere because it was only a small hall.

We used to go to the Ballarat Tournament and I remember the old Air Force barracks we stayed at; no windows, sometimes no doors. We used to bring our own sleeping bags. Some rooms had mattresses. It was shocking.

Once we used the Ipec depot to save money because we couldn't afford to stay elsewhere. Some slept on the depot's landing dock. We went in two cars, mine and Chris Bennett's. It was very cold up there.

I think we enjoyed it more when we first started. It was more like a family. That was my intention; to have a nice club where people would love to come and enjoy themselves. We were very close.

The 1977 May Tournament was organised to get every one involved in basketball and I wanted to promote the game in the area.

I went around to all the firms I used to look after and tried to get them to sponsor the tournament. I got basketball shoes, dressing gowns for men and women (from Giovanni Mills), a welding gun and basketball bags and basketballs.

The prizes for the tournament added up to $1500. We had Hawthorn Toshiba, coached by ex-Olympic coach Erik Erkens, play in the tournament. I asked Erik to have his team do a demonstration game for us at half time for one of the games. They ended up playing in the tournament. They gave every one a 50-point start and won the tournament. They beat Terry Walsh's team, the Rockers.

Social functions were mostly at the Memorial Hall. In those days we gave out trophies for juniors on election nights. I started the married women's competition when we went to the Family Leisure centre in 1979. I remember Carmel Fletcher who took over my role in the running of the married women's competition Players who passed away from the seventies era were Danny Lee, Robert Edwards and Andrew Hockett (2000).

The significant events of the seventies were;

- The first May Annual Tournament in 1977
- The junior tournament held at Tulip Street. Terry Walsh entered a Fawkner High School team in the tournament, which ran all week
- Our U/14 team won the Castlemaine Tournament in 1978. Something we never expected to win. A great event for us

- We also won the U/14 Ballarat Tournament in 1978
- Paul White's help
- The junior rep team that got into A grade Victorian championships and stayed there for several seasons
- The move to Life Style in 1979

Louise Graham

I first started in 1977. Played for Demons at Waltham Street hall. Old, felt strange at first because it was too small, but you got used to it. In one game I shot 77 points out of 105. The team used to go to the pub before we played and most of the people I played with I still associate with. I remember Gail Brodie, Jenny Tancheff, Linda Cervi, and Chris Eichner.

Terry Walsh

I went to a Sunday morning mass in 1972 and saw on the back of a newsletter that there was basketball training at Highett High School and I went there. There were fifteen blokes there, and Basil Cervi asked me to play Tuesday night senior basketball at Brighton YMCA.

Basil asked me to come down to the Memorial Hall to help out on Saturday mornings. I first came down as a general helper and helped when they were punching the nails into the floor in 1974.

I first came down as a general helper and helped when they were punching the nails into the floor in 1974.

I used to ref all day on a Saturday at the Memorial Hall and I remember giving a clinic at St Katherine's Primary School in Moorabbin. Players who played at Albert Park in the Victorian Championships U/14B grade girls' competition included Tracy and Christine Aitken, Bridgette Stuart, Tess Ryan, Natalie McGaw and later on Donna Mitchell

I used to write the rep newsletters every week, and handed it out to the kids, in the late 70's. We had a raw prawn award. I took over that job after Chris Bennett stopped doing them. The tournaments gave us lots of fun. The kids looked forward to the Ballarat Tournament. We used to go out to the Air Force base and slept there. I had to look after them. Make sure they didn't get into any trouble. In those days not many parents came along. They were glad to get rid of them. Basil Cervi and Paul Larkins used to come with us.

I played in the first senior representative team in 1976. We were in fourth division. Then we kept playing throughout the seventies at places like Collingwood.

The significant events of the seventies were;

- The new stadium in Tulip Street
- We had Chris Bennett's group win
- The U/13C that I coached won

- We started the girls' program
- Starting the rep teams
- The efforts of Paul White in getting the new court
- Playing four on four at the Memorial Hall
- Basil being the main driving force

Chris Bennett

Sandringham! Somewhere out in the sticks. Near Mars. That's what I thought back in the early seventies when I lived in Fitzroy.

In 1973 I met Basil Cervi and Brian Files, fellow co-founders, when I joined Southern Districts Spartans. My club Northroys (North Fitzroy) had just merged with the Spartans.

Sandringham! Somewhere out in the sticks. Near Mars. That's what I thought back in the early seventies when I lived in Fitzroy.

Later on in the year Basil Cervi suggested to me to come over to Sandringham and start a basketball club. I did not give it too much thought because I was happy coaching the U/16A boys' rep team, which included Shaun Carey (Captain), who lived in Sandringham.

Over the next few months I became unhappy with the way the club was run and decided to leave in early 1974. I coached the U/14AR boys to a winter premiership and left at the end of the season in June.

When I left Southern Districts I had over four years experience coaching junior basketball, which included two years coaching at championship level. So there was no reason to go to a 'foreign' land called Sandringham. Why go and start from scratch again and travel all that distance?

Logically I would have been better off to go to one of the larger basketball organisations where the facilities and opportunities were far greater. But for some reason, and I still don't know why, I decided to go to Sandringham and help Basil set up a basketball club.

In those early days, Basil, myself and with the occasional help of Brian Files, were the key decision makers until the Sandringham Amateur Basketball Association was officially formed on the 6th October, 1975.

It was basically a 'two-man dictatorship' and we would spend many hours on the phone discussing the various jobs that needed to be done. Because I lived in Fitzroy and Basil in Hampton, we decided to work it this way. Basil would look after the local competition and I would look after the coaching, training and newsletters.

When I look back now, I am amazed at the amount of work Basil put into the setting up of the basketball club. He was the 'perpetual motion' man. Always on the go. He was the major driving force and reason why basketball became established in Sandringham.

I remember traveling from Fitzroy (and later from Elwood) to Sandringham and spending a lot of time at the old Memorial Hall in Waltham Street. At one stage I was there four times a week, plus coaching the junior rep teams on Friday nights at the Albert Park stadium and taking players home after the games.

Occasionally I would attend the Monday night domestic men's competition. Wednesday evenings I coached the Demons, a women's domestic team. Spend some time helping out at the Hall on Saturdays during the junior domestic competitions and on Sunday mornings conducted junior training sessions. When I coached the first senior men's rep team I would be at the Hall on Sundays from 9.00am to 7.00pm.

The junior boys rep teams achieved great deal of success in those days considering Sandringham was regarded as non-entity when it came to basketball. In 1975 we entered our first junior teams into the Victorian Junior Championships competitions playing in the lower grades.

We were competing against the larger associations, which had huge amounts of players to select from. At Sandringham we had very few players to choose from. If you could stand upright, move and breathe, then you had a good chance of playing rep ball!

The rep teams I coached were inexperienced, had average skills and height and no pure shooters. Yet in three years we won the U/14B premiership in 1976, Semi Finalists Ballarat Tournament, won the Castlemaine Tournament, made A grade Victorian championships and stayed there for several seasons. In 1977, we reached the semi finals of the A grade Victorian Junior Championships summer competition.

A great effort considering it was our sixth season of playing championship basketball.

Why the success? I think we started to take off when Paul Cervi finally got a transfer from Southern Districts and joined the rep team. Paul had the talent and experience to lead the team to success. So he was used as the 'go to player.' He would quite often play guard, forward, or centre when required. In that team, I never had a most valuable player award, which Paul would have easily won. I wanted an award system where every player had an equal chance of winning. The awards for the 1976 team were Best Defensive Player and Most Improved Player.

Another reason for our success was due to the size of the Memorial Hall. It was tiny and very easy to score points. Many players would rack up huge scores and not play defence (some things never change!). So there was a concentrated effort to emphasize defence, especially to the rep players, and we built a reputation as a tough defensive team when playing in the Victorian Championships.

The efforts of other players in those early rep teams also helped. Players such as Michael Burke, Paul Lafontaine, Steven Wright, Greg Nixon and Colin Luxton.

I also developed ways of improving the skills of the players. We had a defensive tournament for the U/14C team in 1975, free throw championships at the Hall, competition sprints with the ball and without the ball. I created a standard badge system based on the Northroys' one; a Fifty Club that required players to complete fifty hours of personal training during the season. A system card was used to record their drills and times and it was based on an honour system.

Unlike today, little coaching material was available and I subscribed to magazines, Athletic Journal (Canadian), Coaching Clinic (American) and The Basketball Bulletin (National Association of Basketball Coaches), an American journal, to get ideas. I bought many books and kept articles written by the best American college and professional coaches and adapted many of their ideas to suit our team.

After about three years of travelling I decided to have a break and coach closer to home. I coached the U/17B Australian Globetrotters in 1977, which included Michael Stepien and Matthew Carey and in 1978 coached the U/15A Collingwood team. I also coached at Bulleen for a short time.

However after each break I always came back to Sandringham. Something that has been repeated over the last twenty-five years.

The Australian Globetrotters defeated the Beaumaris Vikings in an exciting grand final. Globetrotters proved they are the top team and completed a successful season without a loss.

The Vikings were far from disgraced. They put up a tremendous fighting effort and were beaten only by height and experience.

Paul Cervi's individual tally of 43 points and assistance to teammates was the highlight of the game.

The first half was even and Vikings led in the early stages. Globetrotters edged to the front and at half time led by 5 points.

Globetrotters vs Vikings: Memorial Hall

Second half the Vikings kept within striking distance, but eventually the opposition's height and experience showed. Although the Vikings tried to break through several times the Globetrotters' big men countered the challenges.

Congratulations to the Australian Globetrotters for winning the grand final and to the Vikings for participating.

Finance

Although we have enjoyed an encouraging start, we are however in a very poor financial situation. To enable us to expand the Junior Competitions, pay weekly rent and to buy equipment for the Club we need money. If anybody can help, please do so by contacting Basil Cervi.

We need money to keep the club afloat, which in turn provides a worthwhile activity for the youth of Sandringham.

Domestic Finals

Men's Semi Finals

Rockers v Brighton

Zebras v Sandringham

This match will be strongly contested by both sides, as the loser will be eliminated from the finals. Sandringham has a more experienced and taller side.

The danger players for Sandringham are the 'prehistoric man' Basil Cervi and the 'backcourt bomber' Graham Rapke. If these two players are allowed to dictate play, then it will be all over.

The Zebras in comparison are a far lesser experienced and smaller side. The team is made up of mostly junior players with the average age of 17 years and two senior players. Jackie Muehlke for Zebras has a springboard leap that will put pressure on the opposition, but he will be outnumbered on the boards. Joe 'hot lips' Cervi will worry Sandy with his offensive manouvers and Danny 'dunk' Lee can be troublesome if he consistently scores from his jump shots.

If the Zebras exploit Sandringham weakness, of relying on one or two players, then they will win. On the other hand, Sandringham could have the advantage because of the Zebras' brittle defence.

We predict that Sandringham will win. For the Zebras, we can encourage the players with the thought that this newsletter's forecasts could turn out to be like Lou Richards 'Kiss of Death' predictions.

Women's Semi Finals

Tigers v Sapphires

Demons v Bentleigh

At the start of the season we fielded four teams only. But with the addition of two extra teams (Bentleigh and Belles) the season has provided many close and exciting matches.

The season highlighted by many individual performances in each side. For Bentleigh, A. Weir and A. McKenna 'gunned' at shooting, (and) the Demons with the robust play of C. Eichner and her fellow 'little demons.'

Tigers Two, with an outstanding pair of outside shooters in K. Dunne and J. Horner, combined with other exuberant players in a young band. Sapphires provided the loudest and aggressive entertainment with J. Barnes and H. Williamson at the forefront.

Southerners, as one of the older teams, had fine players in J and S. Whyte to form the basis of a talented team, while the Belles although only beginners acquitted themselves well improving in each game as the season progressed. S. Henzell and C. Hale provided dribbling and shooting prowess.

The finals look to be a close affair with Bentleigh favourites, followed by Demons, Tigers Two and Sapphires.

Learner Referees

It has been found that due to the inexperience of learner referees some coaches and players become agitated because of the decisions that are not made or wrongly called.

The only way for the learner referees to gain experience is to referee a game.

Their job is twice as hard as the experienced referees, because they are under considerable pressure because of their inexperience and the fact that they are referees. Games that are considered important in the future will be handled by at least one experienced referee.

Referees

A subcommittee has been formed to re-organise the referee program. The following proposals are to be finalized:

1. Four to six permanent referees are to be selected.
2. The referees' fees to be increased.
3. Most games will be refereed by at least one senior official.

These and other proposals are to be discussed and agreed upon.

Table Tennis Competition

A table tennis competition started on the 26th November 1975. The competition was held in the back rooms of the Memorial Hall. Registration fee was 50 cents and it cost 30 cents to play.

Player Survey

A survey was conducted in 1975 to give players an opportunity to have a say in the running of the junior competition.

Pay should increase for door comp and cleaning. Increase the pay.

The seasons are too long. Shorten the seasons.

Because of some of girls go mad at the referees. Tell the girls to be quiet.

I think the pin ball machines is a grouse idea and I'm glad that your thinking on our level now.

Q1. What do you feel is wrong with the Club's method of organising the competitions?
Q2. What are your suggestions to improve this?

Qualified refs on the court at all times.

Because of the girls. They scream and shout and make a lot of noise. The poor umpires are trying to ref the game. If the girls think there so good let them ref.

The games should be on time. I think everything else is alright. If the teams aren't there on time then more prosecutions should be taken.

Ring - Rebounder - Kant Peek

A third basketball ring was purchased and attached to the wall, facing the right side of the court, as you entered the hall.

A 'Basketball Rebounder and Undersized Ring' was also bought from America for US$11.95. You could either practice rebounding or sharp shooting. It comprised of a small ring (just enough space for a basketball to fit through) and five straps. Four straps secured the small ring to the normal ring to develop accurate shooting. For practicing rebounding, a fifth strap was added and clipped onto the smaller ring so the ball would bounce out.

Another aid purchased were 'Kant Peeks' which were made of a strip of foam and elastic bands attached to each end. You attached the bands around your ears and the foam strip would fit just under your eyes. They were designed to stop you looking down when you dribbled the ball.

Foreign Legions

The majority of teams playing in the junior domestic competitions came from the surrounding suburbs. During the year the Australian Globetrotters and the Collingwood Hellcats entered teams.

The Australian Globetrotters also played in the Victorian Junior Championships competition held at Albert Park stadium. They had permission from the American Globetrotters to use their name and wore the same coloured uniforms. They dominated the competition with their experience and two six-foot players and at the same time raised the standard of the competition.

Defensive Tournament

U14C boy's representative players participated in a defensive tournament organised by their coach, Chris Bennett.

Rules

- The winner is the player who earns the most points at the end of the season
- A defensive foul or offensive score ends the game
- Every player has two chances. The best score of these two tries will be listed
- Coach will pair players
- Any player who disputes any referee decision during the tournament will have his score halved on the day

Points System

- Drawing an offensive foul = 4 pts
- (Causing) a violation = 3 pts
- If the opponent is forced to receive the ball at (certain point on court) = 2pts
- A steal = 1 pt
- A score after a steal = 1 pt

Demons (10) 33 d Sapphires (11) 28

Scorers: Demons - R. Daw 10, C. Eichner 8, L. Cervi 8; Sapphires - J. Barnes 14, K. Clark 6, P. Harmshaw 6

Demons out run Sapphire. Not even Terry 'Wizzard' Walsh could halt the Demon's tremendous finish. The Demons applied a vicious half court press in the second half and had the Sapphire players in trouble. Sapphires fight back towards the end and were 1 point down and with two minutes to go. Demons got the break and finished strongly.

Demons (13) 30 d Bentleigh (14) 26

Scorers: Demons - Bernadette 9, R. Daw 8, K. Muehlke 8, C. Eichner 5; Bentleigh - C. Meehan 12, A. Weir 10, A. Meehan 4

Second ranked Demons roll the top team, Bentleigh Blues. Demons defence severely pressured the Blues. The Demons could have won by more but continued their 'volley ball' type offense. They made position but could not score the easy shots. The Blues tried hard but were at a disadvantage with only four players and no substitutes on a very warm evening. They also had one of their regular players missing.

Demons press was too tight for the Belles to break. In a point for point game the Demons survived. Two outstanding features of the game, the Belles inability to advance the ball up the court due to the pressure and the Demons 'volley ball offense' made it a close game and exciting game. The 'Battle of the Bulge' was re-fought last week. B. Guyatt gave G. Eichner an inferiority complex by outscoring and out weighing the gentle giant. The Athletes have a natural resource in B. Guyatt and consider him more valuable (and bigger than Fort Knox). His single effort of 51 points was not enough to carry the Athletes to victory.

Semi Final

Southern Districts d Sandringham by 1 point.

First representative team to make the finals. What a game. 1 point up with two minutes to go. Sandringham runs a double high post delay game.

Opposition coach unaware of what is happening. Clock ticks down. Bob Hehir (Southern Districts) sitting opposite courtside discovers the delay game offense. Bob runs around the court to the unsuspecting Southern Districts coach to let him know.

Seconds to go. Southern Districts pours on the pressure and intercepts the ball and make a lay up. Siren sounds.

CLUB GROWS TO A . . .
Basketball army

In little over a year the Sandringham Basketball Club has grown from a handful to 250 junior and senior players.

When the club was formed it had virtually no players and only a small number of seniors. Now it has 36 teams in six competitions each week based in the memorial hall in Waltham St.

Players range from eight year olds to senior men and women and the club has an under 12 and an under 14 team playing in the Victorian championships at Albert Park.

One of the teams missed playing in the Albert Park grand final by one point.

An electronic scoreboard, a clock and other essential equipment was bought by the club with money raised last year.

"Our members, mostly juniors, responded magnificently to raise $1050," a club spokeswoman said.

"The committee also organised training sessions for new players, coaches and referees for games, social functions, low admission and membership fees and free uniforms and these have helped the club progress so far in such a short time," she said.

To illustrate the popularity of basketball in Sandringham, one of the club's senior officials contacted a local primary school for interested players and the following day 20 new players arrived for a training session.

A youth club is a logical extension to the club's program.

"We have obtained a table-tennis table, billiard table and we plan to renovate the back section of the hall to provide a place where people can relax and enjoy themselves," the spokeswoman said.

Attendance at the hall has almost reached saturation point but the club believes that what it has achieved is only a "drop in the bucket."

With proper facilities, a stadium with at least two full-sized courts would be self-supporting.

"Stadiums at Coburg, Nunawading, Dandenong, Albert Park and many other suburban and country areas have proved this," the spokeswoman said.

General Stuff

Free Kick

One of the Hihett boys was not amused when referee Basil Cervi gave a decision against him. He showed his disgust by kicking the ball. Less amused was a teammate nearby because it hit in him in the midsection. He was left gasping for air.

Gorgeous George

A biting remark from our resident cynic Gorgeous George. A player in one of the girl's game gave away two bad passes, one after the other. Gorgeous remarked 'put the ball in your mouth and carry it down court.' Horse sense or non sense?

The Blues

Bentleigh Blues women's team has won two grand finals, one runners up in the last three seasons, have been knocked out of the final four by one point.

Basketball Highlights

A film night was organised on 14th July 1976 for club members. The films featured college and professional players Bill Walton, Kareem Abdul Jabbar, John Havlicek, Oscar Roberston, and Tom Burleson. The two 35 minute films were from 'Converse Highlights; 1968-69 and 1973-74.' Hire costs were $10 and $16.

New Name

A survey was conducted in 1976 to find a new name for the club. Sixty-three names were provided and you had three choices. Some of the names included; Titans, Fighting Sioux, Grizzlies, Flying Dutchmen, Thunderbirds, Magicians, Purple Knights, Ducks, and Sun Devils.

Photo Shoot

Saturday, 10.00am training cancelled. Photos were taken of the U/14 representative team demonstrating fundamentals. To be used as visual instructional aide.

Impressive win for the Athletes. Zebras have the talent to take on most teams but there are too many individualists. Their defence is non-existent like most teams in the competition. Also to get a pass from a Zebra player is like squeezing blood from a stone.

Last round of the season Globetrotters knocked us off by 15 points. Then it was our turn.

During the season we played changing defenses during games using half and full court zone presses, man to man and zones. The tactics were effective resulting in 16 wins and 3 losses and finishing on top of the ladder at the end of the season.

The grand final was different. We played a triangle defence and had two players pressure Toli Grigoriadis, their key player. They did a great job frustrating Toli reducing his usual effectiveness.

Paul Cervi was our offence. Paul posted up and the team focused on passing the ball to him for one on one plays. The result. A premiership. A great season. A great team.

The U/15 team had a tremendous season and were by far the most successful of all the representative teams. Playing against Australia's top players, the team finished ninth. The standard of the competition was incredibly high. The average age of the team is thirteen and a half years and has a great future in top standard competition.

Paul O'Riley and Colin Luxton were among the players who improved immensely. Most exciting win was against Nunawading 2, in the last game of the season. The team was behind until the last five seconds and managed to steal a one point victory.

Congratulations and well done. Season record, 3 wins 13 lost.

Excellent shooting by Paul Lafontaine. Our new 1:4 offense worked 100%. Our full court 3:1:1 zone press was not successful. 2:2:1 half court pressured the opposition. Paul Cervi was used as a post because Saints played zone all the way. He worked well on his 1 on 1 plays. We had two free throws at the end of the game, first scored and the second just missed.

Bulleen had a good side. Some of our inexperienced players missed vital drives and gave away baskets through bad passing. We need to improve in offensive rebounding, fast breaks and passing. And players must learn to shoot at the right time. Summarily, the boys tried hard.

Essendon Y were not up to our standard. I used this game to test our patterns. Most impressive was the 2:1:1 zone press. Move 1 and 2 were fair. Our fast break pattern needs a lot of work. We controlled the game.

Our first half was satisfactory. In the second half we almost fell apart. We had a 20 point lead at one stage but blew it, due to our defence. We need a lot more work on our patterns and pressure. G. Nixon and B. Carmel were absent, lack of referee control (only one) were probably major reasons why we played mediocre.

The team put in a fine gutsy effort. Three of our first five were away which restricted our strength. Players were down by 7 points with 6-7 minutes to go and came back. Our timing on shots need improving. We had many open shooting opportunities but failed to allow for a rebounder. Our major fault is our back court defense.

Although P. Cervi scored the majority of points he was taken off the court for about half the game. P. Cervi's points came from excellent passes from his teammates. Passing has improved 100% and dribbling has to be cut to a minimum.

We played a fair game. Our Cincinnatti and ball move worked reasonably well. 1:4 was okay. Faults in our offense were lack of aggression, passing and overuse of the dribble. Shooting opportunities were not always taken. Defensively, our 2:2:1 half court zone press was very good. 3:1:1 press was fair. 2:1:2 zone overall improved.

We played our 2:2:1 half court zone press most of the game. Every time we failed to score we played half court man to man. Our constant pressure defeated E. Doncaster even though we were out rebounded. Offense was not effective, moves or freelance. Fast breaks were very good. Man to man improving.

Basket-bound Rocker

Rockers basketballer T. Walsh was letting nothing get in his way as he headed goalward to the basket during the recent Sandringham Amateur Basketball Association's first annual May tournament.

The Rockers were playing Toshiba on the second day of the three-day tournament played in the Sandringham Memorial Hall. Twenty-seven men's and women's teams from Brighton to Mordialloc took part in the tournament, which offered $500 worth of prizes. Toshiba, as the tournament's guest team, won the men's competition but declined to take any prize. This left Monash and Brighton YMCA to play off in the final. Monash won.

Brighton YMCA (2) also made it into the women's final but again went down, this time to Sandringham's Bandits. Best players in the finals were Jim McCallin (Toshiba) and F. Hoogen from Brighton Y's No. 2 women's team. Best scorer trophies were won by G. Rayke (Sandringham, men) and N. Maitheuse (Superstars, women).

Best free throwers were F. Carey (Robels, men) and C. Dangerfield (Bandits), and C. Stewart (Sandy Bay) led for the women's title.

SABA, tournament organiser Basil Cervi said the competition was a great success on each day — Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. About $1000 was taken at the gate, of which about $300 was left to the SABA. Mr Cervi said the money would be used to promote basketball among juniors in Sandringham. The association is looking forward to playing the second May tournament next year in the new Sandringham Indoor Recreation Centre.

This final was a superb climax to a very interesting and close fought finals series, and capped off a great season throughout B grade. The fact that 2 points (scored with 23 seconds to play) was the final margin marked this game as one to remember. I cannot think when this small hall has been so crowded, which created a tense and exciting atmosphere, thanks to some energetic spectators.

The B grade game was close fought throughout with, on the Harlems side, some players conspicuous with their quietness, perhaps by good play by Mob defenders, and perhaps some finals nerves. Tony Fitts, on 3 fouls at half time did well to stay on the court and played a good second half.

Match winners for the Mob were Steve Goodwin who had the crowd applauding time and time again with some outstanding ball handling and shooting and Gary Armfield, who played a great game right throughout defending brilliantly and shooting very well, these two were ably backed up by some great play from the rest of the team.

They combined to hold off a determined challenge from Harlems, where Greg Holmes stood out as a very good player, who if he had have arrived earlier, may have won the game for the Harlems. They had their chances to win but could not convert their opportunities during the final minute, at the free throw line.

C GradeGrand Final

Wickers 68 d Mob 2 47

Scorers: Wickers - C. Farrington 28, P. Harris 20; Mob - D. Code 16, D. Tepper 8

The Wickers were the warm favourites, setting up a commanding lead at half time only to be pegged back to within 5 points during the second half with D. Code and M. Cameron combining well and converting every opportunity, Mob 2 really had Wickers on their toes, but some fine steady play by Chris Farrington and a couple of good goals by Peter Harris late in the game gave them victory.

Zebras - BoysSummer Season*U/11B

Sandringham (19) 41 d Ajax (2) 4

Scorers: Jon Wright-Smith 20, Matt Wright-Smith 11

‘What did I do to deserve this?’ cries U/11 coach Heather Scarlett as she is mobbed by thousands of 9 and 10 year old kids. Drew Russell threw his first 2 points ever and only seconds later scored another. Ross Gilpin again played well and threw 6 points. On their present form A grade looks just on the horizon for this team.

U/13A

Sandringham (20) 29 d Knox (11) 27

Scorers: S. Lunardon 18, S. Petrecevic 10, J. Harper 1

Promoted to A grade and played their first game against Knox, winning by 2 points. Lumpy missed hundreds of opportunities but played well. Coach Baretta was very pleased with the teams pressing zone defence.

U/15B

Eltham (17) 32 d Sandringham (13) 31

Scorers: M. Burke 15, S. Wright 7, M. O’Shannessy 4, S. Bencraft 4

With substitute coach Mr. Wright the team had a chance to level the game in the dying seconds but a foul shot by Michael O’Shannessy failed to find the basket. The team out played Eltham in the second half. The boys are sorry to see that Paul Davenport will be unable to coach them on Friday nights because of working commitments, but will be available for late games and Sunday training.

Bulleen 50 d Sandringham 10

With transport leaving Sandy Hall without players Paul Cervi, and Colin Luxton, and with Brett Bartlett unavailable, Bulleen had an easy victory. Coach Grizzly Adams was at his mumbling best.

U/19B

Sandringham (24) 40 d Mordialloc (22) 38

Scorers: T. Kappos 20, C. Pardo 10, H. Telogthou 6, M. Cirnigliaro 4

Once again, as in the last 2 weeks, only the Big Five - Tony Kappos, Caesar Pardo, Harry Telogthou, Mimo Cirnigliaro and the 'Golden Foul' Peter Roth 5 fouls (and no points) arrived. Coach Tom McNamara was pleased with the efforts of the past three weeks. If Alf Cervi, Eggy and Mick 'who do I play for?' all turn up and train and play and if Goose can be prised away from his girl friend, this team could dribble into A grade.

Salvage Operation

When the Waltham Street hall was pulled down in 1979 Basil Cervi grabbed the basketball board and ring and installed it at Sacred Heart Primary School in Sandringham to give the kids at the school an opportunity to train and play.

Also the bench seats at the Waltham Street Memorial Hall were taken and reinstalled at the new Family Leisure Centre stadium in Tulip Street.

Sacred Heart (Sandy Saints)

Sacred Heart Club (renamed Sandy Saints in 1985) began in 1979 as the brain child of Carol McDonald by entering a Sabres holiday workshop for under 11 boys. Captained by Joe Margheriti, the team consisted of Julian and Nick McDonald, Tim Warren, Damian Wilson, Sam Murphy, Stefan Poulos, Matt Monaghan and all were playing in the under 18 domestic season just completed.

Faces of the 70s ...

“I've got a theory that if you give 100% all of the time, somehow things will work out in the end.”

Larry Bird

The 1980s

“It was more of a mateship thing. Really strong mateship. It must have been something special because we all have kept in contact with each other.”

Damien Larkins

“There were so few doing so much. They were a good group. They had the same goals and desires to make it better. We were always inhibited by the lack of courts and base level. Saturdays I still refereed most of the day. Always undermanned but we sort of got through.”

Terry Walsh

Brad Andrew

I remember seeing Terry Walsh as a mentor. We used to carry house bricks to training. Walshy asked everyone to bring house bricks to training as part of our weight-training program. We would jog laps with the bricks and do weights. Some bricks were comparatively lighter than the others.

Barry Cannell had bricks made up of balsa wood and they looked like bricks. Everybody tried to swap his bricks. Ben was pretty light-framed and we couldn't work out why he was outlasting every one else, but some one tried out his bricks and they were like Lego blocks.

Walshy coached from the start. He was strict, big on fitness - discipline. We used to watch him play footy and could see where he was coming from. He was a hard worker and demanded you don't miss training and when you are at training you perform at a certain level, and the intensity and commitment.

I remember going two hours at training and then sucking on a water bottle. Back then it was an absolute privilege. If you weakened and went down to get a drink of water you would be disciplined; do an extra lap. No water breaks for the rest of the session. It's very different now.

In the early 80's I remember pitching a tent at Sale Tournament and we got washed out. We had to bunk up with the University team at an old derelict hall with them. We came to play but they came to drink. Eventually we were converted to their way. We went to the dark side that weekend. Very little success on the court but lots of fun off the court.

In the 1989 A grade Warrnambool Tournament which was full of NBL players, Kent Lockhart and Roland Brooks put on a show and we got to the finals. However Mike McKay for Adelaide shot the lights out in one of those standout games.

The athleticism of Kent and Roland; they played above the rim. One player, Tommy Sawyer threw an alley oop pass from half way. Brooks just jumped out of his skin and made this play; standout athlete. He and Lockart worked beautifully in tandem.

In two seasons playing first division I rarely got on the court, but I had the best seat in town. I came on court as a back up.

I saw Lockhart shoot 62 points one cold night at Ballarat. Alan Westover, Ballarat coach, at the post match conference said, 'tonight's game was one of the best individual efforts, shooting 63 points for a losing team.' They believed it was something of a VBA record.

In the 1988 Season we won 26 and drew 2 before losing a semi final.

What stood out in those days was the unity of the players, under Chris Bennett's U/18A team. The guys were all Sandringham boys; Eadie, Adam, Strop, Lumpy, Harpers. We played the St Kildas who recruited Wayne Larkins (future NBL player) from Swan Hill and Melbourne had Dimmatina, Gaze, Purchase, Gordon. They were the Victorian state team. I remember getting within 20 points of Melbourne, playing at our very best and they were slightly off.

Those particular teams, the U/18s and U/20s, were a strong unit. They enjoyed sharing the ball and others getting their numbers. Wasn't too many egos.

The U/18A team had Lumpy, Eadie, Danny Maher, David Harper, Adam Russell. I think we just missed out on the finals; lost last five of six games. We made a huge statement and it went a long way for the U/20s to make the finals. I think Terry Walsh was the coach.

I remember we played Melbourne in the U/20s and Roscoe mucked up the game times and he was sitting on court one watching the women play. And we had started playing on court nine. He arrived at half time. The margin was only a few points. We always chipped him about how we travelled when he was not there. We got blown up in the second half while he was coaching.

Robert Lunardon? Got a phone call about Robert Lunardon. Died in Jacko's (Andrew Jackson's) arms. Jacko was coaching and subbed Robert out due to fatigue. Robert sat on the bench and collapsed. Obviously Robert was going to be a good player, just 17. The club missed him.

I also remember one of the mums driving the U/15 boys to a game. A scary driver, driving down Beach Road, did a wrong turn into oncoming traffic and had to duck across the plantation to get to the left hand side drive.

I also remember the changes in uniforms. Used to wear names on the back of the shirts. I remember wearing these flarey, yellow-blue track suit pants, with our names emblazoned across the back of our warm-up top. I always remember Stavropoulos and it was in 8-size font to get his name across.

Damien Larkins

It was more of a mateship thing. Really strong mateship. It must have been something special because we all have kept in contact with each other. The concept of taking kids away to tournaments, where they had a hope of winning, built character and you would get the experience of playing in front of a crowd. We started to end up with a fairly good team. We were the big kids from the city, so we had a bit of a reputation.

The other thing was the coaches. The dedication of people like Chris Bennett, Terry Walsh and to a lesser extent Michael Stepien. They spent so much time there. You look back at the dedication.

The small Memorial Hall; we couldn't outgrow that fast enough. It's your growing up years, when you were there right from the beginning, and it rapidly developed. It was people like Chris Bennett and the family, they used to drive us everywhere. We were out in the country as far as a lot of other clubs were concerned.

I remember dad refereed us in a game at Collingwood and Michael Stepien was coaching and we were a hack of a team, and came up against Collingwood. Dad was a big gun referee and it was quite important for us and it looked like we could make the finals and he fouled me off in about fifteen minutes. We got done and I didn't speak to him for a week. Michael was speechless, every time he looked at me he would say, 'your dad' and shake his head and walk away.

Dad was a big gun referee and it was quite important for us and it looked like we could make the finals and he fouled me off in about fifteen minutes. We got done and I didn't speak to him for a week.

The pep talks that Michael Stepien used to tell us before the game, I will never forget. In the change room at Albert Park and he would be revving us up 'we are going to kill them' and going to do this and that and we would listen and Johnny Harper would say 'we are playing basketball, not football', and he would say 'it doesn't matter, same principle'. And we would all end up with three or four fouls in the first few minutes.

In 1982 we were runners-up in the Eltham Tournament and it was blistering hot. Walshy coached; we played the Victorian Country team. I remember the warm up. One of the guys pulled the ring down and we moved everything to the second court and I don't think we recovered from that intimidation. Other players included Brad Andrew, Adam Russell, Damien Larkins, Paul Eadie, Steven Lunardon, Andrew Stavropoulos.

Most embarrassing moment of my whole basketball career happened at the Sale Tournament in the early 80's. I played in the A reserve section. It was a strong match and I never got a run until the game was completely lost. The last three minutes and I didn't want to come on and the whole crowd knew that I had not got a run and everyone was cheering for me and they wouldn't even guard me and I had a shot with 30 seconds to go and missed everything.

I finished rep basketball in 1985; cracked a vertebrae in my back.

Paul Eadie

I remember the Chelsea basketball tournament when I was playing in the U/18 team. Stroppa rolled his ankle. He went down and screamed that loud, 'I've broken my ankle' that the aerobics class going on in a room above the court stopped to see what was happening. Stroppa went to the bench and five minutes later he was on court playing again.

In a Ballarat Tournament, Basil Cervi organised a midnight training session. When we finished we were on our way back and Stroppa fell in a hole and was yelling 'I've fallen into a grave.'

Coaches I had were Michael Stepien, Ross Graham, Chris Bennett and Terry Walsh.

I started to coach in the late 1980's and we won the 1987/88 summer season third division women's title.

The low lights were the deaths of Roger Morris (early nineties) and Robert Lunardon. Their deaths brought every one closer together because it was like a death in a family. The greatest thing about the club? It was like a mini family. It made me into a good person and I made fifty to sixty friends. It also kept everyone fit and healthy.

The greatest thing about the club? It was like a mini family. It made me into a good person and I made fifty to sixty friends.

Michael Stepien

I remember the 1981 Swan Hill Tournament held over New Year's Eve. We stayed at a football oval, about two hundred tents everywhere. One of the players got drunk, sitting in the grandstand and some kids were having a go at him. He was yelling out 'Spick.' All of a sudden, there was a chorus around the ground 'is there a Spick in the house?'

All of a sudden, there was a chorus around the ground 'is there a Spick in the house?'

In the same tournament Ross Graham did his ankle pretty bad. He went to the Swan Hill hospital. After the game we went to see him and the police were there and said, 'you can't come in.' We found out later why we couldn't come in. A man in the next room, blind drunk, punched out one of the doctors and had an oxygen cylinder and was going to throw it and smash it and blow the place up. Roscoe thought it was funny.

In the Sale Tournament around 1982/83 we got washed out. We were staying at Strafford Caravan Park, 18 to 20 kms out of Sale. It poured with rain and the caravan park was under water. Stadium was leaking. I coached the women's team in the grand final because Terry Walsh had to play the with men's team in their grand final. The men won the grand final.

The women were up by 6 to 8 points, lost by 4 to 6 points. Players in that team included Tracy Aitken, Louise Graham, Tracey Stephens, (Tess Ryan?).

In 1984 I coached the girls' team. I got the sack. Players were Caylene Carmody, Simone Lang, Cathy Mulday, Angela and Stephany, Ketian Fischer, Nadia. The same year we won the Coburg U/14B girls tournament.

In 1986/87 I coached second and fourth division women's teams. Fourth division finished on top, lost 2 games out of 20 and then lost both semi finals to Scoresby by 8 points and maybe Port Colts. In that season we won ten in a row.

In 1987 I was referee supervisor. Other supervisors in the 80's included Andrew Moloney, Carol Stroud, Andrew Stavropoulos, Justin Stainforth.

I remember Craig Leith refereed twelve games in a row at Beaumaris High School, domestic junior competition. I went there around 5.00-6.00pm to see him and he was standing in the middle of the court just rotating, he was that tired. He started refereeing about 8.30am and finished around 5.00-6.00pm. He looked like a zombie.

Adam Russell

In 1984 our U/20A team made the finals and it was the furthest any Sandy team had gone. We lost to Melbourne who had Andrew Gaze, Ray Gordon, Dimmatina playing and lost to Bulleen in the finals. Darren Perry and Darren Lucas played in the Bulleen team and they went on to play NBL.

The fun times were the tournaments because there was no training to start with. We went to heaps. In 1981 we won the U/18 section of the Swan Hill tournament. In 1983 we played Broadmeadows in the finals of the Ballarat Tournament. There was a bit of a punch up with Danny Maher and one of their players.

Terry Walsh was a very valuable asset back then. You don't realise it now. He was a hard coach. It was his way or no way.

I remember the unity you had with everybody. I have never seen it anywhere else I've been. Everybody stuck together and still hang around with each other. Unity was the key in the 80's. Overall atmosphere that went on at tournaments, the commitment every one had to the sport and the social functions afterwards. The personalities were well suited to each other.

I remember the unity you had with everybody. I have never seen it anywhere else I've been.

Andrew Stavropoulos

I remember playing in the U/17A representative side coached by Chris Bennett in 1981. We played Melbourne Tigers and kept with them for most of the way. The final scores were 60-80. They had Andrew Gaze, Ray Gordon, Dimmatina, Purchase, Ian Rouse and his brother.

Six of the team were in the State side. The second time we played them was at Chelsea and I remember twisting my ankle screaming the whole stadium down. We did extremely well. I think they hadn't lost a game since U/12s and didn't lose a game even when they finished in U/20s.

We played in the Melbourne Classic in the early 80s, I think Terry Walsh was coaching, and lost the quarterfinal to Country Victoria by 1 point and at one stage we were 20 points up. A few of us got into foul trouble and fouled out.

I also remember melting my uniform. I put it next to a heater and it dried too well.

In our first game for the 1989 winter first division season, we played Melbourne Tigers who had Andrew Gaze, David Simmons, Warrick Giddy and David Colbert. It was action packed. We had Kent Lockhart and Roland Brooks. That season gave us a good grounding for the second group such as Stuart Lewin, Paul Cervi, Brad Andrew and myself.

I also remember melting my uniform. I put it next to a heater and it dried too well.

The atmosphere and culture was fantastic. We had a lot of support. Trevor Barker couldn't do enough to help us. A very happy camp.

Tracy Aitkens

I started playing in 1980 at primary school. I filled in for my sister. It was a domestic team, OMEGA St Catherine. Terry Walsh asked my mum if I could play.

I remember Donna Mitchell, Narelle McGaw, Amanda Collins and Bridgette Stuart playing in the U/13 team in 1980. It was my first season in a final and we played Knox on court nine at the Albert Park stadium. I fouled out and nearly had a heart attack. I was devastated.

I was a member of the team that won the women's summer third division title in 1987/88. I also made the U/16 state training squad in 1983. Shelly Gorman played. I was the last person to be kicked out. Maris Polis was coaching.

In 1983 we played in the Melbourne Classic and ended up fifth.

I remember Michael Burke hit the winning shot in a semi final in 1988. Burke hit this shot in off the corner backboard and the whole stadium erupted, two seconds to go, the shot of the century, the whole place went berserk. The team, third division side, ended up playing in the grand final at the Entertainment Centre and lost. The whole place was choc-a-bloc of all us to watch the final because the Sandy boys were in the team.

In those days we were wholly and solely committed to basketball. We had the love of the sport, Tuesday to Sunday. Had a lot of passion and competitive edge, played with our friends.

When we were growing up we were taught to respect and give one hundred percent. The friendship was huge and we always wanted to be down there.

The guys would come down early to watch the girls play and the girls would hang around and watch the guys play. Even at Albert Park. You never saw that ten years down the track.

They were the best years of my life. My basketball friends are still my closest and dearest friends. We are inseparable.

They were the best years of my life. My basketball friends are still my closest and dearest friends. We are inseparable.

Tracey Stephens

I remember playing at Coburg, our first tournament, got into the finals, Terry Walsh was coaching the U/14 team. I remember getting the flag.

Enjoyed the tournaments, the championship games were too much hard work, training 2-3 times and playing twice a week. Terry Walsh was our coach.

I remember running into a brick wall and nearly breaking my nose, at Reservoir, during a championship game as a junior.

Tournaments were fun. It was good to have the support of our team, being in the same group, getting into mischief, joking around. All the different characters coming together in the one group. Really good fun. Very close.

I remember running into a brick wall and nearly breaking my nose at Reservoir, during a championship game as a junior. A girl had a fast break and went for a lay up. I went to block her and the wall was too close and I couldn't stop. I tended to run full pace and without thinking of the consequences. I like to take charges.

Gaele Fischer

The day time women's competition got a committee and we ran the competition slightly different because of the young children. The children would get sick and mothers had to look after them. If the mums could not attend then there would be no walkover providing they told us beforehand. It was family orientated.

We used to socialise twice a season. We become quite financial and with the money made we would have dinners, which every team went to and the committee would pay for half of the meal.

We donated trophies for the juniors; to those juniors least likely to get anything; an encouragement award; hardest trier award. Did it for the younger teams.

We ran ourselves very efficiently financially and had meetings once a month, and every team had to have two reps or there was a fine.

Some funny things happened during the games. Girls would run onto the court, rip their track suits off and they had forgotten their shorts or singlets. I remember flattening John Thompson, our referee, once while I was running backwards.

Most of our grand finals, other teams would come and watch. It was very close and friendly.

Most of our comp worked around the school holidays. We had three competitions then tried two competitions.

Referees I remember were Michael Burke, Ann Vaughan, Carmel Fletcher, Craig Leith and occasionally Stuart Lewin, Lumpy, Strop, Craig White. A lot of the referees found it boring because there was a lot of old women moving around.

When Carmel Fletcher succumbed to cancer we had a memorial service for her on the court. I was the President of our group. We didn't play that day; all the teams turned up. We set up a little shrine, appropriate music was played, chairs were on the court. I got Mark Mitchell and Carmen, the Mayor of Sandringham (because she played for us for a while), to say a few words. Carmel's husband and her two boys were there. Carmel did a lot of work for the club.

I remember Ketiah, our six or seven year old, used to nag Terry Walsh for three months solid wanting to play. One day he came up to me and he said, 'I'm sick of your daughter so I've put in a U/9 side. Now get ten players and get them down to training in three weeks. I've had enough. Now they are your girls, you have to get out there and coach your daughter and them.'

In 1989 I helped June Hamill as a caller for the statistician when the boys were in first division. And I travelled everywhere with the women as their statistician.

In the Country Invitation Victorian Basketball League we travelled around the countryside - Swan Hill, Dromana, Heyfield, Albury - eating McDonald's breakfasts, which we hated. Rob, my husband, used to come home cross-eyed from videoing everything and I would end up with writer's cramp. I was the Grandma of the team.

We donated trophies for the juniors, to those juniors least likely to get anything, an encouragement award, hardest trier award. Did it for the younger teams.

Bruce Mitchell

I remember the senior Sabres team winning the 1988/89 VBA first division title against Dandenong. They then went on to challenge for the winter season and won all three challenge games.

In the 1989 winter season, the senior Sabres team became the first team in the history of the Victorian Basketball Association to make the finals in its inaugural year. They made the semi final and lost to Bulleen. We had the home court advantage but the coaches and players decided they would rather play at the Albert Park stadium.

It was a roller coaster ride with imports Kent Lockhart and Roland Brooks, and young junior players Michael Sawyer, Paul Cervi, Michael Burke, Andrew Stavropoulos and many others were playing really great basketball. The core of the team were the local players.

During that time the feeling around the club, the morale and atmosphere, was very buoyant though all levels of the club. A top winning team filtered down and a lot more juniors started playing basketball. The place was packed out.

I also was editing the Cheltenham Panthers newsletter and volunteered to edit the Sabres club newsletter in 1987. I typed it out and distributed about two hundred to two hundred and fifty newsletters per week. In the last few years of editing the newsletter, June Hamill was the main person helping out.

A top winning team filtered down and a lot more juniors started playing basketball. The place was packed out.

And I reported for the Bayside Times, which came about because of my involvement in editing the club newsletter.

Paul Larkins

In the early 80s the Richmond Football Club, which had won a premiership, played in the domestic competition. Mick Malthouse brought out Roach, Mark Lee, Jimmy Jess in the summer and said to me, 'can you make sure you do their games. I want you to foul and make them use their bodies and jump.' I think they won the A grade grand final that year. When I was refereeing they got upset. Roachy was taking screaming marks and Kershaw would do a tackle. They were pretty rugged.

I remember the BBQs around the lakeside at Sandringham were great. Every year we would have presentations and get a big turn up with over a hundred people.

During the 80s we had an Australian badge who refereed our senior men A grade competition. We had a good panel of referees.

I spent a lot of time refereeing on Saturday mornings with the juniors, training the parents rather than the players. It was more important to allow the kids a four-step travel and to keep the game rolling to allow the kids the opportunity to score. A mature person like myself could do that and get away with it and then explain to the parents afterwards.

It was more important to allow the kids a four-step travel and to keep the game rolling to allow the kids the opportunity to score.

I spent over ten years at Sandringham and had to sever my involvement because of work and health reasons.

Basil Cervi and myself were coaching the younger boys. After Chris Bennett left the senior group, I coached all the way through for years and years. It took the mens' side thirteen years to get to first division. There were many ups and downs. We won third division and got into second division. About 1985/86 we were promoted to second division. The first year we were pretty good but then we came up against teams like Bulleen and Melbourne. Players like Andrew Gaze played which made it pretty hard for us to get up.

We recruited players like Bernie Maher, Mark Harveson, Stuart Lewin. And we had players like the Stroppas, Cervis and Eadies. The majority of these players played during the seventies.

Paul Meehan coached the seniors for a year or two. I went off and coached the Eltham women's side for a year.

Sunday morning trainings used to be good. Blokes would be on the drink on Saturday night and someone like Ding would lob his guts out. Most Sunday mornings there used to be a queue to the toilets.

We changed the logo and colours of the uniform. I said to Basil Cervi we have to get a new logo, because the Zebra wasn't working, it had no affiliation with basketball whatsoever. So I went through all the animals in NCAA coaching journals and I saw the name Sabres. I thought Sandringham Sabres would do.

I remember Stroppa's first training session. He was pushing the ball up against the backboard and had to go to the end of the line. In this drill you had to jump off the ground, catch the ball in the air and throw it back up against the backboard. Strop threw it straight over the board. It was no use having a training session after that because everybody was laughing their heads off.

I also remember Bridgette Stewart who threw this two pointer, a long bomb, to win the U/14 girls premiership.

One of the mums used to drive the juniors to games and the kids were lucky to get there. She had no idea how to drive. She couldn't see.

In the early 80s I used to drive the Fawkner kids to training at Sandringham. I was a teacher at Fawkner High and got Nevio Marinelli, Craig Weir, Chook, Bruno D'Agostino to play for our junior rep sides. That experiment cost me a million miles. Craig Weir's mum told me once that 'I am glad you are taking him to basketball or else he would end up in jail.'

In the early 80's I used to drive the Fawkner kids to training at Sandringham.

There were so few doing so much. They were a good group. They had the same goals and desires to make it better. We were always inhibited by the lack of courts and base level. Saturdays I still refereed most of the day. Always undermanned but we sort of got through.

The significant events of the 80's were;

- Making the men's state league after 13 years
- The women making second division
- The progression of all the boys through to the U/20s

Ross Graham

We certainly had great times at tournaments. We used to go to Sale and were washed out one year and slept in a school or Memorial Hall in the middle of nowhere, 5 basketball teams. We used to camp at Strafford Avon.

One Swan Hill Tournament in the early 80s was unbelievable. It was 52 degrees.

In one game a guy charged into me and landed on me and split my eye open. My head hit the floor, a pool of blood. Walshy turned me over and said, 'get up ya sook' and he nearly fainted. In the end they got me off the court. Fran O'Connor butterfly-clipped my eye.

Later on I came on again and I was in the middle of the court, jumped to pass the ball and landed on a guy's foot and I broke my ankle; tore ligaments off the bone.

We used to go to tournaments to have fun, not to win. They used to have all those mercenary teams. You'd never win them. The studs used to come away for the weekend, win the prize money and then drink it.

I designed the Sabres logo (an upright sabre tooth tiger about to throw a basketball) and Paul Meehan designed the next Sabres logo (a sabre tooth tiger with a striped background).

In the 1988 winter season, the second division men went through the season undefeated and got beaten in the semi final in over time by Blackburn. All our stars fouled out. Tom Sawyer got a bad call on offense and lost possession and they beat us by 1 point.

It was pretty heartbreaking because we had our goal set at the start of the year to make division one.

We ended up being given the opportunity to challenge for division one by the division one committee; we went through an appeal. We played a round robin series. There were four teams involved and one team was going to miss out. The three bottom teams in Division one and us.

We had at that time Dana Parney and Shaun McShane, two Americans. We went through the challenge series and beat all three teams. During the last game, 90 seconds to go and the game didn't mean anything because we were winning and already knew we were in division one, Shane McShane popped his knee; tore his anterior cruciate. It was sad to have such a devastating finish when this import player that helped you get there to division one smashed his knee up and that was it.

The 1988/89, first division summer season, we had Kent Lockhart and Roland Brooks come into the side at the end of that season. Shaun McShane went home after he did his knee and Dana went home after Christmas.

I recruited Brooks on a feeling because he was an outstanding NBL athlete. He was in Perth playing state league, dumped by Jay Brehmer, coach of Perth.

I was so impressed by him as an athlete. I had negative feedback but I spoke to him and he was sensational person for us. He said when he got here 'I am not going to drink or misbehave and I am going to prove a lot of people wrong.' And he did. He only caused us one bit of grief in the whole time he was here. He fouled out in one game and sat on the court and wouldn't shift in a VBL or division one game played at Tulip Street. We ended up having to talk him to come off. It was for about 2 to 3 minutes.

He did the best slam dunk I have ever seen in my life. Tommy Sawyer attempted a 3 point shot low on the 45 and it hit on the back of the ring and Roland was on the other wing ready to alley oop it, but it bounced over the top of his head and he leaned back laterally and dunked it. He was head and shoulders above the ring.

Kent Lockhart? I was at a championship meeting and a few video tapes came in. We went over to Lindsay Gaze's home to watch the videos. One tape had Lockhart, from the University of Texas El Paso, playing in the conference playoffs in NCCA division one. Lockhart spotted up against the stud who got 7 points for the game and he was a 20 point plus player.

He not only was a defensive stopper but he was creating opportunities for his teammates and he turned the game around. He got 3 points and 6 rebounds.

The others in the room said no, he's not what we want. I was out of there and within 5 minutes I was on the phone, talking to him over in America because I had seen what he could do for a program. I spoke to Kent and his mum and got him out here and he's still here. We got champagne for beer prices with Lockhart and Brooks.

I was out of there and within 5 minutes I was on the phone, talking to him over in America because I had seen what he could do for a program. I spoke to Kent and his Mum and got him out here and he's still here. We got champagne for beer prices with Lockhart and Brooks.

To give you an example of Kent's commitment, he used to get up every morning and walk to the Stadium, shoot around, work out, go home to eat, go back to the gym, shoot out, work out, go home and eat and then go and play.

In the early 80s we started to negotiate with Sandringham Council to build more courts but they didn't want to know. Then we went to Moorabbin Council for a three or four court facility in Moorabbin.

While we got into Tulip Street we were still using four high schools; Beaumaris, Hampton, Highett, Parkdale. We had all the evidence to justify four additional facilities; we just had to get people to build them.

In those days the boundaries between councils was like the wall of China. You did not service the community from another environment. That was one of the biggest hang ups all the way through. 'Why should we build a facility when it's used by 40% of rate payers outside of our municipality?'

That went on and on and on for several years. We had two proposals going on at the same time. We had 4 courts with Sandringham and 4 courts with Moorabbin. It was a stand off, each waiting for the other to decide.

We had the Moorabbin Council wanting to build it at the swimming complex in Chesterfield Road, then Sir William Fry Reserve, which was perfect but was rezoned for passive recreation, which meant you couldn't play indoor sports and therefore you couldn't build a building.

Then we started to look at land near the pool in East Boundary Road.

Then we started to come back to Sandringham and started to nurture them and in 1985 there was a letter from the council from the town clerk confirming they would support our application and lodge an application to the State Government for a grant as long as we would get guarantees for the loan, for the balance of $180,000.

Then we got a letter from the State government saying of the fourteen major projects you are not one of them.

Steven Lunardon

In 1981 the U/16A team played in the semi final at Collingwood. Players included John and David Harper, Damien Larkins, Steve Petrecivic, Daniel Egan and myself. I also made the U16 state team and we beat SA Metro in the final, double overtime, in Swan Hill.

I made the U/18 state squad's in 1982 and 1983 - the U/20 state squad's in 1984 and 1985 - (awarded) a scholarship at AIS in 1985 - Rookie of the Year for NBL Nunawading team in 1986 and played with them until 1991.

Chris Bennett

The early eighties was a great era in the club's history. In 1980 we had just completed one year in the new stadium. During the time I was at the club, from 1980-84, we exploded onto the basketball scene collecting 12 premierships in junior and senior ranks. In the B grade championships competition the boys won three titles, the girls one title. The men won their first premiership in third division. In tournaments the boys won 6 titles, the girls 1 title, the men 1 title. Terry Walsh coached an incredible 9 premiership teams, Chris Bennett 2, Ross Graham 2, and Paul Lafontaine 1 (Paul was part of our first rep team to win a Victorian championship premiership, U/14B, in 1976).

Not bad for a small basketball association.

During that time I coached the U/17A, U/18A boys rep teams for several seasons, third division men (one season), U/18A girls rep team (one season) and the women's team (one season).

The U/18A girls I coached were one of the top sides of the club; not in wins but in determination. With only five players they put in exceptional performances consistently. I inherited the team from Terry Walsh who had coached them from the beginning.

I remember those U/17 and U/18 boys' teams vividly. Every game we played felt like a grand final. We did extremely well and were probably the best team outside the four. The top four were the usual suspects. The Nunawadings, Bulleens, Melbourne etc.

I remember those U/17 and U/18 boy's teams vividly. Every game we played felt like a grand final.

One year we almost made the winter finals. Until Lumpy came along we had no height and no shooters. But we probably had the one of the best defensive teams in the competition. That defensive intensity won us many games and respect.

Around 1982/83 we were asked to play the Australian women's team in a practice game on court one at Albert Park. We were selected because we had height (one of the few times) in Steve Lunardon and Andrew Stavropoulos. I think we beat them by 20 points.

We also entered the U/18A boys, U/20A boys and U/18A girls' rep teams into the senior A grade domestic competitions at Sandringham. This helped our preparation for championships.

I remember the Coburg Tournament in 1981. Our U/18A boys and U/14B girls won premierships.

In the boys' section we faced the powerful Bulleen rep team who we had never beaten before. They beat us in the early rounds. Then we played them in the grand final. We played two overtimes and they eventually fouled out with only three players left on the court. One of their players, David Graham, eventually played in the National Basketball League with Coburg.

In 1984 I had another break away from Sandringham and coached the Kilsyth U/18A girls team. Then I stopped coaching and got a life! I made two comebacks coaching basketball. One in 1987 when I coached my nephew's team, Olinda Bush Rangers, in the U/8 Knox domestic competition. And one in 1989, coaching the Sandringham U/14A boys' side which had David Patrick, now playing for the Canberra Cannons.

Fifteen years of coaching. Was it worth it? Yes.

Bentleigh-Hampton

This club formed in 1980 and was originally named JAWS II. It adopted the name Eagles about one year later. The core of the starting teams came from Immaculate Heart of Mary School in Bluff Road.

The first coaches were Heather McGrath and Terry Walsh. Original team members were; Mark Molino, Bernard Wilkinson, Silvio Provenjac, Sam Lentini, David McCallum, Nigel Tingh, Paul Morrissey and Stuart Lewin. The singlets were bought at Coles and the numbers were ironed on.

The boys would meet at the milk bar near the school and would be ferried to Lifestyle. The first 'Pie Night' was held at the Immaculate Heart Hall in 1982.

Terry Walsh trained the first team at Hampton High and kept a watchful eye over the growing club. The Eagles were the first team to have a cheer squad and introduced banners to the finals at Lifestyle.

The Club won its first premiership in 1983. Three of the original team soon took on coaching roles, which enabled the Eagles to continue. Stuart Lewin introduced the weekly newsletter, which ran for some months.

Shepparton Tournament

Terry Walsh, school teacher at Fawkner High, received permission to use the school bus to take the teams to Shepparton. 18 players were packed in with the gear, with Basil Cervi driving the bus and Terry driving his car.

As the bus left the school, Basil discovered the clutch was slipping and was told that 'we should be okay as it has been like that for two months.'

On the way home the bus breaks down just past Nagambie.

Everybody got out and walked to a nearby wheat farm for help. They noticed a few possums on the roof of the farmhouse. They arranged to be picked up, lock the bus and eventually arrived home 9.30pm that night.

Individual Achievements

Neville Crisp served three years on the executive committee (Secretary/Treasurer: 1977-78, Treasurer: 1978-1979, Vice President: 1979-1980). Note: he may have served two more years as Vice President, 1980-1982.

Steve Lunardon

Sandringham basketballer Steve Lunardon represented Victoria at the recent Australian under 16 championships and played a big part in his state winning the title for the fifth year in a row.

He shot more than 80 points for the tournament and won a man of the match award in one of the semi-finals.

After convincingly defeating the other four teams in the group, Victoria met South Australia in the grand final.

As the buzzer for full time rang the scoreboard showed a draw at 66 points each.

Five extra minutes were played but the teams could not be separated and were locked in 73 points all as the buzzer rang again.

A second period of time began and the Victorians began to show the form that won them the championship for the past four years.

As the buzzer went signaling the third end of the final, Victoria was ahead 81 to 76, holding out a determined South Australia who had the last possession of the ball.

Raw Prawn Awards

Bullwinkle

There were a lot of nominations for this award but none featured better than Steve 'Bullwinkle' Wright. Steve has tremendous leaping ability (all 3 rebounds) combined with tough aggressive defence (1 Foul) and uncanny accuracy from one foot out (3 inside shots missed and none of three foul shots. What more can I say, except, I leave him to you Spick (Chris Bennett).

Blank Page

Louise Graham for her forgetfulness and conscientious effort (lost newsletter).

Ding, Franko and Theresa

Three people win this weeks' award. Ding, Franko and Theresa Ryan. Ding and Franko who have consistently given the ball away to the opposition and its about time their efforts are rewarded. Grizzly hopes to invent a magnetic ball for them. Theresa gets a mention this week for out shooting Steve Wright. As we all know Bullwinkle is so accurate inside ????? Theresa improved upon this, she had 4 inside shots unpressured and still missed. There is hope yet Steve.

Wrong Ryan

Theresa Ryan took a magnificent rebound and shot 2 points. For the opposition????

Eye Bennett

This week award goes to an outstanding effort. The story goes that 'Spick' Bennett after Friday night's game had to take two U/18 boys home.

So they walk towards what they think is his car. 'Spick' is about to put the key in the lock and Eddie remarks 'this isn't your car supercoach'. Spick replies 'of course it is. I just washed it!' The key opens the door. 'Spick gets in, sits down and sees a 'spic'n'span car and immediately realises it is not really his. For this effort, Spick gets an appointment to the Eye doctor.

Enzo

This week's award goes to Enzo for showing great interest in his game. In fact he was sitting on the bench reading the newsletter during play. Very keen Brendan!

Spider

This week's award goes to Spider Attard. Spider was thinking too quick for the opposition and officials by taking her own initiative and introducing her own rules, that as umpire hands you the ball at the side line, you can dribble straight onto the court. No pass required.

Roscoe's U/12's

This week's award goes without a doubt to Roscoe's U/12 boys. After a reasonably good effort on Friday night they all decided there was no need to train on Monday. How wrong they were. Terry Walsh was there with all his mates! No one.

The Whiz Kids

It couldn't last. The nominations came in thick and fast this week.

Weird and Oranga arrived at Albert Park at 9.05pm to play a 9.10pm game at Bulleen, needless to say when they arrived at Bulleen at half time, Spick Bennett was NOT HAPPY.

After an unusually safe trip in Franko's mum car the U/18B's forgot to tell Prahran they were supposed to play.

Snoz Cervi's memory bank failed again. He forgot to bring a uniform in for Craig to play in!

After due consideration and much contemplation (half a minute) the coveted award goes to the whiz kids from Fawkner. Well done.

Grizzly

This week's award goes to Grizzly Walsh for his great training techniques. Eight out of nine teams lost last weekend. The control he has over the senior team is devastating. Just to top of a real good week he has scored two technical fouls in three days. He should learn not to DISCUSS rules with officials.

Eadie's Tech

P. Eadie and the Sandringham Senior Men's Team.

This week's raw prawn was in the balance UNTIL a young chap named Eadie received a Tech foul, which jogged the memories of the editors back to the week before. After trying to recarpet Grizzly's car with fresh pizza.

Take Your Pick

Eddies, Sawyers and Roscoes Tech foul.

Ding's teamwork and passing for the opposition.

Eddies super boot.

Ref's Offside

Spick Bennett: AWOL for 2 weeks.

Spindles and Franko's tech foul.

U/17B umpires.

As a result of this week's debacle in the U/17B's, the referees have won this ward easily, after kicking the ball to the opposition who proceeded to do an easy lay-up to tie the score, after the final bell.

Full House

Franko (where's your shorts) Russo.

Strop (super shot) Stavropoulos.

Michelle Moss - for only foul in the game.

Eddies accurate jump shots (5% for 2 points).

Another Full House

Tech fouls - Tracey Stephens, Paul Eadie, Roscoe (2) under provocation.

Scott Fischer to learn what a pass is.

Frankston U/17C to get a proper side instead of playing 14 year olds.

All teams foul shooting 20/54.

Crowded House

U/15 girls 2/18 foul shots.

Dandenong U/13 girls - to play on right court against the right opposition next time.

Strop's giving himself concussion when he landed on his backside.

Cozzo's finally making double figures on Tuesday after heaps of shots.

Albert Park for making our U/19's turn up at 10.00pm then telling them to go home.

Top Three

Simon 'unco' Dellar.

U/13B referees for fouling little lumpy off when he only had 3 fouls.

U/13 girl's referees for turning up 40 minutes late.

Disaster

This goes to a player who obtained a tech foul in the last seconds of a game when we were 1 point down. The game ended in a draw. Well done, Craig!!

More Headaches

Sawyer's Tech foul.

3rd Division Men.

Paul Cervi - sleeping in until 8.45 pm and also for his offense. Spick gave specific instructions to play the one four offense. So Paul using his own initiative instigated the 0 offense. Result. TOTAL CHAOS.

Lucky Seven

C. Bakers tech foul (again).

U/17B - consistent high scoring.

U/19 referees and opposition.

U/19's.

U/20's Tuesday night team effort of Tech fouls, five.

Mr. Ryan for making too many runs at cricket on Saturday and arriving late after game time.

U/17A against 4 players (disgusting).

Dyslexic

Spick Stepien for his dyslexic behaviour.

David Golding for being at the wrong place at the wrong time according to Spick.

Franko for his Moses Malone hook shot.

Nth Districts girls for shooting too well.

U/17B referee for accepting Spick's behaviour.

This week's award goes to Spick Stepien for the second time in 3 weeks for his big statement 'get Golding off' when poor David was already sitting on the bench beside him.

Confucius

Confucius (Chris Bennett) is still waiting for the U/18 girls to listen carefully. On Saturday, out of 78 shots, 14 went in. What more can I say? Also Strop rates another mention. He lost his uniform. What can I do?

ROScool

Roscoe (Ross Graham) receives this award because of the cool nature under pressure. Actually he got a technical foul in the closing stages of the game. Strop was so upset Grizzly had to put him his place. The bench.

Tips of the Week

Bullwinkle to bounce back and Baretta to make another comeback.

All the U/18A's to wear their Coburg champion windcheaters to Albert Park.

Super ref to get a lay up in. Daryle to get home early. 'Toaster' to get newsletter of first print this week.

Roscoe to lose again and Dazzling Daryl to bring a baby bottle for Dean.

U/20's to learn what 'win' means. Grizzly to give a smile of satisfaction (for a change).

Craig and Nevio to pick the right venue. U/20A to regain top form. U/14B girls to surprise Grizzly by successfully running his zone press.

U/18A to get back on the winning trail. Franco to be a consistent 'layer-upper.' Arnie to learn to spell 'fowl.'

Some good referees at Bulleen. Franco's and Strop's parents to get the U/18 team there safely.

U/20 must win this game Snoz to find his singlet Roscoe to bring the U/18B back to winning form.

U/12 boys to train on Monday. U/18B - Kensington not to front. Yank Arnolda to organise warm up and singlets for U/14's.

All teams to make finals at Dandenong tournament. Roscoe to coach at closer locations (thanks to Grizzly's Melway). Grizzly to tone up his muscles.

Dandenong Association to supply heaters. Lumpy junior and Zoran to find shooting skills from point blank. Nunawading U/18B to turn up to play this time.

U/17A to score foul shots Simon to co-ordinate his body and brain. Damian O'Shannessy may find his player by Friday (not another Enzo).

Dandenong Junior Tournament

The tournament's highlight was the brilliant scientific mind of a couple of Dandenong referees. In the U/14 girl's game one said, just before commencing the game. 'watch out for the condensation from the roof.' Now Sandy players even up to U/20s would have difficulty in understanding this. Grizzly thought a more appropriate comment would be, 'watch out for the water on the floor or you'll break your neck.'

Human Headlight

Brad Andrews' debut in the U/17A's; an amazing drive between two defensive players standing shoulder to shoulder to score 2 points.

A Fairy Tale

Once upon a time in a far far away land called Sandrivania there lived a King who was very troubled. The young peasants in his kingdom were restless and he needed to find a way to make them happy.

So the King summoned his brain trusts to find the answer before the problem became serious.

They got together and thought of a brilliant idea. Why not start up a basketball club, where the young peasants could be kept occupied and taught the value of good manners and handling responsibilities.

They told the King of their idea and he was happy, as he had been a keen sportsman in his younger days; U/18 champion spear chucker!

The next day the King issued a proclamation to his subjects and announced the creation of the Sandrivanian Amateur Basketball Club.

Anyway to cut a long story short, the club made tremendous progress over the next seven years. Their efforts were commendable when compared to the larger kingdoms who had more gold, power and peasants.

One day the coach asked to see the king about some problems he had encountered. He was pretty well cheesed off and he needed some advice.

The boys from the brain trusts department were called in to help the coach. After many hours of discussion they got their act together and with the King's approval issued the following rules:

'Peasants that failed to attend training or games and do not contact their coach would be strung up by the thumbs.' They agreed that this would be fair, because it was basic manners and besides it might improve their abilities.

'Peasants who miss training or games without an acceptable excuse would be nailed to the draw bridge.' A necessary penalty as some of the excuses given like 'my dog was lonely' or 'it was too hot' were boring.

'Peasants who roll in late for training due to laziness would be sent to the dungeon for a session with the rack.' It was felt that if this did not cure the sickies then at least the club would have extra postmen.

The rules were published and the offending peasants 'saw the light' and were suddenly converted to a new way of life. Selfish and irresponsible slackers were changed into good little workers who started to appreciate and fully support the club.

Coburg Tournament

U/14 Boys

Baretta's magic return didn't last too long. He coached 3 games and lost, but to be fair to the boys they played against sides a lot bigger. Under the circumstances a creditable effort.

U/16 Boys

Undermanned, Sandy fought hard through out the weekend in a very strong A grade competition.

U/18 (1) Boys

After being beaten by Bulleen in one of the preliminary games, Sandy after 2 extra periods finally beat Bulleen 53-46 in the Grand Final (revenge at last, Spick says). Throughout the weekend the U/18's showed a persistence, which eventually paid dividends. The Association salutes you.

U/18 (2) Boys

The 2nd U/18 side performed very well indeed, playing in a tough comp, their standard of play improved each game. With this potential Sandy can look forward to a good future in A grade.

U/18A Sabres boy's stats, Coburg Junior Tournament, 1981

U/20 Boys

Playing in a section with two top A grade sides the U/20's finished with one win out of three.

U/16 Girls

Played with a limited number of girls and fought hard against all odds. Christine, Sandra, Joanne, Theresa, Robin and Cathy should be commended for their efforts.

Overall a highly successful tournament.

Your Friendly Coach - Grizzly

Players Of The Week

Donna Mitchell for an outstanding game with the U/14 girls.

Martin Bride provided the only highlight this week, with a strong rebounding game against Melbourne.

Steven 'Lumpy' Lunardon made 4 critical foul shots in the second half of the U/18A game. For this super human effort, considering he is only one who listens to 'Confucius', he receives a pair of converse basketball socks.

Malcolm 'spring heeled' Howe wins this week's award. Playing aggressively Mal led our U/18B grade to a victory. Well done.

Michael Sawyer (Super ref) played the game of his life against Dandenong and he made sure every one knew. He scored 18 points. Well done. Even Spick was pleased.

Christine Aitken played a fine lone handed game against Frankston.

Narelle McGaw played a very good defensive game and good team player effort.

Simon Dellar and Zoran Vladic. Simon Dellar in the U/20's for a strong and aggressive game. He even learnt what it is like to score points. And the second pair of socks goes to Zoran Vladic for an excellent effort in the U/12's record victory.

Chris Simondson for his level of consistency over the past few weeks.

Paul Cervi. After the previous two weeks full of mistakes has finally done something right. He played a reasonably strong game (for a change) against Templestowe.

Tracy Aitken who, apart from missing a couple of easy lay-ups, led the U/14B to a good win over the top side with an aggressive and promising performance.

Scott Fischer, a player who sparked a comeback when his team was down by showing good control, good teamwork and above all successful shooting. Congratulations go to Scott Fischer.

Theresa Ryan, Player of the Dandenong Tournament. Against stiff opposition throughout the tournament, the U/16 girls performed extraordinary well.

Brett Lloyd for a hard trying and determined effort.

Andrew Stavropoulos who has played two extremely good games.

S. Kostarakis played her first game for Sandy. It was a great effort.

Paul Eadie for an outstanding effort of accurate shooting and aggressive defense.

Kim Reid (U/13) and Kim Underwood (U/15) for consistence and constant improvement over the past few weeks.

U/18 boys' and U/20 boys' representative teams play in the Sandringham domestic A grade men's competition.

Quite an eventful performance. Down 10 pts with 5 minutes to go in 1st half, the team realised a game was on and worked hard to get one point up. Second half was nerve racking. After leading by 10 points in this half, the brain rusts hung on to win by two points. Special mention to Spider and Robyn for their honest effort.

Awards

Mike the Magician

This week's award goes to Mike Phillips for outstanding anticipation in his refereeing decisions. His calls are made even before the players have had time to think about making the mistakes. Isn't that right Bubbles!

Unbelievable

Strop is in this week's award. He was really looking forward to going to the disco downstairs after his game at Chelsea. But alas, his ankle let him down. Solution: He sat on the court and wailed at the top of his voice. Finale: After this agonising performance, because of his 'broken ankle', he stood up and walked calmly back to the players bench. Unbelievable.

Another Handful

Mark Mitchell - bouncing the medicine ball on a lay up.

Chris Bennett - for his Sunday training programme for U/18A.

U/12 Girls - failing to notify Terry they couldn't play.

This week's award goes to Chris 'Spick' Bennett for canceling training on Sunday because the U/18A's lost to a mediocre opposition below them on the ladder. Chris was unimpressed by the Friday performance. The boys were unimpressed with Spick's Sunday effort.

John Wilcox

Out Collingwood way a young chap played exceptionally good game, shooting 16 points with very limited opportunities and rebounding almost everything that came his way. Well done, John.

Bridget Stewart

Bridget for her consistent and hard trying effort. She never gave up and always plays well.

PC

There was a special award for the Sale Tournament. This being the P.C. Award. It went to Michael Stepien for his amazing performances, actions and comments on and off the court. Especially late at night in his tent.

Performance of the Week

This award goes to a bloke who refereed 4 nights in a row, Michael Phillips.

Individual & Team Goal Performance

U/18A boy's coach Chris Bennett designed an incentive scheme to improve individual players and team performances. The players and team's averages of the previous season were used as goals for the next season.

In brackets are the points awarded for achieving each goal. Notice the emphasis on defence. Players could pick up bonus points by drawing charging fouls.

Cheltenham Panthers

Started out as Beaumaris in the 1983 summer season and finished runners up in the U/12 boy's competition. The original team members included Camden and Leon Butcher, Andrew Montgomery, Leon McGraw, Cameron Hillyer and Simon Fairbanks.

Some new players were added to make up the 1983 winter U/11 team, now known as Cheltenham Heights and in 1984 a second team was formed when the boys split into top and bottom aged groups. The club changed its name to Cheltenham Panthers in 1986 and a third team was added in 1987 to have teams playing in the U/13, U/15 and U/17 competitions.

Headliners

Howe?

Goes to the Howe five who have won the raffle for the past 3 weeks. Come on! Give us a break.

Tongue Twister

Goes to Barry Andrews this week for a classic statement at the VFA final. Barry's rapier tongue and knife like wit came up with this pearler of a quote, 'you know why you are so clean Russell, because the bloke on you is giving you a birthday.' Barry meant to say 'bath.'

Zipper

Goes to Brian Lewin. Brian was so keen to play that he forgot how to dress properly. Ran out onto the court with his shorts on backwards - zipper goes to the front Brian.'

DRC?

Does anyone know where the Doncaster Recreation Centre is?

Friday the 13th

The U/17A girls knew they had forgotten something on Friday night. They had the singlets, and a ball, but where was the coach? Adam was back at Lifestyle waiting for a lift. Well, lady luck smiled on Adam because the girl's car broke down on the way. It wasn't Friday the 13th was it?

Flower Power

Louise Graham deliberately snuck delicately up to Brad Andrews on Sunday night, opened the box of flour and turned it upside down over Brad. Unfortunately she forgot to open the bag that contained the flour.

Mac Attacks?

Goes to the McDonalds wrestling team. Stop provoking those nice clean cut boys eating at McDonalds ???

Quote of the Week

Paul (Jimmy) Eadie had finally found a bird to fall in love with. On the way back from Albury, Paul spotted a 'female rooster.' You're a credit to all the bird watchers at the club.

Spectacle of the Week

Once again it comes from Albury, where in the major street lies the Albury Homing Pigeon Club, right behind that is the Albury Rifle Range.

The Girls

Goes to the three junior girls teams for showing up the boys lack of endeavour. Come on men, play as good as you tell us you can !!!!!

Mr X

The winner of this coveted award goes to a real 'handsome old devil', Mr. X. He wore a jacket made out of old jeans, on Saturday night to the first division finals. It seems that X went all the way to Italy to pick up his jacket. I would have gladly let X cut up a pair of my jeans for half the price of a trip to Italy.

X was so impressed by the jacket, he had a big chip on one shoulder, a dale on the other and a big donald duck right in the centre of his back. For a few dollars extra I would have cut up my Walt Disney beach towel as well.

A Day Away At The Veneto Club

Veneto Club Day: The Boys

Aunty's Excuse

Well chickens, some of those evil men who attended Mr. Craig's party must have spiked my coca-cola. As you all know, Aunty is a non-drinker, and the effect was terrible. But true to form I still turned up to training as Paul Meehan will verify. The only thing I can say now is that I now understand the quote 'the worst thing in life is to get drunk with some one with a memory.'

Word of the Week

Tequila - a very harmful substance, which should not be taken orally.

Foot In Mouth Disease

Referee Paul Hamill, called a charge on one of the players in D grade competition, to which the player disagreed violently with the excuse, 'but he was standing there.'

Paul had a bit of trouble understanding the logic of this statement, but Barry and I knew that this gentleman was obviously playing advanced skill ball rules, whereby it states that 'no player may draw a charge in an upright position with his feet below the level of his head'.

Disco

Thanks to all the generous fantastic dancers who turned up to a most enjoyable club function. To all those people who were absent don't bother talking to Barry or Spindles. You have a chance to redeem yourself in December.

Fancy Dress

Are there any 'closet lone rangers' at the club? Has any one really wanted to get dressed up as Princess Di? I know Barry has. And just like Barry I can recommend you to an excellent psychiatrist.

But if you can't afford a shrink, why not just spend a meager $12 and live out your wildest fantasies legally with delightful, although slightly weird company. All for the price of a ticket to see Boy George in Kev Morrissey. Revving Kevin has probably got a better voice as anyone who went to Ballarat can vouch for.

Hard Work

There have been a spate of bad losses in the club. Games that should not be lost. Every game is important for the club. More concentration and dedication needed. Your club is working hard for you. So return the hard work.

Stand Up and Be Counted

Our U/17A grade girls' team performances this year have been excellent. With only five players they have competed against the best teams in Victoria often finishing the game with just 4 players.

Skill Badges

Congratulations to Jackie Bissett and Kate McInnes on completion of their D grade badge. And there is no truth in the rumour that the reason that no U/13 girl has got a badge is because neither of their coaches knows what skill is.

Shootathon

The U/13 girls did their Auntie Spindles proud last Saturday with the 100% success rate in the shot-a-thon. Obviously the most successful was a Miss Craig Leith who shot with the elegance and grace befitting one of Auntie Spindles young ladies. Rumour has it that Lisa just wanted the world record for the most number of shots in 10 minutes when she finished with 3 seconds to go. Come on Lisa, that's 3 more seconds you could have used.

Thanks

As coaches of the U/13 girls, Paul and I would like to thank the girls who have turned up week after week without getting a game. This is the type of dedication that will keep the club growing.

St Finbar's Scalpers

The Club started in 1984/85 with a group of parents from the parish school keen to support their children playing basketball. One of the fathers coached the only team at that time in the under 12 division.

Ormond Bandits

Ormond Bandits started as a Friday evening boys youth club in 1984 at St Kevin's Primary School hall, Glen Orme Ave Ormond. The main emphasis was on basketball but also included table tennis and snooker.

The name 'Bandits' came about after some consideration and was as a result of one of our original young members pet dog named 'Bandit'.

Bandit was a constant companion and on our Friday nights in the school hall waited faithfully for his young master in the hall foyer.

In 1986 the youth club entered its first boys sides in the Sandringham Basketball Association competition, and was followed in 1989 with number of girls sides, which were organised by Di Mason.

Skill Ball Game Coaches Vrs Players

Predictably, the superbly athletic and excellently skilled coaches wiped the floor with the markedly inferior kids. For two quarters the coaches toyed with the wimps before accelerating away from the kids.

Sale Tournament

We went for 2 days and one lousy one. Pity the day we went lousy on was the semi final, all 3 teams lost their semi finals. Highlight of the trip was the B grade men's fight back from 15 points down to win in one of the preliminary games.

Low lights of the weekend; Spindles catching his caramel milkshake right on his new Roger Ramjet T shirt. The counter girl asked if he wanted a replacement so that he could have a second shot. Ross catching a pass and landing a foot out of bounds. (great leap, great catch, lousy vision, lousy positioning) overall a D effort.

Quotes of the Year

New second division coach Bob, gave the following pearls of wisdom; 'As useful as a hip pocket in a singlet' and 'we have been running this offence since Pontius was a pilot.'

Quotes of the Year:

New second division coach Bob, gave the following pearls of wisdom; 'As useful as a hip pocket in a singlet' and 'we have been running this offence since Pontius was a pilot.'

Dodgy Brakes

During a competitive C grade match, one of the players travelled. Big Brett blew his whistle right on time and called a travel. At this personal insult, the player involved turned around to Brett and said, 'But I couldn't stop in time.'

Definition of a Coach

Some one who will telephone everyone to make sure they remember to bring their singlets, who'll drive half way across the state to get to the game, who'll cop heaps of abuse on the way home, stop off at McDonalds and have to sell his car to pay for the food, cop still more abuse on the way home from McDonalds, eventually get home at 1.30 in the morning, gets up at 6.30 to get to training and finds he's got no petrol.

Definition of a Player

Someone who knows more than a coach, but is too poor to coach and doesn't own a car.

Highlight of the Week

The U/16 girls, after a mammoth fight back, found themselves 3 points down with 20 seconds to go. The scoreboard said that they were two points down. After much panic the ball was badly passed and it rolled towards the half way line. Ange Hegarty picked it up, bounced it and shot (did not chuck) a 30 foot swish 3 pointer to tie the game. Congrats to the whole team for their determined efforts.

Driven Coach

A certain Sabres under 14 coach, who also happens to coach at Mordialloc, who would like to remain nameless, got into his car and in a state of semi awakeness, instead of driving to work, drove to Mordialloc to take training. This shows the dedication of our coaches and it's sad to note no players were in attendance.

Spindles Rotates

The now famous sense of direction of Aunty Spindles struck again on Friday night. After coaching at Albert Park, he had to transport two of his girls to Templestowe. He proceeded down High Street and turned tight into Glenferrie Road, instead of left. He turned left onto Dandenong Road instead of right. After 25 minutes he was back at Albert Park.

The Dart Man

Kevin swung back into action on Saturday night at Luna Park, faced with a difficult task of making a mess of throwing a dart at an 8 foot by 5 foot board of balloons, Kev knew something special was needed to defeat Stropper. So he stepped up to the line and not only managed to completely miss the dart board but also almost hit the person who ran the stall.

Coaches vs Players

The first major event of 1985 was a coaches versus players match which was quite successful. Half way through the year another coaches versus players match was held, this time in conjunction with a pie night.

Rock n Roll

In August the highlight of the year was the 50's Rock n Roll night, about 100 attended. Some people arrived in 50's dress, which helped to create a great atmosphere. The response from many people was that it was the best time they had in a long time.

The Long Drives

USA Kilsyth

'Is Kilsyth a colony of America?' asks Geoff. He wins this week's award for his ability to drive on the wrong side of the road. Not only did he manage this, he was able to do a right hand turn with the arrow lane on his left hand side. To his dismay the on coming cars made his only escape route one of roller coaster proportions across the median strip.

To Perth and Back

And we forgot to mention in last weeks' newsletter that one of Paul Cervi's favourite past times is travelling. He took a lovely scenic tour with the U/16 boys to Nunawading the other week taking a short cut via Perth.

Mentone Mustangs

The St Patrick's Mentone Mustangs club was formed in 1986 by Kevin Griffiths who was a member of St Patrick's Catholic Church community. He saw a need at St Patrick's school to get children involved in local sport.

This number grew to 15 teams by 1988 and in November 1988, Kevin handed the running of the club over to Tony Drinan, Kevin Wilson and John Tetteroo. Tony Drinan was the first club President.

Sandy Saints

In 1986, the Club entered three teams in the Sale Sonics Easter Competition and acquitted themselves well.

Under the Presidency of Jim McDonald/Garry Moller and Bob Umbers, the club has grown in strength and numbers and last season entered 16 junior teams and 2 senior men's teams.

We have a perpetual trophy for the Best Club Sportsperson which began in 1985 and has been won by Drew Russell, Tim Gattuso, Gavan Southern, Sally Gattuso, Julian McDonald, Juliana Horsfield and Jackie Bissett. Sandy Saints became an incorporated body in February 1989 and our logos are still in the melting pot.

Men's Team Promoted to State League

The Sabres looked to have ruined their chances of reaching the top league of state basketball when they lost their qualifying final by a point in overtime, but had a reprieve when they were asked to make a submission to play first division.

Sandringham then played a challenge series against Sunbury, Oakleigh and Geelong and won the three games to earn promotion.

Coach Terry Walsh said that the qualifying final was a disaster.

"Six of our ten players were fouled out during the games and nothing went right," he said.

Sandringham's excellent record in second division and its ability to produce a constant flow of players in representative sides at all levels has counted favourably in the eyes of the Victorian Basketball Association.

Sandi basketballers get a big promotion

By RUSSELL HOLMESBY

The Sabres looked to have ruined their chance of reaching the top league of state basketball when they lost their qualifying final by a point in overtime, but had a reprieve when they were asked to make a submission to play first division.

Sandringham then played a challenge series against Sunbury, Oakleigh and Geelong and won the three games to earn promotion.

Coach Terry Walsh said that the qualifying final loss was a disaster. "Six of our ten players were fouled out during the game and nothing went right," he said.

Sandringham's excellent record in second division and its ability to produce a constant flow of players in representative sides at all levels has counted favourably in the eyes of the Victorian Basketball Association.

Sandringham is the only major bay-side club between Frankston and the city and it hopes to grow even bigger with its latest boost in status.

Proof of the success of the Sabres' youth policy is shown in the structure of the team which triumphed in the play-off series. Eight of the ten players were home-grown boys who had progressed from junior ranks.

Success at a higher level will naturally require more imported players from within Australia and also overseas, but coach Walsh is hoping to maintain a strong core of home-grown players.

"We want to keep a flow of players from the under age sides as that is where our strength lies."

As Walsh talked two players of whom he expects great things were sharpening up on court. Steve Lunardon was a Sandy boy who has returned from National League side Eastside and Stewart Lewin is a youngster who came of age in the challenge series, according to Walsh.

Recruiting naturally costs money and the club is looking for a sponsor willing to pitch in $10,000 to $15,000.

Before taking its place in the number one grade the club will have to make improvements at its home stadium at the King Club, Sandringham.

Sabres' basketballer Dean Howe hands out tips to youngsters Alison Newman of St Pauls school in Benteigh and Oren Miszelowski of Coatesville Primary School.

THE bustle of school children at the King Club, Sandringham last week gave a hint, and the packed stadium confirmed it ... basketball is the biggest sport in town.

Victorian Basketball League division two side Sandringham Sabres ran a special clinic for primary school students and more than 200 boys and girls crutted the boards.

Sabres captain-coach Terry Walsh has been with the Sandringham club since it began 14 years ago. "In those days we played at the old memorial hall in Sandringham and started with about 100 players. Now we have 1500 registered senior and junior basketballers on the books."

Stadiums cannot be built fast enough to keep pace with demand. Sandringham council has been reluctant to commit itself to building additional facilities and, although more willing to listen, Moorabbin council has not been forthcoming with a solid commitment.

As a result the Sandringham junior competition also plays at Parkdale and Beaumaris High Schools. Grades start at under-9 level and the Sabres channel the best youngsters to their senior grades. It's a system that obviously works as most of the senior team is made up of home grown basketballers.

Sandringham has been the dominant club in the second division and stands a strong chance of promotion next year.

That transition has prompted the club to recruit American players Dana Farnay and Sean McShane.

But the strength of the Sabres is the huge reservoir of up-and-coming talent.

Dean Howe hands out tips to youngsters Alison Newman of St Paul's School in Benteigh and Oren Miszelowski of Coatesville Primary School.

Sabres - Men2nd Division October*Elimination Semi Final

Blackburn (38) 80 d Sandringham (40) 79 (overtime)

The Division 2 game started slowly. Blackburn gained an early lead but in a good fight back, the half time score was our way 40-38. Then the fouls came with our tall players first to go, then the guards and forwards as the game progressed to a 73 points all draw. Five minutes of overtime to play and we had six on the bench, all fouled out with only four on the court and Blackburn, knowing they were able to call substitution, played out the time to win 80-79. The result was disappointing as it was our first defeat for the season, but the challenge for a place in Division 1 is still on and we wish our players good luck for the challenge.

Played old rivals Werribee who had finished on top of the ladder and a good start saw us up at half time 43-33. Werribee slowly pegged back the deficit and eventually got in front until a 2 pointer from us left them 1 down with 2 seconds to go. Their last shot was just wide, giving us a well deserved win 66-65 and a place in the Grand Final.

Grand Final

Hawthorn (37) 63 d Sandringham (29) 54

The grand final produced another good start for us, but Hawthorn gradually got on to be 8 points up at half time 37-29. Playing catch up basketball is very hard and although we matched them in the second half, they were too good and held on to win 63-54.

Terry Walsh coached both division 2 and 3 teams.

Highlights

Sportsmanship

I happened to be at the King Club last Friday and saw a game, which was very pleasing to watch. It was an under 10 girls match between Bentleigh Firecolts and Sandy Saints.

At half time the score was 2 points all, both the coaches and respective players were in earnest conversation and the many family groups of spectators were on the edge of their seats.

In the second half, Bentleigh slowly moved in front with every goal scored (and missed) by both sides being greeted with loud and enthusiastic applause.

The referee, Ketiah Fischer, was explaining the rules of the game on every whistle, typical of all the referees who officiate in this under 10 girls and boys grade.

The girls, with ponytails flying and singlets down to their knees, were thoroughly enjoying the game, which Bentleigh eventually won 10 to 4. Congratulations to all concerned.

Junior 3 point Shoot Out

Won by Joe Margheriti with 6 out of 15 (40%) while the Senior 3 pointers and slam dunk events were not contested. Many thanks to Tess Walsh and Tracey Aitken for their organising and to those who helped on the day. Also thanks to the parents who made the time to transport their children to this event.

Social Events

This year's social calendar was full of variety with many outings, unfortunately they were poorly attended. Although we tried to get people together for each outing no one seemed interested enough to turn up.

Our not so successful ventures were the nights at Taco Bills, Dirty Dick's Theatre Restaurant, the Car Rally, and the Shot a thon.

A booking of 30 people was made for Taco's Bill, only 10 people turned up (this was very embarrassing). People who said they were going did not show up.

A lot of work was put into the Car Rally, the destination being Werribee Park, and once again we were let down. Half of the 13 cars that arrived were not even basketballers. Those that showed up had a fun day.

A most enjoyable night was spent at Dirty Dick's Theatre Restaurant by the 15 people who had turned up. Some of these people were virtually dragged there. We lost money on this night as 5 seats were not filled. A sour note for such a fantastic night.

Only 3 girls teams and most boys teams turned up for the Shot a thon. This was a disaster. All our time was wasted through lack of enthusiasm.

On a sweeter note this years junior presentation held at the King Club was well attended, however, we would loved to see more parents there. A barbeque lunch was provided for all.

We made some money on the Lamington Drive but would have made more if every body had sold at least a few packets. Forms were supplied to everybody, but not returned.

Our most successful night was the Cocktail Night. Besides being a terrific night and a great turn up, we made over $1000. About 140 people wandered in and out all night. We had a big marquee with a fire burning all night, we provided nibbbles and exotic cocktails. Many thanks to all who showed up.

Next year we plan to be more cautious in what we organize. It's always the same old people who come to each night and day that is organized.

We are looking forward to maybe a Tennis Night, Trivia night and another Cocktail night.

We need more interest and enthusiasm.

Car Rally

Around a dozen cars were sent off from the King Club last Sunday, all with instructions, questions to answer and a list of scavenger items to collect, for an unknown destination.

Friendly rivalry was shown by many of the participants, especially at McDonalds, the stone wall and the blue and gold slide (inspired graffiti) and all eventually made it to Werribee Park for games and a BBQ.

The winners of the rally were Caroline and Mari-anne Dyer, second was the car of Brad Andrews, Michael Burke and John Morrow with Louise Graham, Ketiah Fischer and Donna Andrews third. The wooden Spoon award went to Bruce Mitchell who unfairly blamed his crew, sons Ashley and Scott plus their friends Simon and Leon, for getting the wrong answers.

Speaking of answers, Paul Cervi, Peter Ketis and Adam Russell were given the worst answer sheet award and also would have received the Golden Melways for getting lost the most. The best turned out car (or was that the worst?) belonged to Carl Ratten and Terry Walsh won the raffle prize which was a months membership to the King Club.

Desiree Andrew won second prize in the raffle, some very interesting books and the egg throwing contest winners were the father and daughter team of Adrian and Kristen Davies. Louise Graham protested the results as on the last throw, she found two eggs coming her way and sensibly ducked for cover. Paul Cervi was then seen being chased by Louise and ended with egg on his shirt.

Thanks to Tess, Tracey and Tracey for organising this very enjoyable outing. The girls put in a lot of hard work and it was a pity that more people weren't there to support their efforts.

Presentation Dinner Dance

Around 110 people attended the second Annual Dinner Dance at the Brighton Savoy on September 23rd and a great night was had by all. Presentations were made to Senior Domestic Grand Finalists and the Senior Championships awards.

Many thanks to Tess Walsh and Tracy Aitken for organising an enjoyable and successful night.

Cocktail Party

The cocktail party was a great success as over 100 people turned up to taste our delightful cocktails and we raised over $1000 for the Association.

Grand Final

Sandringham (41) 70 d Dandenong Rangers (21) 49

Scorers: K. Lockhart 24, R. Brooks 16, S. Lunardon 15, W. Pink 10

Dandenong went into the grand final without one of their Americans, Mike Dillon, who was out with a back injury, but they played their new American recruit while Sandringham had a full squad to choose from. After a nervous start, the Sabres quickly jumped to a 10 point lead and continued on to nearly double the Rangers score, 41-21 at half time. The second half was more even, with all Sabres players getting court time and the final score gave Sandringham a well deserved premiership win, 70-49.

1st Division Winter SeasonSemi Final

Scorers: K. Lockhart 30, R. Brooks 23, S. Lunardon 14, W. Pink 12

Sandringham led early but the Boomers tied the game at 22 all at the end of the first quarter. Half way into the second period, the Sabres had established a six-point break only to see Bulleen again level the scores at half time, 42 each. The third quarter was the reverse of the second, with the boomers out by five and holding a one-point margin 67-66 going into the last quarter. Bulleen then outscored the Sabres 12-5 to be up by 8 with seven minutes to play and although Sandringham fought back to get within 5 points, the Boomers came again in the last seconds to win 96-87.

This was a disappointing end to the season as they had twice beaten last season's Grand Finalists. To reach the finals in their inaugural year was a great effort and well played to them and Coach Terry Walsh.

Finished second in the southeast division. It is worth noting that the Sabres have now created a record in that no other team has reached the VBA Division One Finals in their first year of competition.

Coach Terry Walsh: Players Brad Andrews, Roland Brooks, Paul Cervi, Nazar Chapdjan, Stuart Lewin, Kent Lockhart, Steven Lunardon, Warren Pink, Steve Pinzone, Michael Sawyer, Andrew Stavropoulos, Dean Howe.

The U/14A team showed that they were the best in the competition by remaining undefeated over the weekend. They overcame the obstacle of having no substitutes, suffering a delay before the final and having some immature person pulling at those braids. Looking fantastic with braided hair (even Sophie and Jenny) the girls were involved in an exciting final, which tested the nerves of their parents.

Sandringham 71 d East Brunswick Ladies 54

Scorers: T. Stephens 18, K. Fischer 15, T. Aitken 12, T. Bunch 10

East Brunswick Ladies jumped to an early 12 -6 lead. By now the nerves were gone and we started to systematically play good basketball and led at half time 39-29. Tracey Stephens had 14 points at this stage and Louise Graham was playing good defence on their centre while scoring 8 for us. The second half saw solid basketball, Ketiah Fischer ran hot for 11 points and we ended up comfortable winners 71-54.

Sandringham 120 d Deakin 66

Scorers: K. Lockhart 42, R. Brooks 28, M. Sanyer 14, D. Doherty 13, A. Stavropoulos 12

After a very good start we slowed which allowed them back into the game but not enough to catch up and we led 49-32 at half time. Our game tempo lifted in the second half and with good team work, better than the other games, we scored 71 to their 34 to win going away 120-66. Michael Sawyer scored four 3 pointers.

Coach Terry Walsh: Manager A. Davies; Players Andrew Stavropoulos, R. Brooks, Kent Lockhart, Michael Sawyer, Dean Howe, Paul Cervi, D. Doherty, N. Chapdjian, S. Pinzone.

ThrillersU/17B Girls*Sandringham d Whitehorse

Yet again only five Sandringham players took to the court and with a good zone defense held a 10 point break at half time. Whitehorse fought back in the second half and closed within four, but the Sabres rallied under the pressure to run out winner.

U/15AQ BoysMountain Districts 40 d Sandringham 39

Scorers: B. Moloney 15, D. Pascoe 4, M. Lewin 4

A Sabres foul in the last seconds of the game put the Districts on the line for two shots which were both good and won them the game 40-39.

Scorers: K. Fischer 18, T. Stephens 15, T. Walsh 12.

The Sabres' women started off with many fast breaks and steals to lead 35-23 at half time. In the second half, this was quickly increased to a 21 point margin, before a loss of concentration and frequent errors allowed Waverley back into the game.

With minutes left of play, the Sabres lead had been cut to two points. Concentration was then again restored and with good offensive play and strong rebounding, Sandringham ran out a convincing winner 69-47.

Diamond Valley 54 d Sandringham 53

Scorers: T. Aitkens 19 (including the two to tie the game), T. Walsh 11, K. Fischer 8, S. Gattuso 8

The second half was very even and with three minutes to go, Diamond Valley were in the bonus one and one situation. Ten seconds remaining, Sandringham down by two, a steal and a successful shot tied the game at 50-all. Five minutes of very hectic overtime saw Sandringham still in foul trouble and Diamond Valley were able to freeze the ball and held on to win 54-53.

Scorers: T. Aitkens (MVP) 10, T. Stephens 7

Sandringham down 2-10 after 11 minutes of play but came back to lead by 3 points at half time. It was then basket for basket. 5 seconds remaining, a crucial three throw enables Sabres to snatch a 1 point win over the second top side. Final scores 34-33.

Werribee 44 d Sandringham 41

Scorers: T. Stephens 13, D. Hoy 8.

In a do or die game, Werribee came from 1 point down at half time to win the game 44-41 in the last 30 seconds of play. Sandringham had the chance to win but the third player of their six fouled out with one minute to go.

Warrnambool Tournament

Division 1 State League Men - VBAMelbourne 82 d Sandringham 80

Scorers: K. Lockhart 27, S. Lunardon 16, R. Brooks 15, M. Sanmyer 11, S. Pinzone 4, A. Stavropoulos 4, W. Pink 2, S. Lewin 1

The first quarter of the game was even. American import Dave Colbert shot a three point basket just as the quarter ended to give Melbourne the lead, 23-21. Sandringham had good contributions from their substitutes in the second quarter and the Sabres led 45-42 at half time. This lead could have been more had a three point shot by Warren Pink been allowed but the referee ruled that it was after the siren.

Both teams again relied on their starting five players in the third quarter. Melbourne had the slightly better advantage, adding 22 points to Sandringham's 19, to bring both teams level at 64-all.

Both teams began to tire in the heat as they went shot for shot in the fourth quarter. With two minutes to go, Melbourne were in front and by using the 30 second clock to their advantage, held on to win 82-80.

Sandringham 97 d Kilsyth 94

Scorers: K. Lockhart 29, R. Brooks 20, S. Lunardon 17, W. Pink 11

The Sabres jumped to an early lead and held a 16 point advantage at quarter time, 32-16. With good rebounding and an aggressive defence, they continued to outplay the Cobras and led 53-32 at half time.

Kilsyth had recorded 14 team fouls to the Sabre's 4 by this stage and although the third quarter was more even, Sandringham seemed to be in a winning position 77-54 at the end of this period. A good fight back by the Cobras saw them connect on many outside shots, to reduce the margin to only 8 points after the seven minutes of play had elapsed.

Now it was Sandringham's turn to pick up the fouls as with three minutes left on the clock, they desperately tried to hold off Kilsyth.

However, with some experienced defensive play and ball control, the Sabres were able to see out the game and held on to win 97-94.

Sabres Post Option, VBA Division 1 Men, 1989

Nunawading 82 d Sandringham 79

Scorers: R. Brooks 25, K. Lockhart 20, S. Lunardon 18, M. Sanyer 10, P. Cervi 4

Sandringham looked to be in for a torrid game as Nunawading had opened up with a 10 point lead, 27-17, at quarter time. However, the next quarter saw the Sabres not only close the gap, but pass Nunawading to be in front at half time 39-35. Roland Brooks scored 11 of Sandringham's 22 points during this time and the Sabre's bench provided valuable support as they held the Spectres to only 8 points. The third period of play was very even until the last minute, when Nunawading were able to score the last four points to lead once again 63-57.

Two minutes into the last quarter and the Spectres were still up 67-59. By the four-minute mark, the Sabres pulled back the core to be within one point 68-69. Another two points passed and Sandringham had held their opponents scoreless while adding nine to regain the lead 77-69. Now it was the Spectres turn as they started to connect from the three point line and with one minute remaining, the scoreboard showed them back in front 79-77.

The Sabres then scored and the game was tied 79-all. With time running out, Nunawading started to freeze the ball after scoring one from the free throw line. Sandringham's only play was to foul, stop the clock and try to steal the ball as it was brought in from the side line. An intentional foul was called and with eight seconds remaining, Nunawading made both free throw attempts to close out the game and win 82-79.

Sandringham 111 d Diamond Valley/Eltham 108

Scorers: R. Brooks 41, K. Lockhart 40

The Arrows jumped to an early lead at the end of the first quarter 30-25, but a much better second period by the Sabres turned the game around in their favour and they led 54-48 at half time.

The next ten minutes developed into a shoot-out as the Arrows just outscored Sandringham 31-30 to close the gap to five going into the last quarter.

By now, both teams had key players in foul trouble both on the court and with three minutes left on the clock, the Sabres were up by only one point 101-100. Sandringham then added eight to their opponents six, made two free throws from an intentional foul and although the Arrows connected on the last shot, it was too late and the Sabres won 111-108.

Bendigo 99 d Sandringham 95

Scorers: K. Lockhart 33, R. Brooks 27, S. Lunardon 16, M. Sanyer 14

The game started at a brisk pace with Sandringham's Kent Lockhart scoring the first six points, before Bendigo reeled off the next 11 and held the initiative to lead 25-21 at the first change.

With some spectacular dunking from Roland Brooks and fine shooting by his teammates, the Sabres regrouped and led by one point at half time.

The third period was battle of the defences and both teams were forced to turn the ball over many times.

The Sabres went into the last quarter four points down and amidst an intense battle, the lead changed six times in the final minutes of play.

A basket for the Braves right on the buzzer secured victory for them by four points, 99-95.

Scorers: K. Lockhart 36, R. Brooks 33, S. Lunardon 17

The Sabres were forced to play catch-up basketball as Dandenong led at each of the three intervals by eight, six, and seven points.

But a spirited comeback Sandringham in the last quarter saw the scores level at 89-89 with four minutes left.

The Rangers then regained the lead 97-95 and with seconds remaining, made two free throws and a shot on the final buzzer to win by six points, 101-95.

Knox 82 d Sandringham 81

Scorers: K. Lockhart 28, R. Brooks 23

In the first half, the Sabres were on top defensively but were let down by rushed shots and wide passing, whereas Knox was prepared to work the ball around for a good opening.

Three minutes into the third quarter Sandringham's lead of 44-37 was overhauled by the determined Raiders as they led for the first time 48-45.

The Sabres answered that challenge, scoring 27 to 14, to give them a 10 point break going into the last quarter.

But Knox came back again and at the eight minute mark was up 82-80 in a game, which had become very physical with four of the Sabres' starting five fouled out.

The last two minutes of play saw the Raiders taking the side ball, rather than go to the foul line for one and one, and they were able to run down the clock to win 82-81.

Melbourne 103 d Sandringham 101

Scorers: K. Lockhart 44, R. Brooks 29, S. Lunardon 13

The Sabres jumped Melbourne and led 16-5 half way into the first quarter, with Michael Sawyer connecting early on two three pointers and Paul Cervi stealing the ball three times to set up Kent Lockhart and Roland Brooks.

The Tigers, not able to penetrate Sandringham's tight defence, turned to Andrew Gaze who sunk four from the three point line to tie the game at 27-all.

The second quarter was basket for basket, highlighted by Roland's two slams, Nazar Chapdjian's good hands and Kent's 14 points, but they couldn't shake off the Tigers and the score was still level at 56-all.

The Sabres were then able to open up a nine point break five minutes into the third period, but again good perimeter shooting by Melbourne brought it back to four going into the last quarter.

Sensing defeat, the Tigers lifted and at the eight-minute mark were in front 102-96 and started to freeze the ball. Sabres for two, but an intentional foul gave Melbourne one point and, with seconds remaining, a steal allowed Steve Lunardon a successful three point shot. Final scores Melbourne 103 to Sandringham 101.

Scorers: R. Brooks 23, K. Lockhart 17, S. Lunardon 15, W. Pink 15

The Sabres led at quarter time 22-19 and were up by nine three minutes before half time, but Nunawading staged a come back to level the scores at 43-all.

Sandringham, through strong rebounding and accurate shooting were then able to hold off the Spectres' third quarter challenge and held a five-point lead 67-62 at the end of this period.

With one minute remaining, Nunawading were down by two on the free throw line having been fouled attempting a three point shot. All conversions were accurate which put the Spectres up by one and although a last second Sabres' steal was successful, no foul was called in their favour and Nunawading held on to win 84-83.

Bendigo Braves 99 d Sandringham 95

Scorers: K. Lockhart 33, R. Brooks 27, S. Lunardon 16, M. Sanyer 14

Bendigo led 25-21 at the first change but the Sabres fought back to be up by 1 point at half time. The third period was all defence and saw the Braves up by 4 with one quarter to go. The lead changed six times in the final minutes before Bendigo eventually won 99-95.

Bulleen Boomers 110 d Sandringham 96

Scorers: K. Lockhart 35, R. Brooks 31, S. Lunardon 29

Although the Sabres led by two points at quarter time, Bulleen hit a purple patch scoring 11 to three in four minutes to lead 51-45 at half time.

A fired up Sandringham then blitzed the Boomers 32-18 in the third quarter to lead 77-69 going into the last.

With five minutes to play, the Sabres looked vulnerable as they had three of the starting five players on four fouls and Bulleen had quickly reduced the margin to three points.

However, with continued strong rebounding and fast outlet play, they finished all over the Boomers with the final scores 110-96. This victory results in the Sabres making the finals and becoming the first team in Victorian Basketball Association history to make the top four in their first year of competition.

The 1990s

Wayne Sheahan

I started about 20 years ago, coaching Cheltenham Panthers at the King Club.

Early 90s I coached U/10, U/12 teams for five or six years. Won a tournament at Melbourne Tigers and a premiership on Friday night. The finals were always close. I used to give the kids even court time.

I took over the administration of the boys after Terry Walsh left. Michael Burke did the girls' sides. I thought he did a fantastic job; very committed and wanted to develop kids and give them the opportunity to play high standard basketball.

I was on the Victorian junior basketball boys' executive committee and championship committee and senior men and women committee. The reason I got on the committees was because I felt we weren't getting enough information passed down, so I had to go on the committee and learn how it all operated and then try to put it all into place. I was also a boys' co-ordinator.

I went to a coaching clinic and met Ken Flannigan and asked Ken to help our junior coaches become better coaches.

Ken took over from Terry Walsh coaching the senior rep team. The team was on the bottom and about to be relegated from division one. They cut all the local players.

There were four games to go and I asked the manager of Magic for approval to approach Andrew Parkinson to play with us and we paid him to play with us.

The next year I spoke to the manager of Magic to approach Andrew Howie to play for us. I went to Brian Goorjian and he said we could have Shane Bright, Andre Lemanjis and Lucas Angram.

I used to do the promotion of the games on Wednesday night and we had the whole thing packed and people hanging off the rafters, standing around the court to watch the game. It sort of fell away a bit.

I used to do the promotion of the games on Wednesday night and we had the whole thing packed and people hanging off the rafters, standing around the court to watch the game.

The Magic? I don't know if it was right but it was for financial reasons, that we could get the Magic players cheap. Made a deal with us that their blokes could play for us, as a training run for the Magic, and they would bring in our junior players sometime to give them the experience to play with them.

It was beneficial because it got a lot of PR. You had the Magic training there; the younger kids coming to see the higher standard players they had seen on television. They could talk to them and get their autographs.

The change of name from Sandringham to Southern? I wasn't involved with that. I think it should have stayed Sandringham because once you start something it has history and it has character to it.

What I would like to see is to get two imports and play the rest of the juniors from Sandringham. Make things happen in the local area and build it up as a family club.

If we develop our coaches, the players in the area, we will get more teams playing in the Victorian Championships. But they are not holding the players because there has been too much turmoil in the club, which has split it down the centre.

Chris Hall

I joined in 1989 and started coaching Mentone then Sandy Saints. Terry Walsh got me to coach the U/14B boys' team. Roger Morris had the U/14A team at that time. The following year I took the AR team and we won the premiership in 1993.

I also coached U/16, U/18, U/20 teams and was assistant coach to Tony Bonniello, coach of the VBL side. In 1997 we were in the VBL competition for the first time and just missed the finals. In 1998 we made the finals.

I was also treasurer until 1999. When I went in the turnover was $100,000 and when I left it was $900,000. That's when it lost that family spirit and it became a business.

I was also treasurer until 1999. When I went in the turnover was $100,000 and when I left it was $900,000.

Change of name (to the Southern Basketball Association)? It was voted on at a meeting. The clubs in it were not Sandringham clubs, they were teams from Moorabbin, Mentone, Mordialloc, and it was done to give us a more Southern profile. Virtually voted on unanimously. It was a good idea.

I remember in the late 90s I was coaching a second division men team and our home games were at Thomastown on Wednesday and we had U/18 players in the team. I had to take them out myself in the station wagon. It was a trip but it was fun. They were playing against full grown guys. Cam had his jaw broken in two places. Cam was playing man to man and the guy decided to wave his elbows and whack, whack, bang, and the guy got I think twelve weeks.

One of the significant events was the four court stadium, but in getting that we lost that family spirit; that family feeling of a family club. However the benefit of four courts over the years gave an opportunity to thousands of kids to play basketball. They never had the opportunity to play and over time the numbers that will be able to benefit is massive, and that is the biggest plus of having the four courts. That was our greatest achievement.

Shane Tobin

I started coaching Mordialloc Flyers at Sandy in 1992 and Wayne Sheehan rang me to coach a rep side.

The quality of the kids we had were better in the earlier days. Chris Hall was coaching and Gavin Southern had a good group of kids and the system was already in place. Then we had a lot of politics; lot of change in six years. I had six different people co-ordinating our programs; Wayne Sheehan, Spencer Phelam, Colin Donovan, Roger Morris, Mike Craw, Danny Adamson. There was a turn over in coaches, no continuity.

Experience of the coaches fell away around 1998. It seemed it wasn't quite jelling. You would get kids in the Sabres program but they wouldn't actually go and play for the senior men. The people who were managing the stadium weren't Sabres people; they were involved with Magic and then Titans. All the kids were leaving Sandringham - going to Dandenong or Frankston. There wasn't a flow on from juniors to senior ranks.

We had some great people there. Heaps of talent but unfortunately a lot of it is gone.

We had some great people there. Heaps of talent but unfortunately a lot of it is gone.

Andrew Stavropoulos

In 1990 the senior men first division team lost the semi final by a point to Ballarat. Roland Brooks went back to Perth and we got Doug Studer. Terry Walsh was coaching.

Most memorable game was against Ballarat. We had only five players, which included Terry Walsh, and they had their full CBA roster. We lost by 10 points. Kent Lockhart had 62 points. Both teams were calling timeouts because Kent was running so hard. He was unbelievable; impeccable athlete. Atmosphere. Full stadium, 1500 people.

In 1991 Lockhart left. I blew my knee out. The whole team was replaced. They brought in other players who weren't much better than us and I think there was a lot of resentment because of that.

In 1991 Lockhart left, I blew my knee out. The whole team was replaced.

In 1993 the club adopted the 'Youth Policy.' Players got letters to say your services are no longer required. Tom Sawyer, Paul Cervi, Adam Russell, Paul Eadie, half a dozen; it was pretty ugly.

The reason was that the first division was losing by hefty margins. There were better ways of addressing that situation, by trying to bring in two quality Americans and have the Australians coming through your system. And eventually you would have a strong nucleus of a team.

The culture of the club after that died. It was a depressing environment. That dull feeling remained.

When the Magic joined, people didn't go to watch them play. With the 1989/90 team, people had to be turned away. The Magic situation lasted for about four years.

Michael Sawyer

Youth Policy? A lot of people who were the heart and soul of the club were told they weren't required anymore. The way it was done was very poor. They could have kept another team because there were a lot of people who could have kept playing decent basketball. I found out by word of mouth. A lot of us accepted that the juniors had to come through but there was a way of doing it. You just can't say to people who were involved with the club all their lives "We don't want you around anymore".

The Magic? They needed a training base. They moved in and said we'll offer your juniors an opportunity to come and train with us. They, our committee, said you can run our number one team and have our facilities and we'll use your name. They went through Wednesday just running their NBL players to give them a second run. Two or three of our juniors sat on the bench, maybe given a couple of minutes.

I stopped playing and coaching 1993/4. It was very messy. A lot of people were very emotional. The worst thing was the long-term effect. When that happened, the heart and soul went out.

When that happened, the heart and soul went out.

Michael Stepien

From 1992-94 I coached the U/15B girls' team. Players included Susan Morgan, Anna Marinic, Marcia Kennedy, Louise Curd, Natalia.

1993/94 I coached the CIVBL women's team. The team also played in the Wednesday's competition that was equivalent to the Continental Basketball League. It had national league and CBA teams playing. We finished about twelfth. Our manager was Gael Fischer and players included Ketiah Fischer, Bianca White, Heide Patterson, Jenny Song, Sophie Wainwright, Jacqui Thompson, Sally Gattuso, Lisa Mulroney and Tracey Aitken.

In one CVIBL game we played Mildura. We were 1 point up, seven seconds to go. I called a time out and we ran a play and got 2 points. We were now up by 3. The players were so busy celebrating down the court that they forgot to watch a Mildura player who got the ball and hit a 3 pointer. Overtime. I was ropeable. In the overtime it was a struggle but we ended up winning by 6 points.

The players were so busy celebrating down the court that they forgot to watch a Mildura player who got the ball and hit a 3 pointer. Overtime. I was ropeable. In the overtime it was a struggle but we ended up winning by 6 points.

I remember Michael Burke running around the court in a tutu during a coaches versus players game.

In 1993 we applied to run the stadium and won by one vote.

In 1996 I was the junior girls' coaching director and in 1997 I coached the U/18 girls division one team.

In 1999, one hundred people turned up to our Save Our Stadium rally. If there was no concentrated effort to save the stadium we may have had units where the stadium stands now.

In the late 90s it was decided not to use South East Melbourne Magic players anymore. They had used our stadium since 1993 and the plan back then was to put bums on the seats. It never did. Because people wanted to see Sandringham players, not Magic players. We got involved with Magic because the rule was you couldn't play Premier Division on Wednesday nights unless you were affiliated with a National Basketball League club or you had to be playing in the Continental Basketball League.

It lasted until 1997/98. People were unhappy. Enough was enough. It was time to go back to Sandringham and we went back to the Melbourne Metropolitan Basketball League competition.

Sport is becoming more of a business. In 1993 the turnover in money was $200,000, now it's over $800,000. It's sad because every one wants money.

In the 80s it was more of a family atmosphere. I think we were a better club when we had one court; it was a closer unit. However we had to get four courts.

Ross Graham

The Magic team? At the time the club was going through a significant transition in regards to administration and building the four court stadium. They had priorities to ensure their domestic programs were filling up those courts, to ensure repayment of the loan that was taken out for the building of the facilities.

So their focus was to manage the business properly. Now to keep working on the same path of the rep programs, juniors and seniors, would have taken a significant workload on the volunteers at the time and I don't know whether the numbers of the volunteers at the time were available. So the opportunity arose for an elite program of the senior men to come in and represent the region without a great deal of work from Sandringham.

The Sandringham rep division one team was depleted at that period of time and the opportunity came along, with Colin Donovan managing the stadium and his involvement with the Magic. They said we have a ready-made team and we could put two or three of our kids into the team. There's no work, no cost involved. Let's focus on our core business, which is the right thing to do.

I think they focused on running their domestic comp, maintaining the debt on the facilities and concentrating on the junior reps and letting the senior reps run themselves. I think it was initially going to be for a two-year period.

Complacency got there because it just happened to run okay. So they just let it go amidst the criticism of not having sufficient opportunity for the juniors to develop into the senior program.

Back in the early 90s when they went through that the decision at the time was right, for all the right reasons but people misunderstood the concept. I guess I was critical for not letting the locals have the opportunity but you can be critical without knowing the full story.

I was also dead against changing the name to Southern Basketball Association because it lost its identity. Southern Basketball Association can be anywhere in the world. My logic is that if you are going to identify your self as a geographic environment, give it a geographic name.

We need to get back the old club spirit, a commitment to each other.

We need to get back the old club spirit, a commitment to each other. It's a tough call to tie something as large as that together. I think places like Kilsyth, Dandenong, Frankston and Nunawading have achieved it. Our association needs to bring back the memorabilia and have the old guys come back.

Raw Prawn Awards

Mahoney's Woes

This month's award goes to all of those who didn't stop to help the Mahoneys whose car had broken down on the way home from the Ballarat Tournament. Plenty of horn tooting and waving - perhaps we all didn't realise they were in trouble, sorry.

Tea Leaf One

To the person, or persons who have been forcing the ball cage bolts and broken the lugs where the padlock fits through to lock the bolts. Also please return any balls that you may have 'borrowed.'

Tea Leaf Two

Lost. One C.B. radio stolen by very quiet thieves. After Frank Russo's twenty-fifth birthday extravaganza, Edwards decided to go to sleep in the back of his van. Whilst asleep, burglars broke into his van and stole his C.B. radio, perhaps first turning it on to see if it worked. This gives new meaning to the concept of taking blindly. In future, Carey has agreed to leave the radio outside so no one will wake him up when breaking into the van.

Out of Court

Spat the Dummy

Which Junior Sabres Coach was recently ejected from Men's A grade competition game? Unfairly of course. Hint: it wasn't at Sandringham but he does get the second Spit-the - Dummy award for the month.

Hot Hot Hot

Anyone need help with a radiator? Don't ask Damien Moloney who unfortunately suffered scalding when wondering why they sizzle.

Voiceless Announcer

Did Mr. Frank Russo lose his voice during the Sabres game against Dandenong on 3rd of March last? No, someone pulled the plug on his sound machine. Perhaps it was the Rangers Coach who objected to Frank calling one of his players 'Colonel' Sanders.

Classic Call

This particular call will have to go down as one of the top ten all time calls. To set the picture, it was a fairly uneventful U/15 girls' game, the scores weren't close so concentration was low. The initial call was a hands foul, with two shots to come. The first one missed, as did the second.

During the tussle to recover the ball one of the defensive players gained control of the ball and attempted to score at the same end. Fortunately or unfortunately, depending upon your team preference, she was fouled in the act. Brian being on the ball as always called the foul and signaled two shots. He was not fazed until the player attempting the two shot asked, 'if I get these in, do we get the points or them?'

Initially dumbfounded by the question, he then realized the mistake and red faced gave them the ball from the side. Class act Brian!

Sabres - BoysU/16AR*Grand Final

Kilsyth (24) 54 d Sandringham (24) 40

Scorers: B. Moloney 16, D. Pascoe 8, D. Patrick 8

Kilsyth had posted the first 6 points in very quick time and were still up 15-7 ten minutes into the first half. The Sabres then answered with a 17 to 9 run to tie the game 24-all at half time. Sandringham got the first score after the break, but Kilsyth regrouped scoring 23 to 9 in fourteen minutes to lead 47-35. The teams then traded baskets with the final score on the score sheet, Kilsyth 54 to Sandringham 40. A very good team effort and congratulations for making the grand final.

On court with an odd couple

By RUSSELL HOLMESBY

the basketball t, Kent Lockhart, Doug Studer are chalk and cheese. Two Americans in the Sandringham Sabres team are starkly different in their approach. Chained Lockhart is quiet, hard working "down, bum up" type. Studer is more vocal, giving off instructions and giving up plays.

It is a combination of the two that works, and each believes the two complement each other. A more intense per-play 100 per cent and hard to become a bet- individual player," he khart admits that on-communication is just rongest point, but he len an awareness of -mates' styles and erisms just as impor- as verbal communi- in. I think the best type munication is just ing when a player is to be there and what I do. It's like Zen," he dringham's two im- share a flat in Beau- and at first it seemed a session on the ta. Studer, a notori- rier was still at e, and sleepily sed over the phone.

The newly arrived Studer is starting to attract attention, but he will have a hard act to follow in Lockhart, who was selected in the National Basketball League All-Star five at the end of his first season last year.

He shared the honor with big names Andrew Gaze, Phil Smyth, Scott Fisher and Mark Davis — an indication of the impact he made for Eastside Spectres.

Daunted

Lockhart came to Australia to play for Sandringham, but when Eastside import Arne Duncan injured an ankle before the season, the club approached Sandringham about securing Lockhart.

There was no thought of breaking his commitment to the Sabres; instead of being daunted by the prospect of a heavier schedule, he thrives on it.

"I like playing more than once a week and it improves my skills. Most NHL players only play once a week, but that's not for me," he said. "Practice is fine and dandy, but coaches tend to concentrate on drills and nothing is the same as match conditions".

Lockhart's voracious appetite for the game is nothing new and during one American summer, he played in four leagues. "At one stage I played 17 games in 17 days and almost got delirious from playing so much. By that stage, the ball is almost a part of you. "Once in a while I get jaded, but it depends on your mental approach. If you want to play, you want to play," he said.

His determination is a far cry from his state of mind when he left college three years ago. A lifestyle he describes as "undisciplined" involved a succession of part-time jobs, from laboring to serving on tables.

An only child, Kent says his parents never tried to stop him entering professional basketball. Now 27, he was initially apprehensive about going into the Australian national league and was well aware of the high standard.

"I heard that Steve Corino played in the NBL here, so I knew it must have been a pretty high standard. It has even improved since last year," he said.

Better "I know one guy who was playing in the NBL three years ago who is now in the SEABL. The Americans coming over here are of a better standard now."

Doug Studer arrived in Australia in May and was recruited by Sandringham to plug the gap left by Vince Miern. The door opened at just the right time for the 25-year-old.

"I had been coaching at Columbia College and the lease was up on my condominium. This came up and within two weeks I was in Australia," he said.

Born in Jefferson City,

KENT Lockhart and Doug Studer ... like chalk and cheese but they make a winning combination on the basketball court.

Missouri, Studer's career began at Marquette College in Chicago. He went straight into teaching basketball at college and has a teaching degree in physical education.

His ambition is to become a college coach back in the US and he sees Australia as the perfect springboard. "There's a lot of opportunity here and I want to play and perhaps eventually coach in the NBL. I enjoy it here and although I have a family back home, there aren't any other ties," he said.

He intends to stay in Australia during the off-season. In the short time he has been here, he has seen the game progress.

He likens our current basketball scene to that prevailing in the US during the game's formative years.

"You see little kids do things here that they wouldn't have been able to do years ago. I've never seen so many people playing the game — old people, young people, men and women," he said.

"Usually it's a player like Andrew Gaze who takes the game by the arm and really generates interest."

Arouse

Studer was quick to arouse interest at a higher level. After six weeks with the Sabres, he was signed by SEABL-side Ballarat Miners to replace Gary Caspard.

The 193cm guard immediately made his presence felt with 39 points in his first game. He is happy to be part of the Ballarat scene while continuing his career with Sandringham.

As for his on-court role for the Sabres, Studer believes he has the right approach. "I tend to be a bit more vocal than Kent. I was captain of my college and high school teams and I feel that in every team there has to be someone willing to take the lead," he said.

He believes it is natural for Americans to take an assertive role on our courts and knows that he must play an educational role.

"They (the Australians) haven't lived the game like we have," he said. Sabres officials are delighted with Studer's contribution and the side's form has accelerated remarkably since mid-May.

Arouse watching Lockhart and Studer in action at the King Club can see that despite their different approaches, the pair have developed a special chemistry.

Division Two

Grand Final

Sandringham 50 d Werribee She-Devils 49

Scorers: K. Fischer 14, T. Aitkens 11, L. Graham 11, S. Gattuso 6, J. Yetsenga 4

Werribee quickly established an early break and despite some Sabres back court pressure, finished well to lead 32-23 at half time. However the next five minutes held the key to the game as Sandringham found their missing form to blitz their opponents 12 to 2 to be in front for the first time. Werribee then regrouped and answered 15-11 to regain the lead 49-46 with two minutes left but were now in team foul trouble, which was to the Sabres advantage.

Two drives to the basket resulted in fouls and the four points from the free throw line again had Sandringham in front as the clock entered the last minute.

A Werribee miss gave the Sabres possession and the Devils had to foul to stop the clock in the hope of forcing a turnover. The Sabres elected to go to the sideline rather than risk a missed bonus shot and Werribee now had to steal the ball to win.

After five fouls and side-out plays, the Devils finally got their chance as they forced a jump ball with only ten seconds remaining. This was the twenty eighth and last game for the season - that's 1120 minutes of playing time - and the match hinged on a few remaining seconds. The resultant tap was grabbed by the Sabres and with precise ball movement; they kept passing and wound down the clock for a nail biting one point win, 50-49.

Coach Paul Eadie was a happy and relieved man, the players were justifiably ecstatic as were the many supporters who saw a great team performance.

Sabres looking sharp

THE Sandringham "Triumph-Adler" Sabres had basketball fans jumping to their feet in the thrilling last two minutes of a game with saw them defeat the Nunawading Spectres by three points.

The first two quarters of the State League game last Wednesday saw the Sabres struggling to contain Steve DeLavaga, who had 26 of Nunawading's 50 half-time total, 18 from the three-point line.

Sandringham trailed by 15 points.

A 29 to 19 third quarter by the Sabres, with Kent Lockhart and Steve Lunardon now shutting out DeLavaga and Shane Probing, put the pressure back on Nunawading.

Vince Myers started the last with a quick eight points, Lockhart continued to find net and with Lunardon and Tony Cicco rebounding strongly the Sabres were down by one point with two minutes left to play.

The Spectres, now in foul trouble, sent Lockhart to the line and finally Sandringham were in front for the first time, one minute remaining.

Turnover

To stop the clock, Nunawading had to foul but turned over the ball and the resulting final basket allowed the Sabres to defend a three-point margin to win 50 to 49.

Kent Lockhart scored 37 points, had 22 rebounds and six assists, Vince Myers 25.7.7, with Steve Lunardon 18 points, 25 rebounds and two blocked shots.

On Saturday, at home to Dandenong, the game was almost a carbon copy of Wednesday's one. Sandringham's shooting percentage was low, but they mounted a desperate charge to grab the lead by one with five minutes showing on the clock. But this time the opposition was more steady in the end and drew away to win 80-76.

Their next game is away to Knox Raiders, this Wednesday, March 7.

In second Division, the TA Sabres men lost to University last week, 45 to 61, but are hoping to make amends against Auburn at the King Club this Wednesday. John Morrow scored 18 points, Paul Cervi 9, Ben Stainforth 7 and Jason Molin 6.

The TA Lady Sabres have won two out of three in their quest for division two honors.

Quarter Finals

Ballarat 94 d Sandringham 93

Scorers: D. Studer 36, P. Hotchkin 19, K. Lockhart 19, S. Lunardon 16

This season, the elimination quarterfinals were on a regional crossover basis. Finishing third in the south-east, the Sabres played reigning premiers Ballarat, who finished second in the north-west, at Ballarat. Down at 20-22 at the end of the first quarter, the Sabres then scored 35 to 25 to lead by 8 at half time. Ballarat replied and led by 2 half way into the last quarter until a 10 to 3 Sabres run had them back in front.

Again the Miners surged to be up by 1 with under a minute remaining. Sandringham's next 2 points were quickly answered and a late foul put Ballarat on the line with 2 seconds to go. The shot missed and although the Sabres rebounded, their last shot fell short - Ballarat 94 to Sandringham 93.

A disappointing end to their campaign, as they had survived a mid season slump to make the finals for the second successive year.

In an absolutely nail biting game, the TA Sabres were gallant in defeat going down by one point. Lunardon found his missing form and dominated the game, Myers was very solid at both ends, a tired Lockhart did a good job while Andrew Stavropoulos and Tony Cicco put in solid performances.

After trailing at half time by 8, the TA Sabres removed the deficit and led by 8, midway through the second half. A couple of 3 pointers by Larkins brought Blackburn back into the game and with a constant lead change in the last 5 minutes, the game headed towards a thrilling finale. Kent fouled out with two minutes remaining, Blackburn hit the lead by 1 and froze the ball to hold on by the skin of their teeth.

Vince is not alone but what a hassle

THE Sandringham Sabres aren't saying much about the departure of their US recruit Vince Myers, but it's obvious that the club's hip pocket is hurting.

The lanky Yank spat the dummy at Easter and hopped on a plane home.

There were a few Sabres people who suspected for a while that Myers was on the way out, but as one official said: "Most of us found out after he'd gone".

Family problems back in the US combined with a general yearning for home, and that sealed the issue.

There have been a couple of US departures from the NBL and those in the basketball world reckon Easter is usually the make or break time for Americans.

"By then they're either getting homesick or the teams have decided that they aren't up to scratch, and give them the flick," said one basketball man.

Thrillers

U/16AR Boys

Sandringham 61 d Diamond Valley 59

In this semi, the Sabres had blown out to a 20 point lead with ten minutes to play, only to see Diamond Valley close to in 10 with two minutes to go. This was further reduced to 1 point when an intentional foul put Sandringham on the line on the full time buzzer. One out of two made the final score 61-59 and a place in the grand final.

U/17AQ Boys

Sandringham 49 d Mountain Districts 47

Scorers: Scott 11, Gavin 11, Matt 11, P. Roolker 8, C. McKinnon 6

Against Mountain Districts, scores were tied with 6 seconds to go with the Sabres shooting two free throws. Both were missed, Sabres rebound, shot is attempted, foul and Scott goes to the line again. Did the siren go before the foul or is their one second on the clock? After some lengthy discussion, the clock is reset to one second and this time both attempts are good for a 49-47 win.

U/11AQ Boys

Sandringham 32 d Craigieburn 31

Scorers: Justin 10, Craig 8, Cory 8, Daniel 6

A real cliff hanger. Sandringham led by 1 point at half time but lost the lead late in the second half before a 3 pointer by Craig Watson and good team work gained them a 1 point victory.

CVIBL Women

Mildura 63 d Sandringham 62

Scorers: T. Stephens 17, K. Fischer 12, T. Walsh 11, R. Sheppard 8

30 seconds into the game Julie Quinn first game back from a knee injury was cut short as she again strained her knee. Now with only two on the bench, Sandringham were up by 1 point and seven seconds to go but a successful drive and lay-in left them behind, with Tess Walsh's three point shot just short on the siren. The Lady Sabres showed a great fighting spirit to go down to the taller Mildura 62-63.

Wangaratta 77 d Sandringham 76

Scorers: Tracy 25, Ketiah 22, Louise 18, Sally 10

The game hung in the balance with the score 61 all at three quarter time. The Sabres then got to be five up until a couple of errors had them down by one with 1.46 to play. Both teams fought it out to the end, but the score remained unchanged for a 76-77 loss to Sandringham.

Division One Men

Bulleen 98 d Sandringham 95

Scorers: Doug 30, Steve 24, Kent 13, Paul 7

Leading 48-44 at half time, the third quarter was disastrous as Kent sat with 5 fouls and Doug picked up his fourth. Bulleen then capitalised on this to lead by 14 with 5 minutes to play. Threes to Doug, Paul, and Andrew Stavropoulos plus baskets to Steve, brought the margin back to one with 14 seconds remaining. An intentional foul was called against the Sabres and with both shots good, Sandringham lost 95-98.

Scorers: K. Lockhart 38, S. Lunardon 21, D. Studer 12

The score was 61-all at three quarter time. The Cobras then moved ahead to lead by 7 with 4 minutes left to play, but Sandringham closed to within 3 with 20 seconds remaining. Sabres foul. Kilsyth side ball, inbound, Sabres steal as the clock reaches 10 seconds, 3 point shot long, rebound, outlet, 3 point shot short amongst cries of goal tending and overtime is denied, lost 81-84.

The Night of the Gowns and Tails

Well, what a night! Those who weren't there missed a night that had class, etiquette, protocol, nostalgia, Terry Walsh in a tie; and the entertaining prowess of Michael 'Like a Virgin' Burke. The food was great, the liquor served with a smile and the music great to dance to. There were stunners to the left and stunners to the right, some of whom had never been out of tracksuit pants and runners before.

If there was a fashion award to be given on the night, it would have gone to Brad Tomlinson. He graced this auspicious occasion wearing weight lifter parachute pants and a shirt which would look more at home on a pizza. To compliment the touch of individualism he wanted to achieve, he wore a black tie and studded shoes. If you didn't notice Brad, you were at the wrong the dinner dance.

Congratulations to all those who picked up the prizes, especially the thirty bottles of Crisco oil. A lot of people were very disappointed they missed out on that one.

Triathlon

The event started with a 600-metre swim followed by a 16 km bike ride and 5km run for the men, while the women rode 13 km and ran 4km.

The men's winner was Dean White in 1 hour 4 minutes 30-seconds, with Brad Andrews 5-seconds behind and Josh Hunt next with 1.07.

Sally Gattuso led the women home in just 1.06, followed by Tessa Walsh 1.09.5 and Kristian Harris, 14 years old, who completed the course in 1.30.

Some of the competitors rode extra kilometres as they missed (or nearly missed) turnoffs, Jacko ran the distance (no he didn't run on water), Terry would have won the masters division (if there was one) and the changing of clothes between the stages had to be seen to be believed.

Raw Prawn Award

This goes to Brian Lewin and Carey Edwards for skiing down Mt. Hotham in just shorts and singlets. Unfortunately, the only parts of them that froze were their brains so they're back at Sandringham as normal as ever.

New Kids on the Block

As you may have noticed there are some new referees on the hallowed floorboards of Sandy, Beau, Parkdale and St.James, but unlike the old guard (anyone who has refereed for more than 2 years) they have all the ingredients to be a good referee.

They are keen, motivated and have dollar signs in their eyes. I wonder which two of essential ingredients the old guard have lost? So, I would advise those of the aging fraternity to prove to your bosses, the dynamic duo of Andrew and Andrew, you are worthy; that is of course if you wish to maintain your current level of income.

September School Holiday Clinic

Another very successful basketball clinic was run during the first week of the school holidays, around 800 children attending the King club over the four days.

Thanks to Kent Lockhart, Dave Simmons, Steve Lunardon, Chris Fulton and Jim Pursell for their expertise. Also thanks to Frank Russo for his organisation.

Classic Quotes

Close Shave

After receiving a fairly touchy call from one of the referees for blocking with the leg, the frustrated female player gasped, 'I'm going to make sure I shave my legs before I play next week.'

Memories

After being asked why he wasn't taking notes at the coaches' course, the coach replied, 'I don't need to I've got a photogenic memory.'

Parasites

During the Division One Men's game, Carey Edwards was heard to say, 'I hate being big as I have to pass off to all the parasites.'

Water Boy

Against Dandenong, Paul Cervi sits and is handed a water bottle. Paul takes a mouthful and then says, 'Strop, this water's dry.'

Slo Mo

Whilst coaching her team in one of the finals, Marion bellowed the following frustrated comment, 'stop doing things in slow motion.'

Spickman Speechless

On Sunday 6th October last, Spick (Michael Stepien) went through the 1-2-1-1 Full Court Press at training. After training, he gave out a diagram of how this 1-2-1-1 press works. Sue Morgan then looked at the diagram and asked, 'do I have to run this 'offense' or not ???' Spick gave up.

Wrong End

A player was complaining about the thickness of her thick shake, (sounds silly already), when she decided to take the straw out (surprise, surprise) followed with the statement, 'the stuff comes out of the wrong end of these straws.'

In Need of Direction

If you are in need of directions, Anna's the person to ask. Just don't expect to get there in a hurry. She will take you to Bayswater to get to Frankston.

Black Rock U/15B Girls

Drew with Sandringham - Under 15B 1, 18-all; Marcia 8, Mad Dog 4, Angry 4, Shirley 2. They told us all week they would 'kill' us but they underestimated the power of Spick-A-Mania. Best game all season girls.

Lost to Coburg 30-37; Shirley 16, Angry 4, Elton 7, Mad Dog 3. We were leading 27-22 with 6 minutes left then we let them score 15 to our 3. Disappointing, but I've gotten used to throwing away leads! Lost to Warrandyte 32-33; Mad Dog 12, Angry 8, Stix 4, Shirley 3, Edna 3, Radish 2.

I've run out of excuses!! Although our field shot percentage did go from 36% last week to 59% this week. Don't ask me, I don't know!

A Lesson In English

Provoke v.t. cause; irritate; incense; arouse; excite

Retaliate v.t/i reply in kind; requite; revenge

These are two words that have figured prominently in the Sandringham Basketball Tribunal hearing held this year. Quite a few players, both juniors and seniors, have had weeks off to reflect on the meaning of both words. Don't you be the next to have them explained to you.

The Party

Come to a party at my Bayside home, the invite said, where you can, at the going down of the Sun, Bury your difference and celebrate 60 years of VBA basketball. Suddenly there was a Knox at the door and Gipps, Lands in.

'Where are Bee and the others,' he asked. 'And who is that funny looking clothes horse.' 'Just some Dandy Nong,' I replied over the noise. 'All Tona the music down.'

'Hell! Tha'm others not here yet,' he questioned. 'Gee! Long wait for you then.'

'Yes,' said I. 'I think Nun Are Wad'in to come, the invites must not have been sent. I'll Kill Syth and Keel (Haul) Orr for not doing it.'

'Bull! Een must have told them not to,' he suggested. 'Perhaps the others have gone to that Broad's Meadow's farm.'

'Ball(s)! A Rat has got into the system,' I replied. 'And it's off to Coburg College if I find out who it is ...Maybe Mel Borne the brunt of the responsibility.'

'No,' came the answer. His wife would not let him, she's too good is our Saint 'Hilda. Why not let Sand Ring 'Em and let's get started.'

Lobby

We continued to lobby strongly the Moorabbin Council, at each meeting, in relation to the Turner Road Pool site. Currently the project has lost momentum due to economic conditions and local residents applying pressure to the council not to proceed for various reasons.

1st April Edition Newsletter

Results of a survey done in the early 90's revealed that:

- 0.4% of Sandringham people had not heard Frank Russo's 'Road Runner' answer phone.
- 526.7km was the average distance traveled by Michael Burke on Friday nights.
- Bruce Mitchell rang the VBA 5.8 times a day.
- Strop devoured 9.2 sandwiches during after game suppers.
- Marian Moloney drank 3 bottles of Coke each Saturday morning at Parkdale.
- Carey Edwards while coaching on 23rd March 91, picked up a tech foul in 1 min 57 seconds. This record still stands to this day.

Bruce Mitchell starts broadcasting basketball results on Southern 88.3 FM radio.

Individual Achievements

Michael Phillips completes twelve years' consecutive service on the executive committee (Treasurer: 1979-1991). The longest serving treasurer in the club's history and the longest serving member in any one position on the executive committee.

Bruce Mitchell completes three years' service on the executive committee (Secretary: 1988-1991).

Jacinta Canestra, Jane Mason, Laura Silver, Jade Sheppard, Sam Hall and Gabbi MacMurray attend VBA U/12 Talent Identification Camp held at Albert Park during the September school holidays. All six girls more than held their own with the best players in the state.

Basketball in tricky bounce

THE year changes, but some sagas just keep on rolling.

If you thought the recent Moorabbin Council meeting on the oft-discussed new basketball stadium was a turning point in the long-running battle, then think again.

The Moorabbin Council decision to size up the plans until early March seemed to have stabilised the situation, but things are bubbling away under the surface.

There is a strong push towards having Sandringham Council add three courts to the existing court at the King Club complex in Tulip St.

Apparently the Victorian Basketball Association reckons there is enough demand to justify four courts at each centre, but the pro-Sandringham group wants to get in first and ensure that the present centre continues as the basketball focus for the south-eastern suburbs.

King Club manager Trevor Barker said it would be a great pity if Sandringham was replaced as the main basketball venue.

"It would be a tragedy for the Sandringham public and for the council when all the hard work to foster basketball has been done here."

"The King Club would love to expand by three extra courts, and the plans show that it would be easy to achieve."

If the Moorabbin move does proceed the basketball fraternity is arming itself with plenty of ammunition to head off objections from residents in the Turner Rd area.

A petition doing the rounds has already gathered 1500 signatures and that is sure to swell even further by the time Moorabbin Council discusses the basketball court again on March 4.

Ringwood (25) 44 d Sandringham (19) 42

Scorers: S. Mitchell 11, G. Southern 8, B. Moloney 7, M. Lewin 7, C. McKinnon 7

A slow start against Ringwood had the Sabres tailing 19-25 at half time, but a good fight back then reduced the deficit to 2 points as time ran out for a 42-44 loss. Coach Stuart Lewin.

U/14B

Quarter Final

Kilsyth 2 39 d Sandringham 27

Ballarat - Boys

Grand Final

Sunbury 53 d Sandringham 45

Scorers: S. Mitchell 13, C. McKinnon 13, B. Moloney 7, O. Hillebrand 6

Sunbury had a walking tree who was 203cm (6ft 8 inches for us old folk) and could fit Scott in his pocket, but to their credit they kept him out of the game.

Sunbury had the early lead, but a good Sabres fight back levelled the scores at 23 all at half time. It was 28 a piece with fifteen minutes to play when Sunbury got what was to be the winning break, scoring 10 to 2 and although Sandringham tried hard, they lost by this 8 point split. Coach Stuart Lewin.

Melbourne - Girls

Semi Final

Sandringham lost by three points

Lost a great game after leading by 6 with 5 minutes to go. The telling factor was the fouling out of two of the players, which only left four on the court for the last three minutes.

U/14

Semi Final

Albury (11) 26 d Sandringham (12) 23

Scorers: Gabby 12, Natalie 6, Jolanta 2, Nicole 1

From 10-4 down 10 minutes in, we fought back to lead at half time. The second half biggest margin was 2 points when with 30-seconds to play and 1 point down, we were forced to try to steal the ball and on fouling, Albury went to the free throw line for a one on one. Unfortunately they made both and a last 3 point effort just missed (by about 10 feet). Coach Carey Edwards.

U/16

Grand Final

Sandringham AR d Albury by 16 points

The girls took a long time to get going, at one stage being down 11 to 1 before finding their range. At half time they trailed by 4, but powered away to a convincing 16 point win. Congratulations to all the girls.

U/18A Boys Ballarat TournamentBallarat 42 d Sandringham 40

Scorers: Chris 12, Scott 9, Owen 5

Scott's 21st

Division 2 WomenSandringham 51 d Werribee 48

Scorers: L. Graham 17, T. Walsh 11, J. Stephens 9

Up 49-37 against Werribee with 3 minutes to play, it quickly became a matter of urgency as 11 to zero run against reduced the margin to 1 point. A lay-in on the buzzer however saved the game 51-48.

VBA MenNunawading 108 d Sandringham 106

Scorers: Chris 38, Gintas 27, Tony 8

A classic shoot-out with Nunawading just getting the upper hand in the last minute to win 108-106. Paul Cervi played an excellent defensive and passing game, especially in the last crucial quarter.

A fast mover on the court

GAELE Fischer says her height has been an advantage on the basketball court.

"Because I'm short I can get down to the ball quicker and while the taller people are starting to bend down, I have already run away with the ball."

Gaele says she was five foot two inches when she first played, "but I've shrunk since then".

She is hoping that other women can find as much enjoyment in basketball as she has.

The Sandringham Sabres run a senior daytime women's competition on Monday and Thursday mornings.

Fifteen teams compete in the competitions and more than 60 players turn out over the two morning sessions, but Gaele would love to hear from prospective players.

"There was a rumor that we were folding up because we were struggling for numbers. We could do with a boost."

Gaele says the competition has built up over 10 years, but there are places for skilled and unskilled players to join in.

"We try to keep the teams evenly balanced, and there are great facilities for mums at the King Club. The creche is tremendous and we virtually occupy the coffee shop on Mondays and Thursdays."

GAELE Fischer tries some slick moves on David Simmons.

Gaele's daughter is one of the younger players at 18, but the ages range up to 50. She warns that the older age bracket need to be fit before taking the game on.

It is not a money making exercise as the costs of registration and insurance are small and there is fee of $3.50 per game. The season finishes in the first week of May, followed by three weeks of finals. A new season starts straight away.

Gaele Fischer would like to hear from anyone interested in joining on 537 6066.

The division two men's team play best of three challenge matches to avoid relegation. Win first game, 55-54. Then forfeit the challenge series because of ineligible player. Relegated to third division.

Disclaimer

For those who had sinister thoughts about why Michael missed training on Sunday, the actual reason was that he had to be gone by 7.00am to retrace his previous night's steps in order to find his misplaced tooth. How he lost his tooth is another matter.

Ballarat Tournament Highlights

Sheep Talk

Spick has developed a new strategy for testing whether or not what he is saying is too difficult for the Spickettes to understand. He discusses it with sheep first and if they comprehend, uses these tactics with the girls.

Hi Mum

It seems that the Ballarat cold left no one unaffected. It was so severe in the main stadium Jolanta was convinced that a particular poor unsuspecting woman was her mother and like a normal affectionate child, she sat on her lap. It wasn't until she was given a few funny looks from friends that she came to her senses and realised she had plotted her 'behind' on a total stranger. Not to be fazed she promptly rose, said 'good bye' and went on her way.

Hallway Monitor

For the first time this year somebody made the ultimate sacrifice and used their body to block the cold Ballarat draft from a number of the adults' rooms. To be totally effective this meant that the good Samaritan had to lie parallel to the floor. Although there are a number of rumours as to why and how the person came to be in this position, who could doubt the supreme sacrifice that was made for the good of one's fellow freezers.

The Big Night Is Close

For those who don't remember, those who can't remember and those who would prefer to forget, the Sabres' Dinner Dance is just around the corner. Don't disappoint yourself by putting it off till the last moment, the chances of being able to get a table or even a spot on the night will be less than the Dickey Knees A grade men's team, getting through the season injury free (the Dickey Knees consist of five Sabres or ex-Sabres who have had major knee surgery).

Thank You - In Anticipation

To the person(s) who removed the badges from my car in the King Club park during the Junior Domestic Finals on Sunday 13th September - the police have a nice set of your finger prints. If the badges are returned to the King Club, no further action will be taken.

Classic Comment

This one comes from a well informed and frustrated Z grade player. For those of you who are unsure Z grade is anything where enthusiasm vastly overshadows ability. Whilst dribbling down the court under total control as all players of this level do, the unsuspecting player was called for a charge. Totally dumbfounded the offensive player replied 'how can you call that, he just stood in front of me.'

Trivia Night Highlights

- The effort of the U/18 Boys finishing in the top few, and their lack of willingness to share their coke with their parents.
- The Mentone Mustangs table's willingness to swap food for answers.
- The per capita consumption of alcohol on Brian's table.
- The number of tables claiming they finished last.

Diary of a Parent - Ballarat Tournament

Friday 11.30pm

Leave Melbourne at 8.30pm after watching another game of basketball. Stop McDonalds, stop toilets, stop sick, stop McDonalds again. Arrive at Ballarat, 10.30pm eventually find camp 11.30pm. My idea of a fun place to stay must be different from my daughter's. Check on kids every 5 minutes. They're always asleep when I get to the door. Must be a spy in the parents' room. Some kid dressed as an adult. Some of them look too happy and relaxed to be parents. It's just like Stalag 13 film.

Saturday 8.00am

Played a friendly game of cards last night. Lost the family house and car. Didn't know that in reverse, stud poker with wild 7's and 2's, that a pair of sixes beats a royal flush.

Had to see the caretaker to find out whether there is a yearly accommodation rate for a family. Got 15 minutes sleep. Watched another game of basketball.

Saturday Noon

Just watched my seventh game of basketball. Had my fifth cup of coffee. The repetitive bounce of the ball is slightly hypnotic. Where is court 8? Have to be there in three minutes. Get to watch the warm-ups of that game and then drive 14 kids to court 3. Or is that court 4.

Saturday 7.00pm

Just drove to court 12. If I hear that 'diarrhoea' song one more time I'll scream. Besides which, the lunchtime frankfurts are making that song very real to me.

Sunday 3.00am

Kids finally to bed. Or are they? Find I'm having a lot of paranoiac thoughts. Perhaps due to lack of sleep.

Sunday 7.00am

Get up for 8.00am game after 30 minutes sleep. Find out, from someone else, that some of the kids have not been seen in their rooms all night. Was it my child? He/she used to be so sweet and obedient before this trip.

Sunday 7.00pm

Finally have ten minutes to myself. No kids, no basketballs, no inside of a car. Have to recommend the toilets at the Ballarat stadium to more of the parents. Becoming a bit highly strung.

Monday 1.00am

Kids have just checked on me for the twentieth time tonight. The local doctor has also been in. Kids look like they are as energetic as ever. That was their plan. They slept on the first two nights whilst I checked on them every five minutes and now that I'm bedridden with stress and exhaustion Paranoiac thoughts continue.

This will be my last entry for the weekend. I need a decent bed to sleep in, a bath, a month's holiday, a good meal and a stiff drink.

Pity I have to go to work on Tuesday morning.

I think I echo the sentiments of all parents who went to the Ballarat Junior Basketball Tournament. It has the potential to be a very enjoyable weekend. If only we could get rid of the juniors and the basketball.

360 Degrees

Since last year's Annual General Meeting the Association's direction and emphasis has turned 360° and we were until two weeks ago in final negotiations with the City of Sandringham and the Victorian Basketball Association to build three additional courts onto the existing one at the King Club Tulip street. The project had progressed to the point of the Victorian Basketball Association submitting draft tender documents for approval to the City of Sandringham. At this stage a third party, 'Life be In It' Australia has entered with a lucrative offer to the City of Sandringham to build facilities within the City of Sandringham over a period of time.

By Mark Mitchell

Junior Domestic Referees

Another year which started well, with most games covered by two referees. But then; some of the refs discovered Plugger, whatever that may be, others invented snow, others found out that school dances, balls, socials or what ever, go past their normal 9.00pm bed times, many were strangled periodically by CATs, and these minor matters turned into big deals, big enough to forego refereeing occasionally.

Generally the standard of refereeing is improving, although we should admit we can all improve. Unfortunately, a few coaches and players are not smart enough to realise this. Not only do some not appreciate the efforts made to keep games running smoothly, but they criticise in unsportsmanlike fashion. No referees can satisfy both sides with every decision, but there is no intention on a ref's part of favouring one side over another.

Unfortunately there is a growing trend amongst players and coaches towards acting as if every game is being played for a sheep station. Competition is a good thing but being over competitive is another. Two examples are triple teaming, and abusing opposition players from the bench and stand. These people need to realise that basketball is a game.

Grand Final

Sandringham 30 d Kilsyth 27

It was a tough game and although a little under sized, the girls did well to out rebound the Cobras taller timber. The long awaited break finally came in the last minutes and the girls then fought too hard to give up what they had worked so hard for. A Kilsyth three pointer in the heart stopping final seconds did not hit the spot and this left the Sabres well deserved victors 30-27. Coach Donna Mitchell.

Scorers: Mathew 14, M. Ainley 9, K. Sheehan 7, D. Molino 6, D. Poyton 6, T. Fish 6

The Sabres could not get their routine together which allowed Collingwood early unwanted points. Towards the end of the game the boys picked up the pace to get within striking range, but their fight back fell short and Collingwood were too strong on the night. Coach Wayne Sheehan.

U/14ARGrand Final

Sandringham 44 d Doncaster 37

Although lacking a few centimetres, the Sabres aggressive defensive pressure, smooth running motion in offence and total team commitment won out in the end. An excellent result for a season of hard work by all players.

Melbourne Uni 52 d Sandringham 40

Scorers: C. Edwards 14, D. White 10, P. Hamill 9, A. Mitchell 6, Ben 4, R. Morris 3, J. Margheriti 2

Against a full strength Latrobe, the Sabres early shooting woes continued and they were more than matched on the boards by the taller opposition. Down 10 to 20 after 14 minutes of play, the Sabres swarming defence then forced turnovers which were converted into points for a 22 all half time score.

After the break, Latrobe again regained the lead and were up 46 to 41 as the clock showed 2 minutes to go. Both teams were now in the bonus situation but the Sabres fought back - minus Paul Hamill with a corked thigh - to trail 48-49 with 8 seconds remaining. A foul to stop the clock gave Latrobe a one and one of which both were successful and the Sabres good season ended. Coach Terry Walsh.

Werribee seemed to play less aggressively which did not suit them. Two of their better players fouled out leaving them few scoring avenues and they then over reacted and committed 16 team fouls which left us shooting one and ones successfully.

Scorers: Bickmore 43, Frazier 28, Cogger 21, M. Sawyer 20

The first three quarters were fluctuating ones with Eltham pulling away 112-97 at the last break. Three pointers from Michael Sawyer (3) and Frazier (2) helped pull the score back to 122-118 at the seven minute mark and it was still Eltham, 139-137, with 15 seconds remaining. After an Eltham missed one-and-one, the Sabres swept forward and Adam Shaw sunk two foul shots to tie the game ... or did he? A check on the score sheet showed Eltham 139-138, but the video evidence and the running tally later proved that the Sabres had forced a draw, the game will now be replayed.

Sabres sign up top US players

IT is rare for a basketballer with experience in the US's National Basketball Association (NBA) to line up with an Australian team.

It is even rarer for an ex-NBA man to be snared by a club outside our own national competition, but the Triumph Adler Sandringham Sabres has managed to do just that in securing Lawrence Frazier.

Frazier and fellow American Eric Harrington are spearheading the Sabres' charge back to success after a rather flat 1990 season.

Frazier made the grade at the highest level with San Antonio Spurs, but had only a short contract and when it expired he decided immediately to come to Australia. He toured Australia last year with Team America and was keen to make another journey.

Sandringham officials interviewed him on the Saturday after he arrived in Australia and he signed on the following Thursday.

The Sandy hierarchy stitched up Frazier's international clearance in less than 24 hours — an amazing feat considering the complications that usually arise in such cases.

Eric Harrington is no stranger to the Australian scene. He came out from Chicago in 1989 and first turned out for Dandenong.

After returning home for a break, he played with Werribee for two years.

Sandringham approached him late in 1990 and the 26-year-old centre signed in October.

"I'm very optimistic," he said as Sandringham officials beamed with expectant grins in the background.

Southern

Sandringham changes its name to Southern in an extra ordinary meeting, 30th March 1993. Unanimous vote.

NBL Comes To Sandringham

On Saturday 3rd April, the South East Melbourne 'Big M' Magic and the Hobart Tassie Devils played a full scale NBL practice game in front of a packed house at the King club.

All the stars were in action, including Shane Bright, Andrej Lemanis, Andrew Howey and Kent Kavanagh from the Magic who also plays VBA with the Sabres.

Southern Sabres Logo - May 1993-2000

After an even first quarter at 13 all, the Magic gradually established a lead to be up 52-46 at half time and 78-63 going into the last. A spirited fight back by the Devils then started to eventuate, but the reigning national premiers were too steady on the night for a 102-90 win.

Scorers: Magic - Bruce Bolden 23, Tony Ronaldson 21, Andrew Parkinson 21, Darren Lucas 14, David Graham 12, Robert Rose 11; Devils - Andrew Svaldenis 21, Donald Whiteside 16, Wayne McDaniel 15, David Close 10.

The Big Game

What a fantastic experience for the U/12 B1 boys to play at the tennis centre as a warm up game for the NBL Perth Wildcats vs North Melbourne Giants. I would like to say the lights and the atmosphere got to them, as we lost 34-14 to Templestowe, but how many under 12's can say they played in front of 5000 fans.

Old News - From the 'Archaeological Times'

At a recent archaeology dig, an ancient clay tablet was unearthed and the following was deciphered:

"The following tribe from the south, wearing the skins of the Sabre tooth feline did battle with the Tiger worshipping tribe for the state rock throwing title. The tiger men had left the sanctuary of their lakeside fortress to travel to the coliseum of the King of the Sands for the event.

The populous had gathered to oversee the proceedings and also to make much comment to the two keepers of the rock, who were easily distinguished by their zebra skin adornments. After being thrown away by one of the keepers, both tribes did endeavour to take possession of the rock and pass it through a hole at a great height in the overhanging ledges at both ends of the coliseum.

Every so often, the keeper would call for the rock to be returned then changed his mind and give it back, a motion that alternatively enraged the local towns-folk and visitors alike.

This action and when the rock did pass through one of the holes, was confirmed by a wise sage and also noted by she of the many coloured chinks along with how or why the rock changed possession.

Both tribal chiefs would, upon much gesticulation, rotate their clan into the fray until the calling for a long interval rest period by the sounding of a cattle horn was heard.

This halt in proceedings allowed many small children to try to throw the rock through the hole from long distances under the guidance of the music maker

Both tribes would then return and for a short time, see who could force the rock down the hole from the greatest height and in the most unusual ways.

Upon the sounding of the horn again, the keepers did once more throw the rock away and the war continued at a fast pace until near completion, when many from both tribes would be given unhindered attempts making the last moments seem an eternity.

The horn was heard for a final time signifying the end of this annual ritual with those of the sabre skins victorious by 'the score of 100-99 rocks successful.

However, amongst the celebrations it was learned that men from the blue tribe had to be called to investigate the visitors' claims that 'we waz robbed.'

The article then concluded with the statement that the inscription I-IV-IXIII was also noted and it was hoped that more tablets would be found so that many could gaze upon them.

Women Are Innately As Aggressive As Men?

It looks like those thumping women were at it again. In what can be described as the daintiest game in Sabres' Domestic history, the overly aggressive Basketears 28 defeated the hacking Hustlers 22, in the first game ever no foul game in senior competition. Skeptics may call foul, questioning the scorer's ability, but having personal knowledge, of the teams, that is unlikely. Don't you wish you had a few of these on a Tuesday night, Frank.

SBA Referee Association

At an extraordinary meeting held on Sunday 20th June to form our Referee Association. The following were elected; President Andrew Stavropoulos, V/President Carey Edwards, Secretary Craigh Leith, Treasurer Andrew Sheedy.

Youth Policy

The men's senior Championship Committee Program has adopted a youth policy agreed by the Coaches, Match Committee and the Championship Committee. Regrettably, this has left no position with the current team for some of our longer serving players. The youth policy will lay the foundations for a solid future for the young Sabres players currently playing in the junior teams of the club.

It was deeply regrettable that some of the long serving senior players were advised that they were no longer required for the future. I would like to take this opportunity to thank them all for their many years of service to the Association.

Struggle

Our division 1 men's team struggled, particularly early in the season. Andrej Lemanis took over as coach from Ken Flannigan about a third of the way through the season. The positive contributions of our 'imports' being our Magic contingent of Andrew Parkinson, Shane Bright, Leigh Wadeson, Rupert Sapwell and particularly near the end of the season, John Dorge together with Chris McKinnon had a marked impact.

CVIBL Women Comeback

Last year we finished 2nd last in our conference, 16th out of 18 teams in the league. We started the season losing the first three games in a row by a total of 60 points!

Then after injecting some new blood into the team, we then won the next five games in a row. We could have made it 6 on end had we not had a one point loss to top of the ladder Ringwood, who themselves had a nine game winning streak. To the team's credit, they fought back after this game to win 5 out of the next 7 games to make the final play-offs for the first time since 1990.

Costly hiccup for Sabres

AN unfortunate incident possibly cost the Sandringham Sabres an upset victory over State League basketball leaders the Coburg Giants last week.

Looking for their sixth win in a row, the Sabres took an early lead and continued on to be up 68-59 at half time and 99-95 at three quarter time.

However, one minute into the last quarter, Coburg's Mike Kelly slammed home a two-handed dunk — and in doing so, pulled down the ring.

Luckily the backboard held firm and after a short time the spare ring was in place and play resumed with Sandringham still leading, 106-105.

In contrast, the Sabres lost momentum — and eventually the game 119-131.

Effective

Jeff Bickmore scored 38 Sandringham points and took 15 rebounds, Scot Patterson shot 35, Andrew Howey 14, Kent Kavanagh 13 and Andrej Lemanis 12.

Coburg was more effective from the field, 63 to 46 per cent, mainly due to Pat Reidy's 42 points, Paul Rees' 33 and Kelly's 27.

This was the Sabres' fifth loss out of 13 games and they will be want-

Sabres d Collingwood All-Stars by 5 points

This was a replay of last years' grand final against Collingwood All-Stars, only this time we won. Both sides started with strong defence until Sabres broke away to lead by 5 points just before half time. To Collingwood's credit, they fought back to level the scores at 22-all at half time and continued after the break to be up by 7 points. This time the Sabres came back and with good passing and solid man to man defence, took the lead and went on to win the premiership. Coach Wayne Sheehan.

Top of the ladder Eltham 1 took the early lead, 19 to 9 with good passing to find the open man under the basket and accurate shooting extended this to 37-19 at half time. The Sabres then finally broke through the defence and ran the floor well to close to within 8 midway into the second half. However, Eltham was able to slow the game to their liking and gained the advantage from the foul line in the last minutes for a 69-53 win. Coach Tom Flavin.

Thrillers

Championship Women

Sandringham 54 d Bayside 52

Scorers: Heidi 14, K. Fischer 11, Jenny 8, S. Gattuso 8

The Sabres pulled off what the VBA described as 'the upset of the year' by holding on for a 54-52 win over play-off favourites Bayside. The turning point came late in the game as Jenny Song made four in a row free throws from a foul and a Bayside technical. This four point buffer was to prove enough in the final hectic minutes and coach Michael Stepien called it a moral booster.

CVIBL Women

Sandringham 85 d Mildura 82

Scorers: K. Fischer 31, Lisa 16, C. Raile 15, Dearne 10

Down by 5 points at quarter time 17-22, the Sabres drew level at half time 36-36, were up by 2 at the last break 56-54 and up by 3 with six seconds remaining 76-73. Mildura then connected with a three pointer on the buzzer to take the game into overtime where the Sabres held on to a well deserved win 85-82.

Knox 61 d Sandringham 60

Scorers: Tracy 10, K. Fischer 16, Lisa 14, Dearne 20

Hit by injuries, the 5.5 players took to the field to do battle - a most appropriate word as it turned out - against Knox. During the first period, Bianca White rolled an ankle and Ketiah was elbowed in the ribs just before half time. Both were able to return later to see out the game although understandably slower. Tiredness, a lack of concentration and errors by the Sabres plus a Knox three on the buzzer tied the game and it finally ended up 60-61 loss.

Division 3 MenEltham 43 d Sandringham 42

Scorers: M. Robinson 14, A. Stavropoulos 12, C. Renfree 8

Controversy surrounded the Sabres 1 point loss to Eltham. The scoreboard showed 42-all with thirty seconds left to play and Sandringham holding the ball for the, hopefully, game winning shot. A pass was then deflected out by Eltham, but the call went Eltham's way amidst cries of protest. The call stood, the final buzzer sounded soon after and a check of the score sheet revealed the scoreboard wrong for a 42-43 Sabres loss. Coach Flavins comments regarding the call can not be printed.

VBA Division 1 MenSandringham 107 d Ballarat 104

Scorers: Jeff 37, Scot 30, Shane 20, Kent 17

The Miners raced to an early 11 point lead behind the two Eric's, Cook and Hayes. A Sabres surge allowed them to catch up and later they held a 106-104 advantage with 20 seconds left to play. A Sandringham foul then put Cooks on the line for 'one and one' and he obliging missed the first, which gave the Sabres possession. Now Ballarat had to foul, which they did but only a side ball, that is, until a technical was called straight after. Kent made one from two and Sabres deflected a long pass on the siren for a 107-104 win.

Division 3 MenM.L.S. 48 d Sandringham 46

Scorers: Strop 13, G. Southern 8, J. Morrow 8

Down 19-21 at half time, the Latvians went ahead until a 'Stroppa' three pointer tied the game at 46 all with ten seconds to play. M.L.S. then shot ahead and a 13 foot (4 metres) fade away prayer on the buzzer gave them the game, 48-46. Another heart breaking loss to the Sabres, the fourth by 5 points or less.

VBA Division 1 MenSandringham 126 d Broadmeadows 124

Scorers: Bickmore 38, Patterson 29, Lemanis 21

The Sabres were down by two points with thirty seconds to play. A Shane Bright lay-up and resultant foul shot then gave Sandringham a one point break, but the Broncos replied in kind except the bonus free throw was missed. Andrew Howey took the rebound and passed to Scot Patterson who raced down court with seven seconds remaining. Then came the 'shot' as Scot launched it from way beyond the three point arc just before the final buzzer ... and it was all net. Sabres 126 to Broncos 124.

VBA Division 3 MenSandringham 55 Monash 54

Scorers: M. Robertson 19, G. Kanngisser 13, D. Howe 6, G. Southern 6, P. Goodwin 5, A. Stavropoulos 4

Elimination final. The Sabres started 6 to zero before failing to stop the opposition's outside shooting and as a result, were down by eight points at half time. Regrouping, Sandringham caught up and it was basket for basket, with Monash up by 2 and seconds to play, before the Sabres last shot forced over time at 45-all. Again it was point for point until a Sabres foul gave Monash two free throws as the final buzzer sounded for the second time. Amidst deathly silence, both shots were missed and at 51 for both teams, it was now double overtime. The normal five minutes was reduced to three and with six seconds remaining, Monash - now trailing by 1 point - had one last chance for heroics. Solid defence pressured the last shot which rimmed out and with the rebound safely in their keeping, the Sabres had won 55-54.

First Game At 40

At the age of 40 I have just experienced my first basketball match! Don't get me wrong. Like most of you, I have been fortunate enough to be a spectator at literally hundreds of basketball games. I have sat and cheered as a mum, given support as a team manager, and on rare occasions, have even been called on to coach (knowing far less than any of the nine or ten year olds under my so called 'direction.') But this game was different - I was actually playing (please excuse my misuse of the word!)

A team full of Bullits mums decided that the newly introduced 'over 35's' competition sounded like just the right sort of introduction to the world of the basketball player. After all, haven't we all spent hours outside with our little Michael Jordans and Andrew Gazes, happily free throwing, driving, shooting and dribbling our way around the backyard? Haven't we all seen enough games to know the rules, know how not to travel, know how to hit the boards?! WRONG !!!

It certainly is a different ball game when you're out there on the court. When an enthusiastic supporter calls out 'shoot!' or 'drive!' and all you can see is a wall of bodies (help!). When you stand there, arms stretched towards the sky in what feels like the right sort of defence, and you find yourself flat on the floor with aching ribs (so that's what it feels like to be fouled for a block!).

When you're so tired that you can't run down the court one more time. (So what if they get 2 more points - they're already 48 ahead!) When you think that you're in control and the ball is suddenly flicked out of your hands (hey, that was my ball!).

Yes, it was an experience ! An experience that I'm so glad I had. Apart from anything else, I had a great time. We laughed a lot - at ourselves and at each other - and over the following few days we ached a lot! But the best thing that I gained from my first game was an increasing respect for, and admiration of, my children.

Win or lose, rise or fall, I have always marveled at my kids - at all of our kids. At their love of life, their willingness to 'have a go', their enormously different abilities, their commitment. But now I have an even greater respect for them.

To all of you - if the opportunity rears its sometimes ugly head - leap at the chance and have a go!! There is so much to be learnt.

Melbourne Juvenile Justice Centre vs Sabres

On Sunday 6th November, Andrew Toth from 'Life Be in It' /Sandringham City Council organised a game between the Melbourne Juvenile Justice Centre and the U/18 Sabres boys. This game was organised as part of the 'Come'n Try Activity Program' for young people and supported by the Victorian Department of Justice's 'Start' program. The aim of the 'Start' program is to improve relationships between sporting and recreation organisations, local police and the young people in the community. Mayor of Sandringham, Cr. Carmen Watson, presented a perpetual trophy to the winning team, which was the Sabres 54-52 virtually on the last shot of the game.

Game Number 40,000

The last official game to be played on the King Club stadium floor was on Tuesday, 29th March 1994. This was an A grade women's domestic grand final between Gators 60 and Demons 28 and was game number 40,000 (give or take 3000 depending on who counted) since the Sandringham Basketball Association moved into the King Club in 1979.

First Time

The first official game in the new Sandringham Stadium. Stella Maris Gold play the Sharks Red team (the U/10 boys modified grade). City of Sandringham Mayor Cr. Carmen Watson started the game at 4.14 pm, Friday, 19th August.

The first Southern Sabres Primary School basketball round robin was played during term 4, 1994. Teams from Sandringham Primary, Stella Maris, and Beaumaris North Primary participated, with the eventually winner being Stella Maris. Teams played rapid style nine minute games with substitutions on any whistle and each score counting for one point.

Individual Achievements

June Hamill completes seven years' of service on the executive committee (Secretary: 1984-1988, 1991-1994).

Chris McKinnon selected for the Victorian Under 20 squad and also the Magic training squad.

Tracy Aitken, Lisa Mulrooney represent the Sabres in the CVIBL Women All Star Game held at Werribee. Sabres' Sophie Wainwright was entered in the three point shoot out and did well to qualify for the last 5.

Sabres lose a close one

ALTHOUGH missing starters Andrew Parkinson and Sean McCall, the Sandringham Sabres jumped the Bulleen Boomers for a 19-15 quarter time lead in game 18 of State League basketball.

But the Sabres were unable to hold on in a tight game, and eventually went down 84-89.

Both teams had trouble putting the ball into the basket early and poor shooting continued to half time with the Sabres leading 39-38.

The lead changed many times in the second half until the Boomers were up by two points with 20 seconds left.

A pass was then intercepted by Bulleen and to stop the clock, the Sabres had to foul — unfortunately it was called an intentional foul.

Sandringham's best player was centre John Dorge, who scored 21 points and blocked five shots, he was well supported by Leigh Wadeson, who had 19 points and 11 rebounds.

Sabre rookies Mark Watkins and Scott Mitchell also had big games, with Watkins 17 points plus 7 rebounds, and Mitchell 14 and 11 respectively.

Tonight (Wednesday) at Albert Park, Sandringham takes on Bayside.

In Division Three, the Sabres (1) continue to dominate, this time with a 81-39 win over the youthful Sabres (2).

Glen Kangiesser scored a game high 34 points, Joe Nargheriti 12, Luke Gattuso 10 and the Sabres (1) should record another win at Oakleigh (2) tonight.

The Lady Sabres lost 64-71 to Box Hill in the qualifying league, but were not disgraced in a high standard game.

KATE ROBERTSON

Work will begin on a $1.5 million basketball stadium in Sandringham this month after a successful tender process before Christmas. The stadium will be built next to the council-owned Family Leisure Centre in Tussock St.

Sandringham's manager of technical and environmental services, Bernard Smith, said the council aimed to provide a much-needed facility, but it was expected the centre would be money within 15 years.

"It's a very significant project as far as the council's concerned," Mr Smith said.

"It will be adjacent to the existing leisure centre (the King Club) and have four multi-purpose basketball courts and associated amenities."

Mr Smith said the centre should be finished by July and it would be leased to the Southern Basketball Association.

"It's being funded by the council although the lease agreement with the Basketball Association means over that (15 year) period they will be paying off the building."

"In time it will be making money for the council," Mr Smith said.

"At this stage the Southern Basketball Association need it for their members. They will be able to use it for all their basketball venues."

"There is already a supply of hundreds of them ready to use it ... they have to turn away teams at the moment."

"The people who will be playing there will come from Brighton, Moorabbin, Mordialloc and Sandringham — the catchment is large."

There was a desperate need for basketball facilities in bayside, Mr Smith said.

Mr Smith said he thought the multi-purpose centre would work well with the King Club Leisure Centre.

"At the leisure centre now we have the heated pool, gym, squash courts and sports medical clinic," he said.

"Obviously the two are going to complement themselves very well. The people using the basketball will see the (King Club) facilities. It will definitely generate demand."

Sandringham Council awarded the tender to McCorkell Construction Company.

In the second half, the Wolves finally caught up to lead by two points with less than one minute to play via accurate three point shooting. Two foul shots by the Sabres tied the game and pressure defence then gave them the ball with 14 seconds to go. As a key way drive was blocked, an outlet pass was then made, the shot taken and after rolling around on the rim fell through the net. The final score of 53-51 not only meant the premiership, but also that the Sabres gained automatic elevation into division two next season. Coach Steve Toming.

Well our seventh game in two days was taking its toll. Legs were not pumping, bad calls (???), shots not dropping, our two offences not working (mine and theirs). Sabres claim flag

THE third division men's State League basketball grand final between the Sandringham Sabres (1) and Oakleigh Wolves (1) last Wednesday was not decided until the final four seconds of the game.

The Sabres started slowly and missed many shots in the first half, but still managed to hold a 25-22 lead at the half time interval.

In the second half, the Wolves finally caught up to lead by two points with less than one minute to play via accurate three-point shooting.

Two foul shots by the Sabres tied the game and pressure defence then gave them the ball with 14 seconds to go.

An outlet pass was then made, the shot taken and after rolling around on the rim, fell through the net.

The final score of 53-51 also meant that the Sabres gained automatic elevation to division two next season.

Andrew Daff had a game high 15 points and was judged best player. Tim Barlow shot 10 points, John Morrow 9, including the winning basket from Daff's assist and Glen Kangiesser seven plus rebounds.

Also striving to make to the top are the Sabres women who defeated Geelong 58-54 to secure their place in the Eastern Conference of the Country Invitation League.

This year, the semifinals and grand finals of the Women's Country League will be held at the Sabres home court in Tullaghan St. on September 17 and 18.

They Call Him Bruce

Bruce, the man who put Sabres in print is retiring. This is just a simple tribute to the man who has helped the Association reach a far larger audience than those directly involved. His articles in the local paper have been a continuous promotion for the club. How well he has promoted the sport through the local area can be judged through the numerous VBA awards Bruce has received for Best Basketball Coverage in a local paper.

As those who know him will agree, Bruce has always put his family first, and he has looked after his baby, the Newsletter, with the pride of a first time father. Keeping the enthusiasm going for its entire running. We would all be less the wiser if it were not for Bruce hassling coaches for results and photos. Scouring the comics for a bit of humour and keeping his ears open for classic comments. We wish him well as he spends more time watching Scott play, than reporting on the club's triumphs and tribulations.

There Could Be Only One, BRUCE!

The King is Back

One Monday night while reffing, Stroppa was back to his scintillating best. As a loose ball headed for Stroppa and the sideline with players bearing down on him, Stroppa did the only thing he could possibly do. He skillfully and discreetly tapped the ball back into play and into the waiting arms of a defensive player, who now found himself wide open and alone on a fast break in the opposite direction.

The player headed for the basket. However after making it three quarters of the way down court, guilt and some persuasive language from opposition players caused our hero to admit the error of his ways and call the play back.

381 Kilos

The Sabres junior tournament weekend went virtually without a hitch, until an incident involving one team sparked a potential inflammatory situation. After a heated post match discussion the members of this team (who lost the semi final) gathered menacingly in the foyer of the stadium.

Tournament Chairman John Anderson wishing to diffuse the situation quickly cast an eye around the stadium for some effective enforcers. He noticed gathered near the change rooms, Mark Mitchell, Danny Tighe and Tony Coote. 'I couldn't have selected three better people,' boasted Anderson. 'Nearly 381 kilos between them, so I knew they were the answer to my problem.'

As these illustrious gents marched formidably toward the foyer, the team caught a glimpse of the beefy trio and made a very hasty exit. 'Problem solved,' Anderson reported happily.

Bungle costs Sabres spot in playoffs

A BUNGLE at the administrative level cost Sandringham Sabres their place in the current Victorian championship playoffs.

The mistake involved an unfinished match at Kilsyth when one of the players, after slam dunking the ball, grabbed hold of the rim of the basket and shattered the glass backboard.

The Victorian Basketball Association decided that the match be replayed on Mother's Day, but the Sabres delegate failed to tell coach Col Donovan that the line-ups be unchanged.

Although the Sabres won the replay by 30 points, they lost the game on a protest through having replaced 209cm international centre John Dorge with 194cm rookie guard Jason Smith.

Had they been credited with that win, the Sabres would have scraped into the playoffs on percentage.

Donovan was philosophical about missing out in that manner.

"There is no point in grizzling or pointing the finger," he said. "Mistakes happen from time to time. All you can do is try not to repeat them."

Donovan is general manager of the Southern Basketball Association which runs the Sabres and has its HQ at the King Club in Sandringham.

Basketballers have nicknamed the King Club the "Sabredome".

Donovan is also chief recruiter for one of the NBL clubs, South East Melbourne Magic.

Besides keeping his eyes and ears open on the local scene, he normally goes to the US twice a year to recruit NBA and CBA talent.

The Magic has strong ties with the Sabres and loan them players for mid-week Victorian championship games.

Donovan coached Nunawading Spectres, another club "friendly" to the Magic, for three years before taking on the Sabres.

● SANDRINGHAM Sabres' No 2 squad was knocked out of the metropolitan championship when beaten 61-73 by Diamond Valley at the Kingdome in the first round of the play-offs last Wednesday.

Sabres' chief scorers were Simon Garner (20 points), Andrew Daff (14) and Steve Sellick (12).

Latrobe was then able to penetrate the defence and out scored the Sabres by 24 points to win 61-48. Diamond Valley 73 d Sabres 67

Scorers: S. Garner 20, A. Daff 14, S. Sellick 12

The Sabres, through tight defence, were able to keep in touch and only trail by 3 points at half time. However their second half offence could not match their continued good defence and Diamond Valley were able to scrape home for a 73-67 win.

Thrillers

Division One Metro Women

Sabres 38 d Melbourne Uni 34

Scorers: N. Teichelman 11, S. Gattuso 7, F. Caculovic 6

With good shooting form Fiona Caculovic, Sandringham quickly established an early lead as Melbourne Uni seemed unable to convert and after then trading baskets, the Sabres led 20-13 at half time. After the break, the Sabres went 'ballistic' and had raced to a 20 point lead ten minutes in, but unbelievably only scored 2 more in the last ten minutes whilst Melbourne Uni added 18. Defensive pressure had resulted in Sabres turnovers allowing Melb Uni many occasions on which to score and the Sabres bad basketball ended up a lucky 38-34 win.

MML Division 1 Women

Sabres 70 d Melbourne 66

Scorers: K. McGee 18, R. Jennings 16

Semi final. In a thrilling match that went into overtime, the scores were level at 24 points a piece at half time and 60-all at the end of regulation time. The Sabres were up by 3 points with seconds remaining, but Melbourne hit a miracle three pointer with a quarter of a second left to force an extra 5 minutes. The Sabres then got the early lead and hung on to win 70-66.

Domestic Men

Jordan's Return 20 d Behemoths 0

One of the best of the senior domestic three point shooting games was seen and it was A grade men's game between The Behemoths and Jordan's Return.

Gavin Southern shot 5 triples, Paul Cervi 2 and Frank Russo 1 for Jordan's return with Stewart Banko 5, J. Behemoth 4, Anthony Lee 3 and M. Kerr 1 for the Behemoths.

At half time the game looked to be over as Jordan's return led by 12 points (10+2 for a late start) 38-26.

The Behemoths then shot 8 three pointers to Jordan's Return's 5 in their 44-33 second half with only four players as M. Kerr was injured just before half time.

The result was that Jordan's Return hung on to win 71-70 but if the Behemoths had not given away 2 late start points, the outcome may well have been different.

However the game and all its good shooting ended in a 20-0 win as The Behemoths played players who even at this stage of the season were still unregistered.

VBA State League Men

Nunawading 116 d Sabres 113

Scorers: A. Parkinson 31, D. Lucas 23, R. Sapwell 19

In a fluctuating game, the Sabres were down 26-27 at quarter time, up 57-50 at half time, and up 86-79 at three quarter time. Nunawading then reduced the margin and the Sabres found themselves having to foul to stop the clock and hope for a missed free throw. This did not happen, as Nunawading were too accurate from the foul line and they took a 3 point lead and then watched as Chris Anstey's three point buzzer beater rimmed out. Final score showed a Sabres 113-116 loss.

Division One Men Metro

Sabres 48 drew with Whitehorse 48

Scorers: A. Daff 14, S. Garner 8, C. Garner 8

The Sabres were up by 3 points with 6 seconds remaining only to see Whitehorse tie the game with a 'prayer shot' three pointer, 48-all.

SPORT

Sabres too sharp for dull Rangers

SANDRINGHAM Sabres hit their highest score of the season in downing Dandenong Rangers 116-89 at Sandringham in last Wednesday's round of the Victorian Basketball Championships.

Sabres outscored the visitors in every quarter including 32-16 in the opening session.

Forward Rupert Sapwell stepped up from his customary role of being a member of the supporting cast, to record 29 points and 16 rebounds.

Sapwell shot 43.5 per cent (23-53), including three three-pointers, from the floor and 100 per cent (6-6) from the charity stripe. He was by far the match's most valuable player.

Adonis Jordan added three assists and three rebounds to his 22 points at 56.3 per cent (9-5) from the floor and 100 per cent (2-2) from the line as a small forward while point guard Shane Bright contributed four assists and two rebounds to go with his eight points.

Centre Anstey had 18 points and 10 rebounds, Andrew Parkinson 15-3, Jason Smith 11-6 and Sam Mackinnon 10-5.

The Sabres had a good night with their free throws, making 22/18 (82 per cent).

Foul calls were 19 against the Sabres and 22 against the Rangers.

Victorian champions: Sabres d Dandenong Rangers 116-89 (Sapwell 29, Jordan 22, Anstey 18, Parkinson 15, Smith 11, Mackinnon 10, Bright 8, Atkins 2, Dorch 1). Men's Metro, Div 1: Sabres lost to Kew 45-57 (Lester 14, Stanger 14). Div 2: Sabres d Frankston 46-35 (Trichselman 16, McGee 10).

Mike Kelly

There is a strong feeling that Sandringham Sabres' player-coach Mike Kelly won't be calling the shots next season.

Sources close to the club claim the American hotshot is unhappy with the court time he is getting with South East Melbourne Magic - the Sabres' parent club - and are tipping he'll sign with a CBA club next year.

Sabres At Adelaide Tournament

The U/14A and U/16's 2 team attended the 1996 Easter Tournament in Adelaide. The following is one parent's saga.

Such a long drive - so many McDonalds to go past - should we try for the Bloomfields record? Can't afford to.

First stop Pizza Hut - all the school kids eating - a long wait. Just what I wanted. Finally on the road - when will we be there?

Why is that police car chasing us - oh no! Finally - Adelaide - our first McDonalds stop. No one knows where Glenelg is.

Our motel at last. Sleep.

Good Friday - Let's go out for breakfast. We find out what a lot of people already knew - Adelaide shuts for Easter - And I mean Adelaide SHUTS for Easter. But McDonalds is open - the Bloomfield record could definitely be threatened.

Our first game is at 7.00pm. A day to fill in. Magic Mountain - the Holy Grail for parents who want to get some peace (for only $10 for 3 hours). Wash the car and welcome the rest of the party.

At last, basketball. We travel all the way from Melbourne to meet the Melbourne Tigers in our first game. Unfortunately, despite playing well, we lose.

They all go back to the motel to rest - I travel to the U/16 game. A close game, but another loss, back to the motel naturally we stop at McDonalds for dinner. Look out Bloomfields.

Easter Saturday. The motel is alive with the rumour that Brian Grasby has tried to run over the Easter Bunny on the way to Adelaide. Mongrel!

The U/14s line up against Bendigo at 10.00am - a good win. Elliot Cooper is injured by a somewhat rough tackle and is taken to hospital.

Off to the U/16 game. They play at 11.00am against Waverley. Another loss. Bob West is looking frustrated.

Back to the motel - lunch to organise.

At 3.00pm it's back to the game. The U/16s play Bendigo. Who let them in B grade? We are thrashed. Bob's looking tired.

Back to the motel and a chance to relax and have a swim. We get an update on Elliot - it appears he is going to be O.K. His main concern was that the free throws had been made on his behalf!

At 7.00pm the U/14s play Sturt. An exciting first half but let's forget the second half. Another loss.

We organise to all have dinner together. Thankfully not McDonalds, but Sizzler. The one down near the motel, I said, next to McDonalds? Yes that's the one - see you there!

Some of the parents decided it would be a good time to have a car rally and went to the Sizzler on the other side of Adelaide. Three boys and I sat on our own for quite a while, ordered tables for 20 - no sorry that won't be enough, there are over 30 of us, as well, we ended up with about 14. The other group at the other Sizzler had about the same number, so much for dinner together.

I head off to the U/16 game - 10.00pm start. Bob looks tired even before we start. We play Woodville and unfortunately get beaten again.

A late supper for pizza and then into bed. Thankfully we can rest peacefully for a while.

It's the Easter Bunny - (piss off!) with eggs for the boys. Thanks. An aside - I know one of Peter Bloomfield's fantasies.

Thank you to Virginia Bloomfield for taking the trouble to be the Easter Bunny and yes she did actually attend the Stadium to hand out eggs.

When being greeted by the Grasby's youngest, Stephen, the Easter Bunny said, 'Sorry I'm late but I was nearly run over on my way here.' The enthusiastic response was, 'that's my Dad - he's in there.'

More Magic Mountain and then off to the basketball.

Another loss to the U/16s and a good win to the U/14s.

Back to the motel and quiet BBQ by the pool and drinks with all the parents.

I leave and head off to the U/16 game and even on the main court at Powerhouse, we have another loss. But all the boys have enjoyed the competition and Bob doesn't look too tired now.

The U/14s play next and have a good win - ending up 5th overall - a very creditable performance considering the draw and the opposition.

Back to the motel for a relax and a few drinks with everyone. Shane Tobin enjoyed himself immensely - or so he says - personally I don't think he could remember.

Monday - more Magic Mountain and we hit the road. No police this time.

A long drive back. The coffee and Kit Kat stops were most welcome.

Thanks to Shane Tobin and Bob West who gave of their time over Easter. Thanks to Judy Barlow for her work in organizing the trip.

A special thanks to Magic Mountain!

And no, we did NOT break the Bloomfield record.

General Stuff

Team SBA In USA

A squad of 11 players and 4 support ('the adults') left Australia on the 5th December 1997. First stop was Los Angeles, California, then on to a connecting flight to Tucson Arizona.

Very much jet lagged after 30 hours of flying since leaving Australia, we arrived in Tucson and were staggered to be welcomed by 30 Americans cheering and waving Australian flags.

Our first night at Salpointe High School, we were guests of our host team at their match against cross-town rivals CDO. My first impression of the game was the crowd of around 150 people who were attending a high school basketball game. There was music, lights and whistles and everyone was cheering, chanting and singing school songs in support of their team.

From a player's perspective both teams had a very high level of intensity and commitment, which they kept up for the entire game. When I said they are cross-town rivals, they played as if their side of town was up for sale.

In every aspect our hosts and everyone at Salpointe High and San Rafael High were extremely good to our team.

Our next venue was San Francisco, California. Again we stayed with hosts and they also looked after us all very well.

In basketball terms, we reached the semi final of the Drake High School Invitational Tournament after an absolutely great team effort from a young squad.

The sightseeing was excellent. We visited many attractions such as the Golden Bridge, Alcatraz (an old prison in the middle of the bay) and an NBA game. The game was between Golden State and Dallas and while the score wasn't that close, it was full on atmosphere with a big crowd, music, yelling, screaming and fireworks. Also it was well worth the look at the individual skills of the players and just how big they really are. Guy's 6'7" can handle the ball like a point guard and just as well because most of the time it was one on one basketball. After the game we met Chris Anstey (Dallas) and a few of the cheer leaders!

From there we went to Los Angeles, California, where we stayed in a motel. Our scheduled basketball games had finished and we now planned to use our time spending the rest of our money shopping and visiting Disneyland and McDonalds (which was two doors up the road).

I think everyone was anticipating a good time at Disneyland and no one was disappointed. It's a very big place and it had the best rides I have ever been on. The following day we went to Warner Bros. Studios which was just as good as Disneyland, but without as many people.

In all, the trip was excellent and well worthwhile. The game is slightly different over there with time zones, intensity and reffing styles (they don't call soft fouls). Although we may have been a little on the young side, I think everyone held up the Aussie tradition and 'gave it our best shot' against the home teams. Our individual skills and team effort were as equal to any we encountered.

A special thanks to Coaches Mike Crow, Mike Smith, Colin Donovan and also to Mark Mitchell and John Anderson who put in a lot of work into the initial setting up and on the road organising of the tour. An of course, thank you to our parents and to the SBA.

I recommend to all basketballers to go and visit America, it was the best experience I have ever had. Further, the SBA should continue their support of the USA tours.

Sabres clinch minor premiership

by GRAHAM BURKE

SANDRINGHAM Sabres won the honor of being minor premiers in the Victorian men's basketball championship by the skin of their teeth.

They won the same number of regular season games as Melbourne Tigers, but had the higher percentage.

After losing to Frankston Blues by 25 points the previous week, Sabres, strengthened by the return of NBL stars Jason Smith, Andrew Parkinson and Mike Kelly, clinched the minor premiership by thrashing one of the bottom sides, Knox Raiders, last week.

Smith indicated he would be a force to be reckoned with in the playoffs by scoring a round-high 38 points.

Long-range bomber Andrew Parkinson is another the Sabres will be counting on for their point production.

The playoffs will be all sudden-death matches starting the quarter finals this Wednesday.

The draw:-
● Nunawading Stadium: Nunawading Spectres (third) v Broadmeadows Broncos (sixth), 7.30pm.

● King Club: Sandringham Sabres (first) v Dandenong Rangers (eighth), 7.40.
● Albert Park Stadium: Melbourne Tigers

(second) v Ballarat Moners (seventh), 8.30.
● Coburg Stadium: Coburg Giants (fourth) v Frankston Blues (fifth), 8.30.

Round 27 details: Frankston d Sandringham 128-103 (Staley 26, Newman 23, Jony, G. Austin 25, Lucas 20, Moore 17).

Round 28: Sandringham d Knox 122-78 (Smith 38, Parkinson 28, Kelly 26, Scores 21, Francis 18, Newell 14). Final win-loss standings: Sandringham 20-4 (104.18%), Nunawading 16-8, Coburg 14-10 (111.81%), Frankston 14-12 (88.59%), Broadmeadows 13-11 (103.81%), Ballarat 13-11 (96.33%), Sandringham 9-15 (120.2%), Knox 9-15 (80.57%), Albion 9-15 (88.71%), Knox 8-18, Bendigo 6-18, Wimmera 5-18.

■ SANDRINGHAM Sabres' No. 2 side meets Dandenong in the first round of the VBL playoffs at the King Club on Wednesday night, 7.40 tip-off.

The quarter final will be followed by a MMBL Division 1 men's game at 9.30.

Whittlesea, coached by former Nunawading star Tony "Golden Arm" Holden, beat the Sabres 97-94 at the King Club on Saturday night in the last of the regular season games.

Sabres captain and leading scorer Andrew Duff fouled out in the final quarter after doing most of the scoring. One of his six fouls was a technical.

Chris Smith scored the visitors' last four points.

Sabres

With a new leader and a flood of players from Dandenong, the Sandringham Sabres have taken a new look for this year.

Sabres have won their four games under Colin Donovan in the Victorian Championship season.

They are now shaping up for big games against the two other unbeaten sides, Melbourne Tigers and Broadmeadows Broncos.

Dandenong Rangers have dropped out of the championships.

The Rangers want to concentrate on their CBA campaign and adopted the Sabres as a feeder club.

The arrangement is similar to the agreement NBL club South East Melbourne Magic had with the Sabres for several seasons.

Dandenong players did most of the scoring in Sabres' 16 point win at Ballarat last Wednesday. Scores: Sabres 123 - Ballarat Miners 107 - (Sabres scorer, Hill 35)

VBL Women Sabres

Sandringham Sabres missed a chance to sew up a place in the final Women's Basketball League final four by losing to Diamond Valley 62-72 in the second last round of the season.

Sabres had three scorers in double figures - Mandy Craig with 15 points and Sally Gittus and Cilla Berfold with 12.

With a 8-9 record, officials described Sabres chances of being in the playoffs as 'very slim'.

Turnover One

At the recent Dandenong/Eltham Tournament a player was overheard after taking the side ball from a time out to ask a player on the opposition which way her team was going. Needless to say a quick basket eventuated - for the other team. Ain't trust a beautiful thing!

Also at the Tournament a player in the younger ranks was seen to drop to their knees to lessen the unfair height advantage their opposition faced when throwing the ball in from the base line.

This tickled the spectators, and even the coach couldn't help a wry smile.

Turnover Two

Overheard at Sunday training 1st March from the U/14 girls session while using dribbling glasses, 'its funny with these things you can't even see your legs!' Hmmm yes, funny about that!

Sabres crumple

SANDRINGHAM Sabres re-enacted their habit of choking in big games in the Victorian men's basketball championship semi-final at MSAC last Wednesday.

After the scores were level at 103-all at the end of the second half, Sabres folded like a stack of cards in overtime to lose to Melbourne Tigers by 11 points.

The Tigers piled on 19 clutch points to Sabres eight.

Jason Smith did a fine job in keeping the Sabres' main scoring threat Marcus Timmons scoreless in the deciding five minutes, but Eric Wickstrom and Daniel Egan wrecked their defences by splitting 15 points between them.

However, Brett Rainbow was the hero of the Tigers' win. A player of higher repute for his dunking than scoring, Rainbow had turned the game around in the second half by putting up four shots from three-point range and connecting each time.

Sabres led 70-52 before Rainbow began launching his missiles and released their grip on the game.

Once Sabres lost their composure, they never regained it.

A highlight of the match was the one-on-one duel between Timmons and Smith which nullified both players to some extent. Although Timmons had game-high honors of 32 points, Smith led Sabres' scorers with 25.

The Tigers face up to Broadmeadows Broncos in the grand final at MSAC this Wednesday, 8.30pm tipoff.

Semi-final details:-
TIGERS 122 - Timmons 32, Rainbow 27, Henry 21, Wickstrom 20.

Woods burns for US school

BASKETBALLER Lisa Woods is certainly blowing them apart in the United States.

A few weeks back Lisa set a new individual scoring record for the Montana College Basketball girls team when she landed 59 points to break the previous best effort of 55 points.

Lisa shot 25 points from 30 at the foul line and bagged 34 points from field goals.

Her previous best was 53 points a couple of weeks earlier.

The 17 year-old exchange student is in her senior high school year and hopes to win a University basketball scholarship next year.

Obviously she has no worries about pressure as her coach said in a local newspaper article that she "often gets double, triple and quadruple teamed".

Lisa initially attended high school in Denver Colorado, before transferring to Montana in mid-September.

Lisa attended Kilbreda College, and played at point-guard for the Sandy Sabres girls representative team. She is the daughter of popular Sportsmart managing director Mike Woods.

Top effort: Lisa Woods is wowing them in the US.

Stadium Burns

Earlier this season when coaching the Sabres U/16 boys, in 40 degree plus heat, at the Manningham Stadium, the lights went out with two minutes to play. And the Sabres 2 points in front.

The two local refs refused to declare us the winner and took some ten minutes of fiddling with the switch board before the game could continue. With the lights working we went on to win the game.

Unfortunately, the stadium burnt to the ground twenty minutes after we left the stadium.

Save Our Stadium

A campaign commenced by the SOS committee to pressure the Council not to sell 'our home.' Strategies developed included a constant stream of protest letters, telephoning Councillors, local print media updates and support from Gerard Healy's Sport Today program on radio 3AW. In addition we contacted the new Minister for Sport, the Honourable Justin Madden, and local MPs Jenny Lindell and Murray Thompson.

Newsletter Cover, March 1999

We also held a SOS rally at the Council Offices which was very well attended by several hundred supporters, including Bayside Mayor Michael Harwood and Councillor Simon Russell who also addressed the meeting.

I certainly believe that this tremendous community support was instrumental in persuading to retain our home in the community's hands.

shot: Danny Adamson.

Adamson shoots at a new challenge

LIFE after basketball for Danny Adamson, 40, is more basketball.

The former American University player has been appointed basketball manager and coaching co-ordinator of the Southern Sabres Basketball Association which covers Sandringham and neighboring suburbs.

His duties include coaching the club's men's under-20 team, the Sandringham Sabres.

"I see the job as an exciting challenge," Adamson said.

"The area the SSBA represents has the potential to become a power base for Victorian basketball.

"However, this potential can only be fulfilled if our young players are given sufficient opportunities to develop their skills."

From the Pittsburgh suburb of Aliquippa, Adamson was the fourth-leading career points scorer at Gannon University before coming to Australia in 1984 to play for second-season NBL club, Hobart Tassie Devils.

His averages in four seasons of East Coast

Athletic Conference games were 16.3 points, 4.6 rebounds and 4.0 assists.

Adamson played his last NBL season in 1985, but remained in Tasmania as a coach-official. He moved to Melbourne last May.

The Southern Sabres have undergone a major restructure since general manager Colin Donovan resigned last year.

Peter Bloomfield was appointed administration manager and Adamson basketball manager.

Bloomfield's duties involves an elaborate plan to streamline the association's computer communications system.

Barry Pickering is the new chairman of the committee responsible for representative teams.

The association is planning a viability study concerning a possible takeover of the basketball courts at the King Club in Tulip St following the Bayside City Council's decision to explore interest in the sale of the facility.

Leisure centre battle

by JUNE YU

THE sale of Sandringham Leisure Centre has sparked a bitter brawl over lease conditions between the Southern Basketball Association and Bayside council.

Association secretary Tony Burke said the council was making "outrageous" demands in response to SBA requests for changes to the lease.

He said conditions in the existing lease would be inappropriate under the private owner.

But the council has demanded the SBA's fixed annual rent of $174,000 rise 5 per cent each year during the remaining 12 years of its 15-year lease.

He said the council also wanted another 10 per cent rise to cover the cost of the GST when it was introduced.

Mr Burke said the rent was to be paid monthly in advance instead of six-monthly in arrears.

"Effectively, they want to increase rent by half a million over the rest of the term of the lease," he said.

He said the council had assured the SBA it would be sympathetic to changing parts of its lease when the centre's sale was proposed earlier this year.

Mr Burke said inappropriate parts of the lease (under a private landlord) included the SBA get permission from the landlord to increase its door fees.

The SBA was also concerned about the condition which states it pay 65 per cent of any net income to the landlord, he said.

"Basically we could be squeezed out by a landlord refusing to allow us a reasonable increase in door fees," he said.

"We don't generate any income now anyway but in the event that we might ever realise any... it's outrageous that a community group would have to pay any profit to a private landlord," he said.

He said SBA now had 4500 members. Bayside's acting chief executive Tony McLroy said paying rent six months in arrears was not a usual commercial arrangement. "Paying in advance means it's more commercially presentable in that form," he said.

He said the council was requiring a 5 per cent rent increase each year because the condition on the SBA's lease about the council receiving a share of net profit was also not a "commercial style of lease". The SBA and the King Club are tenants at the Sandringham Leisure Centre.

Club queries rezoning aim

by JUNE YU

REZONING the Sandringham Leisure Centre could lead to the development of a swanky "country club estate", the Southern Basketball Association said last week.

Secretary Tony Burke said the council had misled SBA into believing the land would retain its public open space reserve zoning.

But now the council was making moves to possibly rezone the land in five years to mixed use, which would allow "lucrative" medium density housing, he said.

"Consider you have got five acres within 500m of the Royal Melbourne Golf Club and then you've got direct back door access to the Sandringham Public Golf Course and just around the corner you've got Cheltenham Golf Course and the tennis centre across the road," he said.

"It doesn't take a great deal of creativity to work out you could do (build) the flash Sandringham country club estate."

"They have contradicted what they had told us about preserving recreational community type use and are trying to position things with a view to zoning it for its highest possible value type use."

Bayside's acting chief executive Tony McLroy said a condition of sale was for the new owner to enter into a section 173 agreement to retain the land as a leisure centre for a minimum five years.

"The council has also sought advice to make sure no alterations are made to that by any party, including the Minister for Planning, without reference to council and we will reconsider it at the end of five years," he said.

He said suggestions that a medium density housing development could be constructed on the land was "pure speculation".

He said tenderers could bid for the centre in two lots or as a single entity.

King Club operator Wojtek Klim, who intends to bid for the leisure centre, said flexibility to rezone the land was a good idea.

"I think the council has to do what's correct in its own interests and correct in the interests of businesses — it's a kind of security for the investors. If it was advertised only for recreational purposes it would be more difficult to sell it," he said.

Mr Klim said claims about houses being built on the land were untrue and only hurt business at the King Club, which was now planning future refurbishments.

Sabres seeking to square the series

by MICHAEL PARNHAM

SANDRINGHAM Sabres will be looking to square the Victorian Basketball League Division One grand final ledger against Sunbury this Saturday, after a close defeat in the first game, 79-72.

Last Saturday night saw the Sabres travel to Sunbury's hostile home court at Boardman Reserve for the first game in the best-of-three grand final series.

Following a strong semi-final win at home the week before against Coburg (108-94), the high-scoring Sandringham outfit would have been confident going into the match to take out the title in just two matches.

But Sunbury, the quiet achievers and underdogs all season, again came up with the goods when it counted most to pip the Sabres at the post.

Sandringham's demise came as much from their own errors and a poor shooting performance, as much as from Sunbury's disciplined play.

With only seven points separating the sides at the final whistle and two points at the last change, the match could have gone either way.

However the final score may have been flattering for Sandringham.

The tone of the Sabres' match — low scoring and regular errors — continued in the last quarter when they were outscored 22 to 17.

Sandringham will be lamenting their shocking three-point statistics which finished at five baskets from 28 attempts, compared with Sunbury's five from 12.

The other vital statistics were 25 turnovers to 15, in stark contrast to the previous week when the Sabres gave up the ball only 12 times against Coburg, and only seven free-throws from 16.

No individual Sabre stood out in praise after the defeat and no individual was to blame.

The whole team failed to put together.

What saved the Sabres from even bigger defeat was Sunbury's average scoring percentage of baskets from 91 attempts. In comparison Sandringham's figures stood at from 80.

As would be expected in a p shooting match, the rebounds were quite high for both sides, 59 to Sabres and 58 to Sunbury.

With the first game now behind them, Sandringham coach Dave Adamson will have his team primed to take out the grand final in the second game.

The Sabres can ill-afford a similar performance in the second game will be out for revenge in front of a boiling home crowd this Saturday night from 8pm at the Sandringham Leisure Centre in Tulip St.

The Sabres are expecting a turnout of fans for the second match, and, if they win it, again for the decider on Sunday at 2pm.

It will be a tough weekend of basketball, but judging from the excellent recovery after a three-game slump late in the season, their fans can be confident Sandringham can take the title.

Sunbury's excellent form and strong rebounding overcame a disappointing Sabres effort. An injury to Craig White and the loss of Anthony Mortimer in the third quarter did not help.

Boniello to keep calling the shots

TONY Boniello will again be in command of Sandringham Sabres in Victorian Basketball League games this year.

Sandringham Basketball Association has reappointed Boniello coach.

In its decision to adopt a new direction to put more emphasis on developing local talent instead of "borrowing" high-profile players from other clubs, the SBA has dropped out of the Victorian championship.

The VBL will be its main focus in men's basketball and the Country Invitational Basketball League in women's basketball.

The association will also have two men's and two women's teams in the Melbourne Metropolitan Basketball League as well as 23 junior teams and domestic competitions.

Try-outs are being arranged. A recruiting campaign is underway for boys and girls to play in the under-12 sides.

Application has been made to play MMBL home games at the Tulip St Sabredome.

Members of the SBA's representative teams committee are: Peter Earle (chairman), Wayne Sheehan, Peter Carey, Chris Cooper-Brown, Barry Pickering, Cathy Craw, Paris Nitsios, Craig White, Evelyn Gomez and Norma White.

Plans are being made for a dinner to celebrate the 21st anniversary of Sandringham basketball.

Hot Jets shoot down Sabres

SANDRINGHAM Sabres lost the Victorian Basketball Association grand final on Saturday night despite being strongly favored to force a third and deciding game.

The Sunbury Jets crushed the Sabres 97-80 in the second match at Sandringham Leisure Centre to claim the crown.

The win followed a gritty performance a week before in the first game of the series at their home court in Sunbury where the Jets prevailed 79-72.

Following that defeat the Sandringham players were expected to come out and push the series into a third and deciding match, which would have been played at Sandringham on Sunday.

But it wasn't to be.

The Sabres showed a glimpse of their potential in the first half on Saturday before a vocal 300-strong crowd.

Sandringham led by 10 points at one stage but the Jets' persistence and strong rebounding proved crucial.

At the first break Sandringham led 19-17 and followed this with a 20-19 second quarter to go into half-time with a 39-36 lead.

Any hope of a Sabres' win was dashed in a third period as the Jets lead 66-52 by three-quarter time.

In the final stanza, the Sabres managed to rediscover their scoring touch, posting 28 points in the period.

But they failed to make an imprint on the Sunbury lead, as the Jets continued their excellent second half form to finish strongly.

An injury to defender Craig White didn't help the Sabres. The loss of Anthony Mortimer in the third quarter due to foul trouble didn't help.

Sunbury's big men Ty Newman (16 points and 10 rebounds in 29 minutes) and Brian Ogilvie (19 points and 14 rebounds in 23 minutes) were dominant.
